Discussion with Cuban journalist Liz Oliva Fernández

April 18, 2022, 5pm CT

Reigster in advance on zoom:

https://us06web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZAqce6hrDgjHtHxQi3n0LrkKowUhTxW_lwm

On Monday, April 18 at 5pm, Cuban journalist Liz Oliva Fernández will j discuss the documentary the "War on Cuba" with a special screening of parts of Episode 6 (22min). Liz Oliva Fernández exposes the striking disconnect between U.S. policy and Cuba's reality. Liz reveals the absurdity of Biden's offers to "help" the Cuban people with donations of vaccines, Internet access and remittances that bypass local financial institutions. She shows how Biden, pandering to Cuban-American hardliners in Miami, has abandoned his promise to reinitiate the Obama-era policy of engagement with Cuba. Liz also reports on the crackdown against protesters and contextualizes both repression in Cuba and the U.S. government's supposed concern for human rights abuses in the region.

Witness for Peace solidarity collective

Cosponsored by: Alworth Institute for International Studies and the Department for World Languages and Cultures. Supported by the CAHSS Teaching Grant