Duluth--- The presentation of two, $500 scholarships highlighted the UMD Accounting Club Internship banquet Wednesday night (May 10) at the Duluth Athletic Club.

Named the outstanding accounting juniors at UMD and winners of the scholarships were Bruce L. Ramstad, Grand Rapids, and Peter M. Ramme, Rochester. The scholarships are the first to be presented by Ernst and Ernst, national accounting firm.

Presenting the awards was Paul W. Wilson, a partner in the Minneapolis office of Ernst and Ernst.

Three associate memberships in the American Accounting Association were presented to John D. Smith, Aitkin, and Linda J. Scott and Sandra D. Sivertson, both of Duluth.

The three-year memberships were given jointly by the Duluth chapter of the Minnesota Society of Certified Public Accountants and the Lake Superior Chapter, National Association of Accountants.

All five awards were based on the students' scholarship, leadership, citizenship, character and extra-curricular activities.

Mr. Wilson talked to the UMD accounting students and faculty and Duluth area accountants on "The Transition from the Classroom to the Office."

UMD faculty involved in the dinner included Dr. Chester Sorensen, assistant professor of business administration, introduction; Robert Curtis, asst. prof. business administration, master of ceremonies; and David Mork, Duluth, student program chairman.
