Letter from the Dean

In celebration, we gather to award you with a degree that recognizes your tireless efforts, acknowledges your scholarly achievements, and symbolizes the life-changing effect that higher education holds. Regardless of whether you pursue a career in business or continue on with your studies, your Carlson School of Management degree has you poised to shape your future, and that of business.

Business is, and should always be, a force for the good. It is one of the greatest creators of economic opportunity and it has the ability to enrich our lives and fulfill our goals. The principled leadership and commitment to service that you have demonstrated during your time here makes me believe business will soon improve the world in ways I can't begin to dream possible.

As you leave campus to begin this exciting next chapter, a community of more than 50,000 alumni in 95 countries awaits you. For at the Carlson School, alumni are not only our past, they are our future. They serve as our ambassadors to the world. They return to speak in our classes, recruit our students, and contribute financially to our continued well-being. We would not be where we are today without alumni engagement, and I encourage you to follow the lead of those who have come before you. Doing so will only further elevate the value and impact of your degree. In turn, we will always be here to assist in your continued pursuit of knowledge and professional development.

On behalf of the University of Minnesota and the faculty and staff of the Carlson School, I offer you sincere congratulations. We are proud of what you have achieved and look forward to all that you will accomplish.

Thomas O. Staggs

*Chairman, Walt Disney Parks and Resorts
The Walt Disney Company*

As Chairman of Walt Disney Parks and Resorts, Thomas O. Staggs oversees the strategy, operations and creative development of the company's iconic travel and leisure businesses. Walt Disney Parks and Resorts comprises five resort destinations in the U.S., Europe and Asia and a sixth currently under construction in Shanghai, a top-rated cruise line, a popular vacation ownership program, a family resort on Oahu, Hawai'i and an award-winning guided family adventure business. Tom leads a global team of more than 120,000 Cast Members, Crew Members and Imagineers who all share a singular focus—creating unforgettable experiences that provide Disney guests with shared memories that last a lifetime.

Tom was named chairman of Walt Disney Parks and Resorts in January 2010 and has led the segment through the largest period of growth and expansion in its history, while generating record revenue, profit, and attendance levels. During his tenure, Disney has launched two extraordinary new cruise ships, the Disney Dream and Disney Fantasy; begun construction on Shanghai Disney Resort, the first Disney vacation destination in mainland China; opened Aulani, a Disney Resort & Spa, in Hawai'i; opened three new lands at Hong Kong Disneyland; begun the largest expansion ever at the Magic Kingdom with New Fantasyland, and at Disney's Animal Kingdom Park with Avatar—both at Walt Disney World Resort; and, completed the multi-year expansion of the Disneyland Resort with the opening of Cars Land and Buena Vista Street at Disney California Adventure Park.

Prior to assuming his current position, Tom served as senior executive vice president and chief financial officer of The Walt Disney Company. He played a crucial role in numerous strategic and operating initiatives, including the acquisitions of Capital Cities/ABC, Pixar Animation Studios and Marvel Entertainment. As CFO, Tom spearheaded the realignment of Disney's performance goals toward the combination of profit growth and strong long-term capital returns and free cash flow. He also led the company's efforts to drive greater cost and capital efficiency across the organization and to put in place company-wide environmental and healthy food policies.

Tom has been praised by Wall Street for his financial and communications skills and was consistently voted the entertainment industry's No. 1 CFO by Institutional Investor magazine.

Tom joined Disney in 1990 as manager of Strategic Planning and quickly advanced through a series of positions of increased responsibility and was named CFO for the company in 1998. Before joining Disney, he worked in investment banking at Morgan Stanley & Co.

Tom earned a bachelor's degree in business from the University of Minnesota's Carlson School of Management and an MBA from Stanford Graduate School of Business.

Honors & Awards

Latin Honors Designations

Students graduating from the Carlson School through the University Honors Program have taken part in a rigorous course of study, research, scholarship or other creative work in the major, culminating in an honors thesis representing independent work done under the direction of a faculty supervisor or mentor. Students graduating cum laude (with honor) have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.50 for their last 60 graded credits at the University of Minnesota; magna cum laude (with great honor) awards require a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.66; and summa cum laude (with highest honor) awards require a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.75.

Distinction Designations

Students graduate “with Distinction” or “with High Distinction” based on cumulative grade point average. Students graduating “with Distinction” have completed at least 60 graded credits at the University of Minnesota and earned a cumulative GPA of at least 3.75; students graduating “with High Distinction” have earned a cumulative GPA of 3.90 or higher.

Community Engagement Scholars

Recognition as a Community Engagement Scholar is earned by students who complete nine credits of service-learning course work, at least 400 hours of community service, a series of reflective pieces, and an integrative community project that results in the creation of a sustainable project for a community organization.

Cecilia Marri Fung

Honors citations are provisional and do not become official until all requirements for the award indicated are fulfilled.

Dean's Award for Best Undergraduate Honors Theses

To recognize the accomplishments of undergraduate honors students, the Carlson School bestows two annual thesis awards to students whose theses achieve the highest level of excellence: the Dean's Award and the CIBER Award. The recipients of these awards were chosen by an Awards Committee from a select group of students nominated by their faculty supervisors. All nominated students developed innovative thesis projects and demonstrated great initiative, professionalism, and independent thinking throughout their project. We applaud the efforts of all thesis writers and their faculty supervisors for their contributions to undergraduate research.

Dean's Award

Taylor Crowl

"Home is Where My Investments Reside: How do Initial Public Offerings Affect the Local Real Estate Market?"

Supervised by Colleen F. Manchester, PhD, Assistant Professor, Work & Organizations

CIBER Award

Thesis that best contributes to a deeper understanding of global business or demonstrates implications for firms operating in a global environment

Zachary Prebeck

"Perception of Key Stakeholder Groups Associated with the Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards in the United States."

Supervised by Frank Beil, Senior Lecturer, Accounting

Additional Nominee

Laura Grosdidier

Supervised by Michael Houston, PhD, Associate Dean of Global Initiatives, Professor, Ecolab-Pierson M. Grieve Chair in International Marketing

Honors & Awards

Tomato Can Loving Cup Award

This award, created by students in 1929, is the Carlson School's highest honor to an undergraduate student, recognizing performance of distinctive service to the school. The recipient receives a monetary prize, his or her name engraved on the original Depression-era tomato can trophy, and receives a 50% tuition scholarship to the Carlson School's Full-Time MBA Program redeemable after two years of work experience.

Recipient to be announced at ceremony

Academic Excellence Award

This award is presented to the student who ranks highest scholastically among all undergraduates at the Carlson School.

William Rice

Academic costume and regalia

Academic gowns date back to the 14th century, when they served two functions of nearly equal importance: to indicate the academic rank of the wearer and to keep the scholar warm in the drafty stone halls of academia.

The markings, cut, and color of the modern-day academic costume—cap, gown, and sometimes hood—indicate the academic degree, the field of study, and the institution that granted the degree.

Degree candidates wear the gowns appropriate for the degrees they are about to receive. Bachelor's degree gowns are black and untrimmed. A maroon and gold tassel hangs from the mortar board worn on the head by candidates. Master's degree gowns, black and untrimmed, have pointed sleeves.

Doctoral gowns in the United States traditionally have been black with velvet front facings and crossbars on the sleeves.

The Minnesota hood, which may be worn by anyone with a doctoral degree from the University of Minnesota, is black with maroon chevron on gold. Each institution has its own pattern of colors on the hood, worn around the neck and down the back of the gown. The length and shape of the hood identify the most advanced degree the wearer has earned, and the velvet edging shows the field: drab for doctor of business administration.

In recent years a number of universities have adopted gowns of distinctive school colors. A new University of Minnesota doctoral gown and matching tam made their appearance in 1988 to celebrate the centenary of the first Minnesota doctor of philosophy degree. The new Minnesota gown is maroon-trimmed with black velvet chevron and gold metallic braid. The traditional gown may still be worn.

Commencement reception

Dear Graduate,

Immediately following today's commencement exercise, I would like to invite you and your guests to attend a celebratory reception hosted by Alumni Relations and the Carlson School Alumni Board in the DQ Club Room at TCF Bank Stadium.

TCF Bank Stadium is located directly across the street from Mariucci Arena. We encourage you to meet your families out front and proceed together to the celebration. The premium entrance to TCF Bank Stadium is located under the Benton County sign, directly behind Goldy's Locker Room.

On behalf of the entire Alumni Board, I want to congratulate you on your outstanding success and welcome you to the Carlson School alumni family.

Hail! Minnesota

Minnesota, hail to thee!

Hail to thee, our college dear!

Thy light shall ever be

A beacon bright and clear.

Thy sons and daughters true

Will proclaim thee near and far.

They will guard thy fame, and adore thy name;

Thou shalt be their Northern Star!
