BONFIRE TO OPEN BIG HOMECOMING PEPFEST TONIGHT

King, Rathburn, Leary and McGovern To Speak At Pefest.

STEVE SHANNON PLANS FOR MONSTER BLAZE

Rooters Will Join Band at Armory in Greatest Noise Demonstration.

A crowd of huckies may be seen this afternoon getting the material for the big bonfire on the parade grounds. This evening Steve Shannon, chairman of the pep fest committee assisted by the Rooters club has stated that tonight's bonfire will be of larger proportions than before. Entire south-east will be scoured for boxes, barrels, in fact every combustible material which is not serving a definite purpose will be used to light up the campus on the eve of the Homecoming game. Horns will be furnished free to all members of the Rooters club which will join the band in the noise-making.

Hour Placed at 8:30. The touching off of the huge pyramid of wood will be later than on previous occasions in order to co-operate with the academic alumni who are giving a banquet in Shevlin Hall this evening. President Joseph Jorgins has assured the committee that the old grads will leave Shevlin in a body not later than 8:30 to go to the bonfire and the mass meeting in the armory.

Old football stars and rooter kings whose names are inseparable with former Gopher eleven will increase the enthusiasm of the thousands. David Bronson will act as chairman, introducing Judge "Bill" Leary, who was twice a Minnesota football captain. Judge Leary played in the '90's when the flying wedges, tandem formations, and 5-yards in 3 downs were in vogue. Orren Safford, famous '08 center and captain has consented to recall several of his gridiron experiences, whereas Johnny McGovern, captain and all-American end will be there to add to the number of celebrities.

Minnesota is proud to have two famous rooter kings back, Stafford King and "Bunny" Rathburn. Both of these men have inconvenienced themselves to lead the mass meeting in the Ski-U-Mah, Old Varsity and other yell. Steve Shannon, present rooter king, will join with King and Rathburn. Dean E. E. Nicholson will speak for the university, whereas either Doc Williams or Sig Harris, freshman coach, will speak for the eleven.

Enthusiasm to Be Key Note. Like the Gophers play last Saturday at Madison the mass meeting will go off with real Minnesota speed and pep. Every student is expected to be on the parade grounds at 8:00 o'clock for this biggest pep fest of the year.

S. C. A. Will Give First Dance Tonight

Catholic Students Promise Good Floor and Peppy Music at Homecoming Dance.

The Students' Catholic association will give a homecoming dance this evening in the ballroom of the Minnesota Union. Those in charge of general arrangements are Messrs. H. A. Maze and N. Ahmann. The program committee is composed of the Misses Margaret Kenneally and Veronica Gould and Messrs. Franklin Fobes, Michael Oman and Adolph Scheid. Those named on the introduction committee are the Misses Veronica McShane, Helen Zeebaugh, Mary Cullen and Messrs. Jacob Czoch, Stephen Darling and Arthur Sturdevant. The Misses Hazel Haggerty, Mary Hoy, Genevieve Hawkins and Martha Zeebaugh will act as hostesses, assisting the introduction committee. Dr. and Mrs. Horatio B. Sweetzer and Dr. and Mrs. William Roll will act as chaperones. The combined efforts of all in charge promises to make this a real homecoming affair. As this is the first S. C. A. dance of the season a big turnout is expected. It is hoped that all of the new students as well as the alumni will take this opportunity of showing their Minnesota spirit and join in the festivities. A good floor and a peppy orchestra will make it a real homecoming celebration.

Colonel Lindsley To Address Campus Post

National Chairman of American Legion Committee Will Make Address Today.

Colonel Henry D. Lindsley, chairman of the national executive committee, of the American Legion, will speak at the regular meeting at 4:30 in the Little Theatre today. This will be his only talk before the opening of the American Legion convention in Minneapolis, Monday, and he has been secured through the efforts of Dean Vance and N. T. Dowling, of the Law School, who are friends of the colonel. Colonel Lindsley attended the officers' training camp, at Plattsburg, where he was commissioned. He was called to Washington and asked to assist in organizing the overseas contingent to handle war risk insurance matters. In this work he was associated with Major Willard D. Straight, who was in command of the war contingent, and went to France with him. That was late in the year 1917. In 1918 Colonel Lindsley was advanced in rank and placed in command of the whole war risk insurance work in the A. E. F., Major Straight having meanwhile severed his connection with that particular work.

Decorated for Work. He was awarded the distinguished service medal for his efficient conduct of the war risk insurance work. In December 1918, he returned to the United States and was again called upon by the treasury department to help in war risk insurance matters, finally accepting the directorship of (Continued on Page 2)

Women Prepare Foot-ball Prizes

Huge Cake To Be Presented to Winning Team—Star Players Will Also Be Rewarded.

Who takes the cake. The co-eds bake. Novel prizes for the winners of the Minnesota-Illinois football game are being prepared by university girls under the auspices of the W. S. G. A.

A mammoth cake, now under construction, dedicated to the winning team, will serve to create an incentive to a keener rivalry. The confection in question, according to the latest specifications and blueprints, will measure three feet in length, two feet in width, and one foot in height, making a grand total of six cubic feet of ethereal delicacy. Persons with a mechanical trend of mind have estimated that if cut into ordinary mansize pieces, the slices if laid end to end would reach from the campus to Champaign and back. Topped with a frosting several inches thick in an original color design of maroon and gold, the cake is expected to be the cause of a much remembered occasion.

A miniature football player made of chocolate will be awarded to the man of either team who makes the first touchdown. Being forewarned Minnesota players have insinuated that nothing will stop them now. The first Minnesota man to intercept an Illinois forward pass will receive a 1921 Gopher, which prize, according to the Gopher staff, ought to be an incentive sufficient to destroy any Illinois hopes. Illinois goat (in chocolate) will be present at the game ready to be presented to the Minnesota man gaining the most yardage.

Frosh Chemists Save Tie Bills

"Around his neck he wore a bright green ribbon. He wore it for the sophomores who watched him night and day."

That is the case with the freshmen in the School of Chemistry, who still go their peaceful way strangled with a bow of the hue of St. Patrick.

Since the outcome of the freshman-sophomore scrap in the College of Chemistry, the freshmen have gone about adorned with green bows like a sewing basket. They will continue to wear these bows until Thanksgiving, which will be a day of double rejoicing for them.

However, the "Frosh" do not complain because, as they themselves say, "Just think of the wear and tear on neckties that it saves."

ORGANIZATIONS:

The decoration committee, Gains Harmon, chairman, announces that all houses should be decorated by 10:00 a. m. Saturday. The three judges, Prof. S. C. Burton, Miss Raymond, of the Art department and Mr. Aishner, of the College of Engineering, will make their decision between that hour and noon.

FRESHMAN GIRLS HONOR GUESTS AT VAUDEVILLE TODAY

Women's Athletic Association to Give Performance This Afternoon.

BEST TALENT AVAILABLE OBTAINED FOR PROGRAM

Members Asked to Attend Party To Help in Entertaining New Students.

AS IT'S SCHEDULED. "The Sultan's Daughter"—Playlet. Whistling Solo. Evelyn Martin. Juggle-Balance Act. Betty Grimes. Dance. Jeannette Kirschner. Mock Track Meet. Certain Members. With the above program as a part of the vaudeville performance to be given in the women's gymnasium at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, the Women's Athletic Association will give its initial entertainment of the year, in honor of the freshmen women. The performance is being given with the intent of giving the new students an insight in the organization and its purpose and work.

Best Talent Secured. The committee in charge of arrangements has made extensive preparation for the entertainment. According to the committee, very great pains were taken in choosing the various amateur actors. "After searching throughout the student body," the committee chairman said yesterday "we have selected the very best talent in the university in our estimation." The program is completed, and arrangements have been made to accommodate every freshman girl in the university.

Members and Freshmen Invited. Clara Cross, who is sponsoring the general preparations, said late yesterday afternoon: "We hope that every freshman girl will come to our party. We have prepared an exceptionally good program and think it is characteristic of what the W. A. A. stands for. "Ice cream cones, pop, ginger ale, and cookies are among the refreshments which have been furnished for the party. All members are asked to attend today, as their presence is essential."

No charge will be made for any part of the entertainment.

Alumni Assemble

Many Grads Expected on Campus Today For Homecoming Celebrations.

E. B. Johnson, alumni official, would make no estimate today of the probable number of alumni who will appear on the campus Friday and Saturday for the Homecoming program. "Owing to the fact that the university is located in the twin cities, and that a large proportion of the alumni have friends here, it is almost impossible to determine in advance how many will be present. We expect an enormous crowd at the game, and if we win, they will undoubtedly remain for a time to help the university students celebrate," he declared. "A number of alumni have been heard from and they appreciate the efforts the students are making to make this Homecoming the biggest and best ever," he added. Interest in the game is reported to be at white heat and will undoubtedly be the biggest factor in making the attendance of the alumni at this Homecoming surpass all records.

DR. MAYO ENTERTAINED. Dr. Charles Mayo, recently appointed professor of surgery at the university, was entertained last night at dinner at the Alpha Kappa Kappa house, 509 River Road. Dr. Mayo is a member of the fraternity.

NOTICE!!! Tomorrow the Daily will print its annual Homecoming edition. All news, with the exception of important signboard notices, other than that which pertains to the events of the day, will be excluded from this issue.

Foolscap Appears Again Tomorrow

November Number Will Be Homecoming Book—Second Issue Contains Many Features.

Many features are included in the second issue of the Foolscap which will be distributed among the subscribers tomorrow. The management announces that the November number will be known as the "Homecoming" book and the designing embodies the homecoming idea.

The table of contents includes short stories, poetry, a one-act play, a motion picture scenario and a large humor section. The entire magazine is profusely illustrated with photographs, paintings and drawings.

A short story by Hazel Small entitled, "Columbine," starts out the magazine. It is illustrated by Hugh Hutton, one of the best of the younger magazine illustrators in the northwest. "The Question of the English Song," by Donald Ferguson. "The Dream," a Freudian episode, by Dorothy Merrill. "The Spirit of Beowulf in Conrad," by Sister Francis de Sales, and "The Shadowy Pool," by Eva L. Andrews, follow. The latter story includes a decoration by Dorothy Wackerman. "The Passing of a Night," (Continued on page 4.)

Student Council Annuls Ag. Election

Illegal Electioneering Causes Junior Class Elections to Be Declared Void, New Election November 10.

The Student Council of the College of Agriculture, after a thorough investigation, found that illegitimate electioneering had been practiced during the recent junior class election, and have declared the election void. A new election has been called for November 10.

"There is an All-University Council ruling which prohibits any electioneering in the building where the election is held on the day of such election," asserted C. B. Finley, president of the Student Council.

Several cases of alleged illegal electioneering near the place of voting and at the polls were reported to the Student Council, which, upon investigation, proved to be correct. The council immediately declared the election void and proceeded to set the date for the new election. This, however, has no reflection on the candidates that were elected but on those who in some cases thoughtlessly and in other cases purposely violated the ruling.

"The Student Council wishes to urge the students to show more active interest in college elections and to stand for and promote clean competitive elections."

Pharmacy Alumni Plan Organization

Pharmacy Graduates Outline Series of Educational Meetings—Hold Reunion Tonight.

Alumni of the College of Pharmacy will hold a reunion at the college tonight at 8 p. m. This meeting will be the first of a series which will take place every week throughout the winter.

In addition to carrying on the regular work of the alumni association, a constructive educational program will be presented at each meeting. Programs have already been outlined, the purpose of which is to assist the pharmacists to render more valuable and more profitable services to the public. It is expected that a large number of alumni will turn out for the first meeting, since a large number of them are now here for Homecoming week.

Chance To Dance

University women are invited to the ball given in honor of the delegates of the American Legion on November 11, in the Minneapolis armory. Admission will be by ticket only and a limited number are in the office of the Dean of Women. Girls who want to attend this ball may get their tickets from Mrs. Ladd. Several faculty members will be chaperones.

HOMECOMING MAGAZINE PROGRAM WILL APPEAR ON CAMPUS TODAY

Rules For Bag Rush Announced

Company of Cadets Will Officiate at Inter-Class Scrap Saturday Morning.

With anticipation of the coming fracas at fever pitch, the respective classes, freshmen and sophomores, are girding their loins for the event of Saturday morning. Not since the old days of the annual cane rushes has so much interest been evinced over a class scrap, and according to all indications, the old grads and other old-timers will have a worthy opportunity to compare this year's slaughter with the most outstanding of bygone days. In the two events, the bag rush and the tug of war, approximately 130 men have been booked and nearly all the underclassmen of both weight and fighting acumen are to be seen in action tomorrow.

The yearlings declare that both beet and strategy will not be wanting in their array, and according to secret information gleaned late yesterday by a representative of the Daily, the wearers of the verdant chapeaus will be prepared to hold their own by a series of trick formations. In a statement issued from sophomore headquarters, the second year men are being drilled by lectures and chalk talks and will enter the fray with a no mean knowledge of the intricacies of the game.

The rules of the contest will be strictly enforced by a corps of disinterested upperclassmen and the interests of both classes will be safeguarded with fairness. The military department has loaned the use of a company of cadets to keep the onlookers in control, and according to prospects, they will have their hands full.

Committee Makes Rules. The rules to be adhered to by the contestants have been issued by the Homecoming committee in charge of the class scrap:

1. Teams must be in line at 11 o'clock ready to start.
2. In all cases of dispute, the head referee will have the final decision. The winner will be announced by him.
3. Cases of fouls and indications of personal animosity will not be tolerated, and offenders will be dismissed from the field and no substitutes allowed in their places.
4. Bags will be declared dead after being goaled.
5. In case of no side having a preponderance of bags goaled, the verdict (Continued on page 3.)

Cross Country Race Staged Tomorrow

Carling Cup Race Runners Will Wear Sorority Colors in Annual Run.

The annual Carling Cup cross country classic that is held here once a year will be run off tomorrow at 11 a. m. It has long been the habit of sororities to pick one man on the cross country squad to wear their colors in the race. This year the custom will be again resumed and sororities are requested to have the name of their hopeful in the Daily or athletic office by 10:00 a. m. Saturday morning. The Carling Cup will go to the sorority whose representative wins the long ramble. A new interest in the race this year will be the awarding of medals to the winners of the first four places in the long jaunt.

Buttons Sell Fast

Sales of Homecoming Buttons Surpass Those of Past Years—More Ordered.

Proving that the spirit of homecoming has taken a firm hold on the students here, 5,000 buttons were sold in a little over an hour. Whereas, at the last homecoming day it took three days to sell 3,000 buttons. One Ag team sold out at 7:30 this morning. The second team sold out at 8:30 a. m. More buttons will be available this afternoon. An order has been placed for 2,000 more buttons. The aim of the campaign is to place a button on every student and alumnus.

Largest Reunion Publication in Middle West Produced By Committee.

MAROON AND GOLD TO DECORATE COVER PAGE

Issue Dedicated to Alumni, President Burton Writes Welcome.

The Homecoming Magazine program is out today. Appearing in maroon and gold, the largest homecoming magazine in the middle west is replete with many brilliant features.

Dedicated to the alumni, the magazine program is introduced with a welcoming article by President Burton to all former "grads," and answered by Charles F. Keyes, president of the General Alumni association. The photographs of both these "celebs" are also included. An article on "The Minnesota of the Future," by E. B. Johnson, secretary of the General Alumni association, includes a history of Minnesota's plans for the new campus as drawn up by Cass Gilbert, a well known architect. A cut of the proposed new campus and an explanation of the same is included in the article. The proposed memorial auditorium and museum, the funds for which were appropriated by the last session of the legislature, will be shown in the drawing at the upper end of the Mail, while the Campanile will be at the lower end.

Minnesota Football History.

An authoritative article on Minnesota football of the last 33 years will appear by Joe McDermott, former sport editor of the Minneapolis Journal, who has been ranked with the late John H. Ritchie as a humorous sport writer. In this article, Mr. McDermott lays special stress on that period of football at Minnesota during which Dr. H. L. Williams has been coach. A detailed account of the past Minnesota-Illinois clashes, together with the standing of the teams in the Big Ten follows.

Another feature of which the committee in charge is very proud is an enlarged photograph of Minnesota's four presidents, Fowell, Northrup, Vincent, and Burton.

Gopher Heroes Remembered.

A page has been given over to an explanation of the Better Minnesota movement as outlined by Herbert Lefkowitz, president of the All-University Upperclassmen's association. Gopher athletes who were killed in the recent world struggle are remembered in this magazine program.

As a concluding feature of the booklet, a photograph of Minnesota's first intercollegiate eleven (1887), wherein appear such prominent men as Alonzo Meeds, present city chemist of Minneapolis, and Alfred S. Pillsbury, president of Pillsbury flour mills, is shown. The magazine program is from the same girls who yesterday were responsible for the enormous sale of Homecoming buttons, and may be purchased for 25 cents.

Frosh-Upperclassman Mixers Prove Success

Second Get-together of Year Given by Upperclassmen's Association Has Large Attendance.

The second weekly freshman-upperclassman luncheon and mixer, held yesterday in room 309, Minnesota Union, proved itself to be a decided success.

An appetizing meal, interspersed with jovial conversation and singing, with an attendance of 30 students, marked the success of the get-together movement.

In order that freshmen unacquainted with the university might become familiar with traditions at Minnesota and might have ample chance to get acquainted with and become personal friends of some of the big men at the university, the Upperclassmen's association has established these weekly get-togethers as the best means of accomplishing this end. Room 309, in the Men's Union, has been reserved for every Thursday noon until Thanksgiving.

The get-together luncheons are not meant for a certain few, but for any member of the freshman class who in any way desires to further his acquaintances among the upperclassmen.

NATIONAL CHAIRMAN TO ADDRESS LEGION

that bureau, he served in this capacity until May of this year.

At that time he attended the first meeting of the caucus of the legion, at St. Louis, and took an active part in its deliberations. There he was made the national chairman and has since given his entire time to Legion matters.

He came to Minneapolis early this week to complete arrangements for the Legion meeting next Monday and to hold consultations as to the conduct of the business. He will call the convention to order next Monday, and outline the purposes of the Legion and its constructive work.

Colonel Lindsley is a citizen of Texas and was mayor of Dallas. During his administration he took many progressive steps for the betterment of municipal affairs. He was called upon to run for mayor again in the spring of the present year, but declined in order that he might continue to serve with the bureau of war risk insurance and later with the Legion.

He was a banker and business man, of Dallas, interested in the development of oil fields and president and reorganizer of an insurance company. He is a nephew of former secretary of war, J. M. Dickinson and a close friend of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

Associate of Faculty Men.
On his staff as director of the bureau of war risk insurance he had two members of the present law faculty of the university, Dean Vance, as general counsel, and N. T. Dowling, as assistant director.

The meeting today is primarily for all veterans and members, but will be thrown open to the entire university. It is hoped that a large number of students, both men and women, will take advantage of this opportunity to hearing Colonel Lindsley as the local organization is the only one which has the honor of having him as a speaker. L. E. Lohman, president of the chapter, will probably call a short business meeting after the talk. Joseph Struatt, chairman of the membership committee, says that Legion buttons will again be on sale beginning this noon and urges that all members procure their buttons if they have not already done so.

Twenty New Gladiators Added to Ranks of Second Year Men for Saturday's Conflict.

The sophomores at their meeting yesterday added twenty new gladiators to their list of thirty chosen last Tuesday. These are Bertram Ames, R. T. Reynolds, Bruce Wallace, D. W. Hughes, F. W. Haupt, John Cleameant, Arthur Bohner, Carl Stromberg, Leonard Lucas, A. L. Johanson, Judson Grever, W. Praeger, Clarence Conner, Van Adams, R. H. Patrick, M. I. Holst, R. Olmstead, Shattuck Hartwell, Harold Brigs, Henry Bourdeau.

These men with those already chosen will meet in the band room of the armory at 10:20 Saturday morning. Plans will then be discussed, leaders appointed, and the final details of attack as decided upon by the committee will be revealed.

Rules Laid Down.
Men will be dressed in light fitting clothes. Padded football shirts and trousers will be in evidence. The Homecoming committee wishes it understood that every man must appear on the field wearing tennis shoes. The bag contest will last fifteen minutes with no intermission. Individual scrapping is to be prevented and any men seen engaged in single conflict will be taken from the game and no other men substituted in their places. The sophomores decided to identify themselves by tying a white handkerchief about the left arm.

TONIGHT'S PEP FEST.

Tonight, rain or shine, will see the largest pep fest held this year. This fest has a special significance. It is being held before the last home football game of the year, and before the day of our annual homecoming. It will be our final opportunity to develop the pep necessary to support the team and to get us in the best mood for acting as hosts to our alumni and our visitors. Throw out your chests, wear a smile. Tonight will be a bigger night, and tomorrow a bigger day, than Minnesota has ever seen. YOU must do YOUR share.

DON'T LEAVE IT TO THE ROOTERS' CLUB.

At tomorrow's game the rooter kings will attempt, as in days of old, to lead the whole south stand in the cheering. At previous games this year their efforts have been limited to the students' section. It is thought that tomorrow many students will be found throughout the stand. Other seats will be filled by alumni who know our yells, and by residents of the Twin Cities, who as residents of the state, should know them. This plan may be assured to turn out with a high degree of success if each student will do his share. Our pep is sure to be contagious. Do your share in spreading it.

DEAD IN THE SHELL.

"What is this Homecoming business anyway." That question was asked by a student on a Como-Harriet car yesterday. And later in the day an instructor said, "Well, I don't suppose you want a quiz Saturday because of this Home—this Home Reunion—this gathering—this—what do you call it?"

Every issue of the Daily for the past two weeks has contained something concerning Homecoming Day. Posters are everywhere on the campus. The majority of students are wearing their buttons. The various committees in charge have been working for weeks. The program is now in the hands of the printers and will probably be out this afternoon. And yet here are two, one representing the faculty, one representing the students, who have not yet realized that tomorrow is the day of days on our university calendar. We hope that they at least realize that there is a football game and certain other events which will take place tomorrow. They may catch the spirit of the thing before the day is over.

CAMPUS SPORTS

One of our sport writers, in yesterday's issue of our immortal sheet, was given the assignment on "first call for basketball players." It was a perfectly good article but the reference to Plat Platon as "one of the subs last year," is slightly incorrect. Unless our memory fails us we believe that Platou was captain of last year's championship 1,000 per cent squad. One thing certain, however, Minnesota should have about the best team in the conference if they have a team composed of "last year's subs," who put out a game of basketball the equal of Erling Platou's band.

GOPHERS PRACTICE INDOORS.

Because of the poor condition of the field last night the Gopher football squad abandoned the campus gridiron and with the assistance of a local well-known taxi service company drove over to the National guard armory. A pretty classy football squad, what? Well, the boys rate it after the cleanup on the Cardinals last week. If riding around the city in taxis will help them register a win against the lilint tomorrow we are all for the expensive vehicle.

Convention Planned

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Will Hold Conference at Des Moines in January.

Plans are already under way by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. committee for the big international gathering of the Student Volunteer movement which is to be held in Des Moines the first of January. According to committee men, these conventions are held but once in a student generation, that is, once in every four years, the last gathering having been called in 1914 at Kansas City. At that mammoth convention 5,000 students from 800 colleges were in attendance and speakers of international repute addressed the assemblage.

The purpose is to present to outstanding college men and women from all parts of the world, the globe-wide problems and the contemporary growth of Christianity. The delegates will be made up of members of the student body and of the faculty, including a small proportion of student volunteers. Contrary to a wide-spread notion that attendance is to be limited only to those choosing some form of Christian work, the enrollment is to be completed from students preparing to enter all branches of industry and professions.

The University of Minnesota is allowed a representation of one student for every hundred on the institution's rolls. That means that 72 Minnesotans and a small number of faculty members will attend the convention. The committee has already started the selection of delegates and with approximately two months to go, the local quota is practically guaranteed.

Spinal Column

Curvature has been responsible for the conspicuous absence of this column during the past few weeks.

This is Terrible.
"Where there are no brains there is no feeling," he said as he trod a banana peeling.

I'll Tell the World.
The girl was no fool,
Who to young "Baldy" said,
"I don't blame the hair
For leaving your head."

LIMERICK.
There was a young fellow, Bob Bell,
He, of course is known very well.
He is tricky and cute
And for strength he's a brute,
Now ain't that too bad.

Not that it's any of our business but we can't see why any democratic man would become a Phi Beta Kappa.

BY THE WAY.
What has happened to the liberty loving Kappa Beta Phi's. Since July first that noble organization of Greeks seems to have lost the pep from its step. How about it Ed?

SHAME ON HIM.
Bert Downs, the pride of the Sigma Chi beauty culture institute, has in modest letters a foot high, on the sides of his Phord, his well known initials, B. V. D. (Paid Adv.)

DANCING MUZZLES.
Cheek to cheek dancing will be allowed no longer at the University of Minnesota. Each couple is asked to bring a baseball mask to the next dance in order that the strictest compliance of the rule be made possible.

FIFTY-FIFTY.
Guys stepping out their janes at the "U" of Michigan will only have to pay for themselves as the spirit of "Dutch Treat" has swept the place like a fire in a cork forest. Well, the women ought to expect such things along with suffrage and prohibition.

LOVE ME TONIGHT.
Someone by the name of Uno submitted the following, which we believe will bear repeating:
Love me tonight
Fold your arms around me,
Hurt me, I do but glory in your might,
Though your fierce strength absorb,
Engulf and drown
Love me tonight.

The world's wild stress seems less
Than our own heartbeat,
Its puny nothingness sinks out of sight
Just you and I and love alone are left, sweet
Love me tonight.

Love me tonight,
I care not for the morrow,
Full soon enough will come
Sunshine and sorrow
Love me tonight.
(Your answer?)
I can't tonight
I'm overworked and busy
I have a lot of manuscript to write,
And although your invitation drives
me dizzy,
I can't tonight.

But, sweet love, I must admit
I'm greatly smit
With the heart you picture,
Incandescent, white
But, I can't tonight.

Oh, Sweetheart, Oh Tempora, Oh
Heaven;
List to my lyre the while the strings
I smite,
Where will you be at, say,
Eight o'clock tomorrow night?

Pres. Burton Will Address Seniors

Cap and Gown Announces Novel Plans for December the Fourth.

President Marion L. Burton will address members of Cap and Gown, senior girls' organization, on Thursday, November 13, at 4:30, in Shevlin hall. Tea will be served.

Under the guise of this innocent announcement, the members wish to slip into the columns of the capitalistic sheet, "The Daily," the fact that Cap and Gown is planning a revolutionary Bolshevik party on December 4. Red will naturally be the key-note in the affair. Red tickets will be sold—but as for the other details secrecy has been sworn, for fear of government interference in the plans.

Shevlin Entertains

Y. W. C. A. and W. S. G. A. Will Hold Open House After Game on Saturday.

In honor of Homecoming day, W. S. G. A. and Y. W. C. A. will hold open house in Shevlin hall tomorrow after the game for university students and alumni. The hostesses will be Laura Peck from W. S. G. A., Katherine Schindel and Margaret Cross from Y. W. C. A. They will be assisted by several Y. M. C. A. men.

Marines To Meet

The Campus Marines will hold their first meeting at a luncheon tonight at 6:00 p. m. in room 209, Men's Union. This will be the first meeting of the Campus Marines and it is expected they will formulate plans for a permanent organization.

The session will be short and snappy. Real marine spirit will pervade. It is urgently requested all former marines be present. Tickets may be purchased from Holmes, Whitney, Martineau, Luger, Jacobson and Tupa.

All Y. W. C. A. team captains for the missionary drive are asked to hand in the lists of their teams to Harriet Thompson, box 708, today.

About nine new women out of a possible ten are old women painted over.

It takes a real genius to originate new ideas in love making.

"Buy your Chrysanthemums of Y. W. C. A. Saturday."

Y MEMBERS ORGANIZE.

The university members of the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. met at a supper and business meeting at the central branch of the Y. M. C. A. last night and organized a temporary club. Dean E. E. Nicholson, Cyrus Barnum and Mr. Timmons and Mr. McCandless of the Y. M. C. A. were speakers at the meeting.

Chairman Charles G. Eubank, College of Engineering '22, appointed a committee to make arrangements for future meetings of the club. Every member of the central branch of the Y. M. C. A. is urged to be present at the next meeting, the date of which will be announced later.

Around the College World

PENNSYLVANIA.

Beginning today, violations of freshman rules will no longer be tolerated. Plans have been completed by the sophomore vigilance committee providing for a severe campaign to punish all chronic offenders, and it is expected that within the week all violations will come to a stop. Freshmen have had plenty of time to fully acquaint themselves with what is expected of them, and no excuses are to be accepted.

PURDUE.

An interesting discovery was made by a freshman a few days ago while visiting the poultry farm. He found a modest little hen who was patriotic to the last notch. Throwing aside all styles of conventional coloring she had appeared arrayed in the colors of her country, the Red, White and Blue. This seemed to cause jealousy among the other hens in the pen for this morning when the eggs were gathered it was found that another hen in the pen had laid an egg which was Gold and Black, the colors of Old Purdue.

anonymously written, and "Rainy Days."

A page of poetry compiled by Joseph Warren Beach, of the English department; Sophia Hubman, Ione Kirscher Baker and Ethel Hepburn separates the story section from the features. "Tink o' Dawn," a play in one act by Donna Davis, introduces the features of the magazine. An illustration by S. Chatsworth Burton, of the architectural college, the well known sculptor and painter, is used to illustrate the story, "Echoes of the Peace Conference," by Frances Kitman and Theodore Gallagher, and a poem entitled, "Hell," by Warren Tingdale, are also features of the magazine. The poem, "Hell," is illustrated by six cartoons by Hugh Hutton.

A four real fature, "In Name Only," by Madeline Long, is burlesque on a motion picture scenario. The production in Miss Long's feature costs $100,000 and includes 500 people, 400 costumes and 100 animals. It is considered bigger and better than "Cahria," or "The Birth of a Nation." It is illustrated by Helene Melrose. "The Worst Short Story of 1919," number one entitled, "A Close Shave," is edited by O'Ryan; the author is unknown. The issue is concluded by a department called "Potter's Field."
