Council Urges Immediate Action on Postoffice Ban

A recommendation that immediate action be taken to open University Postoffice boxes to general circularization by campus organizations will be made to the Senate Committee on Student Affairs at its meeting today by Jean Danaher, president of the All-University council.

The recommendation will be stated in the form of a general motion as follows: That all policies governing student activities on the campus within the bounds of authority of the Senate Committee on Student Affairs be evaluated by the senate or by a committee designated by the senate from the point of view of the post-war campus.

Professor Chan Will Address Student Group

Wing-tsit Chan, professor of Chinese culture at Dartmouth, will speak to students of philosophy and others interested on "What Can Chinese Philosophy Teach Us?" at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in 301 Folwell.

Dr. Chan is the guest of George P. Conger, chairman of the department of philosophy, both of whom recently contributed to "Philosophy—East and West," a book containing 10 papers on Indian, Chinese and Japanese philosophies in comparison with Western systems. It also presents suggestions for the "planetary philosophy" of the future.

Dr. Chan, this week's Convocation speaker, presented two papers, "The Story of Chinese Philosophy" and "The Spirit of Oriental Philosophy." Professor Conger wrote "An Outline of Indian Philosophy" and "Eastern and Western Metaphysics."

"Philosophy—East and West" is the result of a conference on Eastern and Western philosophies held at the University of Hawaii, Honolulu, in 1939. It is dedicated to Gregg M. Sinclair, a 1912 University graduate, who is now president of the University of Hawaii.

Sad Slacks

Jeans Condemned

"Slacks worn by the coeds on campus are nothing short of the most atrocious things I have ever seen."

With this statement, discharged World War II veteran, R. Gay Allen, 1811 Fourth street N.E. broke forth anew the much discussed question of whether or not the coed can be glamorous and sloppy at the same time.

Officially filing his complaint yesterday with The Daily and downtown newspapers, Allen added, "The girl of today should try to follow a trend more towards femininity and never deck themselves out in masculine outfits."

So saying, Allen, who was an Education freshman at the University last year, had declared he will continue to make the rounds of the campus attired in typical coed sloppy garments, including spotted blue jeans and down at the heel shoes.

"It'll give them a picture of themselves and how they look to others," Allen said.

Allen returned this fall too late to register at the University but has made plans to enroll later.

Employment Bureau Has Off-Campus Jobs

The employment office announced yesterday that although at present there are no jobs open on the campus, many off-campus positions near the University are being offered.

All inquiries should be made at the employment office, 17 Administration building.

Student Affairs be evaluated by the senate or by a committee designated by the senate from the point of view of the post-war campus.

The All-University council will also recommend specifically that the following resolution be passed by the Senate committee: That until such time as the evaluation of policies relative to student activities on campus can be studied by the University senate, the senate committee move to reinstate the former broad interpretation of policy governing the use of University Postoffice boxes; that all organizations again be permitted to generally circulate notices; that there be no discrimination against any organization through a strict interpretation of the ruling.

Miss Danaher, who will represent the council at the senate committee meeting, explained yesterday that if the senate committee carries the motion and adopts the resolution, the recently enforced ban on general Postoffice box circularization will be listed until the University senate meets in November.

Whatever action the University senate takes at its next meeting will then be subject to the approval of President Walter C. Coffey and the Board of Regents, Miss Danaher said.

Miss Danaher pointed out that the council's recommendation for immediate action is based on a council study which indicated that the present interpretation of the Postoffice ruling is injurious to many campus organizations.

Foundation Opens Student Filing for Committee Heads

Filing for committee chairmanships for Minnesota Foundation opened at 11:30 a.m. yesterday in 227 Union and will continue through Friday. Office hours are 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. daily.

Committees for which chairmanships are now open are military contacts, scholarship, radio, tours and publicity. Filing may also be made for positions as office workers.

Betty Mindrum, Arts sophomore, has been appointed chairman of the committee on home town news.

A report on plans for Homecoming by Walter Carpenter, Arts junior, announced that a committee of three will judge Homecoming decorations. Judges will be Bob DeHaven, Morning Tribune columnist; Theron Johnson, director of student activities; and a student not yet appointed.

War Chest Total Stands at $3,350 With $4,500 Goal

With $50 coming in for the Campus War chest over the weekend, a total of $3,250 was reported yesterday by Katie Worrell, drive chairman.

"Several organization checks which will mean the difference between success and failure have failed to come in," Miss Worrell states. "The longer it takes to make our quota, the harder it is, and there is a long way to go in the two remaining days."

"We were optimistic Friday," she continues, "when the campaign took a turn for the better; but unless we get full cooperation from student groups and individuals, we will not meet our $4,500 goal. And that is not a high quota for a University of this size."

Teams will continue to canvass the campus today and tomorrow and there will be booths in the Union and Folwell hall.

The Campus War chest committee reminds students that this is the only drive conducted on the campus during the year with the exception of the Red Cross roll call.

Republican Club To Hear Gov. Thye

Governor Edward J. Thye will speak on "The Real Issues of the Campaign" at 3:30 p.m. today in 343 to 345 Union as a guest of the Campus Republican club. This is the last club meeting before election day. Saralou Mather, Arts junior, is urging particularly that all first voters attend the meeting.

An election night party beginning at 9 p.m. November 7 will take place in the Capitol room of the St. Paul hotel. Only members of the Campus Republican club may attend.

Brooms Away

Motorized Halloween Brings Woe

By Jim Noyes

The days of grandfather and grandmother's journeys into fear are gone. No longer do the blood-curdling shrieks and screams send cold chills shuttling up and down the spine.

Alas, the times when respectable witches could dash about on their perambulating broom sticks, when a shadow on Halloween night was always ghoulish and never just another dirty shadow, when a white ghostly figure could creep up behind two coeds and chuckle chillingly and have them gasp with fear, are sadly buried with the dear dead things of the past.

Now the witches zoom up to an all-night gas station, present their

Student Forum Will Hear Arnold, Gale

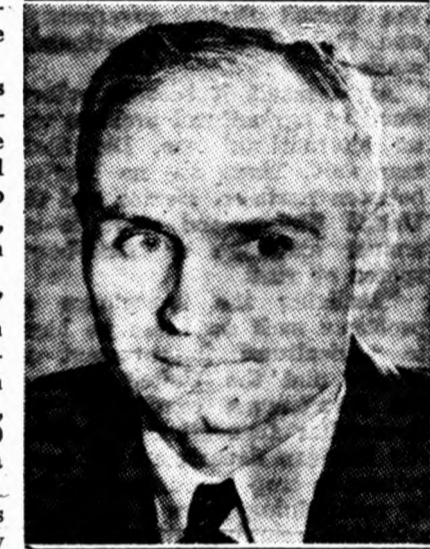

Ellis G. Arnold, governor of Georgia, and Richard P. Gale, Minnesota congressman from the third district, will debate the subject "Is it Time for a Change?" at the Student Forum meeting at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in 337 Union.

Mr. Arnold defeated the Georgia reactionary Eugene Talmadge in the 1943 elections. He is recognized as the instigator of the new penal institution reforms in Georgia and supported the bill lowering Georgia's voting age to 18. Mr. Arnold is also an opponent of the southern poll taxes.

Mr. Gale is now serving his second term in the national legislature. A strong supporter of the Republican platform, Mr. Gale suggested the topic of debate. All faculty members and students may attend the debate.

The Student Forum has changed its policy in regard to lunches, stated Mary K. Harding, chairman of the forum board. In the future, the forum will serve lunches in the junior ballroom of the Union. Members are not required to attend the luncheons, which will cost 50 cents, she said. The lunches will be served at noon and 12:30 p.m.

Bierman to Review Ohio-Gopher Game

Lt. Col. Bernie Bierman will review the Ohio-Minnesota game and comment on the forthcoming Northwestern game at the quarterback session at 12:30 p.m. today in the Union ballroom. Bill Gibson, editor of the General Alumni association, will be master of ceremonies.

Name McCloskey Platform Leader

Herbert McCloskey, political science instructor, will be the platform chairman for the political rally at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Union ballroom, it was announced yesterday. He will introduce Hubert Humphrey, state Democratic-Farmer-Labor chairman, and Desmond Pratt, Minneapolis alderman, who will speak on the Democratic and Republican platforms, respectively.

Carroll Hawkins, political science instructor, will act as moderator at the 3:30 p.m. student debate in the auditorium of the Museum of Natural History. The debate topic, formulated by the University Republican club in a challenge to the Campus Committee for Roosevelt, is to be "Resolved: that for the best solution to the problem of the peace and domestic issues, Dewey should be elected in November."

Student debaters for the Republicans are Ted Herman, John Moody and Jules Kubier, Law seniors. Representing the Roosevelt faction are William Fels and Lee Bond, graduates, and Katherine Brudnoy, Law junior.

A song fest will precede the evening rally. John C. Christianson, Arts sophomore, will lead the songs.

Students may vote for Dewey or Roosevelt when a straw vote will be taken following the evening speeches. Fee statements must be presented at the door, the political rally committee announced.

Bob Rydholm, Arts sophomore, is general chairman for political day; Roger Fredsall, navy dentistry student, is chairman of the program committee.

Group to Discuss Post-War Problems

A panel discussion on American participation in general international organization: constitutional difficulties, will be held November 8 at the Campus club by the Minnesota branch of the Universities Committee on Post-War international Problems.

Faculty members may make reservations for the meeting and dinner preceding the meeting through Herbert McCloskey, instructor and secretary of the local committee.

ration books, get four gallons and zoom away again. . . . Probably looking for a date.

Now the coeds, being supposedly startled by said ghostly figure, turn around with a deadly smile and ask you,

"What are you doing, Jack, advertising tattle-tale grey?"

Even the engineers who used to flit about from tree to tree on the knoll are no more to be seen. It seems they were hurt when someone invented the P-38.

We feel very bad about this lapse in Halloween hospitality. As Damon Runyon or some such character would be wont to say: Witches are characters, characters are guys without some of their marbles, marbles are used in a game, game is something you hunt. . . .

Happy haunting.

Newly-appointed members of the Arts Intermediary board are Joan Clark, Arts sophomore; Eleanor Colle, Arts junior; Dean Johnson, Arts sophomore; and Mary K. Harding, Arts senior. Dean T. Raymond McConnell will appoint students to fill the two remaining vacancies.

The board will hold its first regular meeting of the quarter at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in 214 Union. At the meeting plans will be made for a "gripe session" at which students can informally present their opinions on problems which confront them as students in the Arts college.

WLB Signs Off Early

During the month of November WLB will sign off at 5:45 p.m. instead of 6:30 p.m. This change is necessary because of a ruling of the Federal Communications commission requiring WLB to go off the air at the time of the local sunset.

Dr. E. C. Stackman, chief of the University division of plant pathology and agent of the United States department of agriculture, has recently returned from Mexico where he was engaged in cooperative cereal rust work.

The Minnesota agriculture experimental station has been doing research work for the past 20 years on the international problem of rust, in cooperation with the Mexican department of agriculture, and the United States department of agriculture. For two years they have been assisted by the Rockefeller foundation.

Control of cereal rusts, especially in wheat, is of great importance in Mexico and the United States, Dr. Stackman said, since the rusts sometimes cause damage involving millions of dollars.

The United States department of agriculture has been studying the disease since the epidemic of 1916. An extensive investigation of the source of the disease was undertaken by the Mexican and the United States governments, and the Minnesota experimental station.

As a result it became evident that the agricultural problem was an international one, Dr. Stackman said. There are no barriers between northern Mexico and the United States, and there is an annual exchange of wind-borne spores of rust.

"Realizing the importance of problems such as these as basic to agricultural improvement in Mexico and the United States," Dr. Stackman continued, "the Rockefeller foundation is helping the Mexican department of agriculture in crop improvement work by maintaining there a group of scientists working directly with the Mexican department."

The leader of this group of American scientists is a Minnesota graduate, Dr. J. G. Garrar, who obtained his PhD degree in 1935. Recently, Dr. Norman E. Borlaug, who received his PhD degree in 1942, has been added to the staff in Mexico. Dr. Borlaug was assistant wrestling coach in the department of physical education here in the fall and winter of 1938. Since leaving Minnesota in 1942, he has been engaged in research work for the Dupont company in New Jersey.

Reciprocally, the Mexican department of agriculture has granted leave to Jose Rodriguez for a year's study here. Mr. Rodriguez is doing graduate work on a Rockefeller foundation fellowship.

Gophers May 'Slay' Big 10 'Goliaths' With Aerial Attack

The time is ripe for Minnesota's gridders to assume the role of David and slay a couple of the Big Ten's Goliath's. And the much-worked-upon Gopher passing attack is probably going to be the fulcrum point for the launching this Saturday against Northwestern's Wildcats.

The Cats are by no means in the giants-to-be-killed class since they are resting at the very bottom of the conference standings with no wins against four defeats.

But, after the showing that the Maroon and Gold made last Saturday in the last half of the Buckeye game, it is certain that Hauser's men are ready to toss 'em with renewed vigor.

Moreover, yesterday's albeit skimpy practice produced even more evidence of this fact. Red Williams, Mutzy Nolan and Bud Gullickson were all throwing passes, while chief among the receivers were Bob Turnacliif and Rudy Brandstrom.

Turnacliif was one of the pass-grabbers Saturday, as Minnesota rang up five completed passes out of 11 attempts, the most any Gopher team has accomplished this season.

Williams tossed most of the aeriels and Nolan threw a few more. Gullickson as yet hasn't had a chance to show his ability in this department, while Bob Kasper, also adept at passing, has also to open up in a game.

With Williams pitching from the right side and Nolan from the left, the Gophers have been able to add considerable in the line of deceptiveness. This also means that potential receivers can be anywhere on the field and still open for passes.

Yesterday's Northrop field drills showed little more than the blossoming of a passing attack, however, as most of the navy men

Kasper Surprise Addition As Bucks Are Outgained

Although Minnesota was tripped by the Buckeyes Saturday, nevertheless, a host of scoring thrusts was unleashed by the Gophers.

Once again Red Williams led the ground covering with 156 yards in 10 tries, but it was little Bob Kasper who surprised the Bucks. Kasper, a new addition to the squad, spun for 78 yards in only five tries.

Vic Kulbitski also showed drive and power in his first game with the '44 Gophers' backfield. Besides providing an effective blocking barrage, Kulbitski reeled off 24 yards in 10 tries. Johnny Lundquist also was a leading gainer this weekend, with his 38 yards in seven plays. Lundquist was used in many of the Gopher scoring thrusts.

Herb Braun managed to take seven yards away from Carol Widoe's men, in only two attempts. Matt Sutton and Merlin Kispert each got two yards in one try. Five fumbles cost the Gophers at least two touchdowns Saturday. Red Williams' slip on the one-yard line, was the most serious. Two of the Minnesota slip-ups were recovered by their own propitigators.

Fickle fate proved its name was aptly applied in the ground gaining tabulations for both squads. The Bucks were out-downed 15 to 12, and outgained 317 yards to 256 by the Maroon and Gold. However, the Buckeye gains came early in the first half to offset the more tardy Minnesota attempts.

The longest pass gain of the game was a Les Horvath to Jack Denddieu toss for 63 stripes. Minnesota's longest throw was a Red Williams toss. Williams also ran were home on furlough after the end of the quarter.

Hauser worked with only a skeleton crew, composed almost entirely of civilians. The practice was a sweat-suit affair, lasting only an hour.

Tom Cates was back in the saddle again, after appearing a short time against Ohio. He can now run at full tilt and is definitely back in the fullback battle.

Speaking of fullbacks, Matt Sutton's injury to his right knee Saturday kept him from running through plays yesterday, but Vic Kulbitski, who took over most of the fullback duties against the Bucks, was on hand again to fill the spot.

Vic's play Saturday was not up to the Kulbitski par of old, but one more week of heavy scrimmage should put him in shape to start at fullback for the Gopher Homecoming with Lynn Waldorf's Wildcats.

All of the remaining Gopher games are with Big Ten opponents, and it will be a make-or-break season roundup for Minnesota. The Gophers are getting set to knock some team off its perch, and when the Indiana game comes around on Nov. 11, the Hoosiers may find themselves the victims.

off with the longest rushing gain of the tilt, with two 45-yard sprints down the side. Kasper made the second longest with his 43-yard run, to set up the second Minnesota tally.

The Buckeye TD's came early in the first half, while none of the Gopher attempts succeeded until the third quarter. In losses, the Bucks lost 23 yards in attempting passes. The Gophers sustained 10 yards in losses on throws.

Minnesota tried 11 times to score via the airways, gaining 72 stripes. The Buckeyes attempted eight aerial assaults, and succeeded in gaining 160 yards. Five tosses were completed by each team. One Gopher throw was intercepted, but the Bucks failed to earn any yardage by the play.

Penalties were fairly even among both squads. The Maroon and Gold men were set back seven times and the Bucks five. Punts were tried by the Gophers three times to six boots by the Ohio State boys. The Minnesota kicks distanced a total of 102 yards, while the Bucks hit 180 yards. The longest punt return was by Minnesota for 13 yards.

30,000 Tickets Sold For Homecoming Game

Gopher football spirit rides high this week as gridiron fans flock to the Cooke hall ticket office window for seating space at the Homecoming game to be held Saturday, November 4, at 2 p.m. in Memorial stadium.

As this Northwestern-Gopher clash is one of the most touted of all sport events, ticket officials are expecting a record crowd for the year with a probable 48,000 sports lovers attending.

According to the pasteboard receipts, the approximate sales for seating space has already hit the 30,000 mark with more than 10,000 tickets having been sold by mail order, the highest mail order sales in two years.

"Although the sales returns have been large," said Marshall Ryman, ticket sales manager, "there are plenty of good seats left at the box office."

Tickets are on sale in the lobby at Cooke hall, at the Downtown Ticket Office in Minneapolis and at Field-Schlicks in St. Paul.

Second of Clawson Clan With Wildcats

Red Clawson, fiery-thatched quarterback, came to Northwestern with a five-letter reputation from high school, plus the dubious honor of having to live up to the performance of his brother Don. The "Moose," as his teammates called the elder Clawson, was a nine-letter man at Northwestern, having won three letters each in football, basketball and baseball.

Thus far Red is keeping pace with Don's performances, playing football, basketball and tennis.

This year Coach Lynn Waldorf moved the redhead to quarterback after trials at guard and center, and Red's hard-driving tactics at the blocking post have earned him starting honors now that he is fully recovered from a pre-season elbow injury.
