

Congdon Cattle Entries Winners At Kansas City

Grand championships for both bulls and females were won this week by entries from the Congdon & Battles ranch, near Yakima, Wash., in the Angus cattle division of the American Royal livestock show at Kansas City. The Congdon & Battles ranch is owned by the Chester A. Congdon estate of Duluth. Prizemere 141st won both the senior and grand championships for bulls, while Barbara of Rosemere 100th won the same titles in the female Angus division.

The Kansas City winners from the Congdon ranch will be entered in the International show at Chicago Dec. 2 to 9, it was announced at the Congdon offices here today.
