TWEED MUSEUM OF ART SCHEDULE

UMD Department of Art and Design Student Exhibition

The annual juried exhibition of works by UMD art students, featuring their best efforts in painting, drawing, printmaking, sculpture, graphic design, photography, and mixed media will be on display April 10 - May 9. Jurors will be John Steffl, Duluth arts curator, instructor and administrator, and Mike Cina, designer from Minneapolis/St. Paul.

An exhibition opening reception and the annual announcement of exhibition awards and Department of Art and Design scholarships will be held at the Tweed Museum of Art on Wednesday, April 14 from 6 - 8 p.m. At that time, Chancellor Kathryn A. Martin, Jack Bowman, School of Fine Arts Dean and others will announce over $2500 in awards to students, along with scholarships for the upcoming year.

The Holocaust as Subject

“The Holocaust as Subject: Samuel Bak, Ellen Rothenberg, Art Spiegelman, and Debbie Teicholz” will be on display at the Tweed Museum of Art from April 13 - June 13.

In collaboration with the Baeumler-Kaplan Holocaust Commemoration Lecture Series at UMD, the Tweed Museum of Art has organized an exhibition of four contemporary artists whose works address Holocaust-related themes.

A teacher workshop, hosted and presented by the UMD Tweed Museum of Art staff and Art and Design Faculty, will instruct teachers in how best to incorporate this exhibition into their curricula on April 13 from 4:30 - 6:30 p.m. at the Tweed.

Stephen Feinstein, the University of Minnesota’s Director of the Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies on the Twin Cities campus will make a presentation on Holocaust Memorials on April 15, at 7 p.m. in the Tweed Museum of Art Lecture Gallery.

There Once Was Town, a documentary film about a small village in Lithuania called Eishystock whose Jewish citizens were nearly exterminated will be shown on April 18, at 7 p.m. in Bohannon 90. A panel discussion will follow the film.

Painter Samuel Bak, one of the featured artists in the “Holocaust as Subject” exhibition, will present the Baeumler-Kaplan Holocaust Commemoration keynote address at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, April 20, in the Kirby Ballroom.

Prospettive Dall' Italia

“Prospettive Dall' Italia” an art exhibition featuring original art from Palermo’s Accademia di Belle Arti, will be on display April 28 - June 15 at the North Shore Bank of Commerce, 131 W. Superior Street, Duluth. The opening reception will be held April 28 from noon - 2 p.m. at the North Shore Bank of Commerce.

ALWORTH BROWN BAG SERIES

Alworth Institute Brown Bag series begin at noon and are free and open to the public. For more information contact Cindy Christian at 726-8616.

Sally Palmer, a student at UMD will present “Mauritius and Mozambique: A Study of Contrasts in Africa” on Thursday, April 1 in 200 Chemistry. While participating in UMD’s Study Abroad program in Mauritius in 2003, she had the opportunity to visit Mozambique on the mainland of Africa. She will discuss her experiences at the university in Mauritius as well as her reflections on cultural differences in a country that attracts large numbers of European tourists. In contrast, she will examine the poverty she saw in Mozambique and her visit to a “new” national park where residents are being forcibly removed to “reservations” outside the park.

Bret Thiele, JD, and Mayra Gomez, staff at COHRE, will discuss their mission to Guatemala and how others can get involved. They will present “Continuing the Struggle for Justice and Accountability: Examining the Rio Negro Massacres in Guatemala” on Thursday, April 8 in 200 Chemistry. In 1970, the government of Guatemala and the World Bank constructed the Chixoy Dam. In 1982, to clear the dam reservoir of its human population, the Guatemalan military evicted the village of Rio Negro by means of four brutal massacres. The World Bank was responsible for supervising the project, including the relocation of Rio Negro, and continued to fund the government of Guatemala after the massacres. To this day, the survivors of Rio Negro have yet to receive justice and reparations from either Guatemala or the World Bank. In 2003, the Centre on Housing Rights and Evictions (COHRE) visited the World Bank, the dam, the massacre sites and the survivors as part of a campaign to bring those responsible to justice.

Max Herbach, a Duluth resident, was just a baby when he and his parents fled the Nazis as they invaded Belgium. He will present “‘Push Me Toulec!’ – How Eight Adults and Three Children Survived the Nazi Holocaust” on Thursday, April 22 in Kirby Ballroom A. On the very day the Nazis invaded Belgium, the Herbach family abandoned their Antwerp home and fled, a mere step ahead of certain capture. They raced through France under difficult circumstances on a harrowing journey that ended in Brazil a year later. Herbach recounts the “great escape,” documented in his mother’s memoirs.

Tineke Ritmeester, associate professor in UMD’s Women’s Studies Department will present “The Netherlands in the New Europe” on Thursday, April 29 in Chemistry 200. Ritmeester recently spent a month in the Netherlands. She will share her observations concerning ongoing social and political changes in the country that point to an Americanization of Dutch society. Ritmeester is a native of the Netherlands who has lived in the United States for many years.

BIOLOGY LECTURE

David Mount, EPA Mid-Continent Ecology Division, will present “Photo-activated toxicity in the aquatic environment: Assessing the interactive effects of sunlight and polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons” at 3:15 p.m. on Friday, April 2 in 185 Life Science. Coffee and cookies will be served at 3 p.m.

For more information contact Tim Craig at 726-8123.

TIAFF-CREF SEMINARS AND CONSULTATION

“Investment Solutions: New Funds from a Trusted Partner” will be presented at noon and 1 p.m. on April 8 in 323 Kirby Center.
