DELAY OPENING OF SCHOOL TO ALLOW CADETS TO CAMP

Faculty Approve Plan—Regents Will Make Final Decision at Next Meeting.

The opening of college will be postponed one week in order that the cadets attending the encampment at Fort Snelling need not be absent from classes. The faculty believe that the loss of one week in the fall would not materially affect the different departments as the work could easily be made up during the ensuing year.

The faculty have approved the plans for the annual encampment and the matter will be brought before the next meeting of the Board of Regents for final action. The board meets on the early part of May and if they give consent to the plan, during the week of Sept. 11 to Sept. 17 the cadets will be instructed in practical camp routine at Fort Snelling.

At the encampment next fall the present freshmen and sophomores will be required to attend in order to receive credit in drill for this year.

The plan is to add the week of camp like to the regular course but men will not be allowed to attend camp who have not drilled a year.

Captain Butts has made all arrangements for the encampment so that there will be no hitch providing the Regents decide in favor of the plan.

DR. MOORE TELLS OF HIS FEELINGS DURING ACCIDENT

Recounts Details That Followed Crash of Classroom Roof Last February.

"How does it feel to be hit by a ton of brick? Well, it don't hurt a bit," says Dr. James E. Moore who had a miraculous escape from death under a falling wall in Millard Hall, Feb. 25.

The mass of brick, tile and cement that crashed through the temporary roof of the class-room in which Dr. Moore was lecturing to the junior medical class, weighed about two tons. It smashed a heavy oak desk as though it had been paper. Dr. Moore was buried under the mass, from which he was dragged by the students.

Neither Hears Nor Feels.

"I heard nothing, felt nothing," said Dr. Moore today. "I recall that one of the instructors passed through the class-room and I learned afterward that he had just gained his room when the crash came.

"My first sensation was that of an indescribable awfulness. I can't tell it any other way. When this sensation passed away I thought I must be dead or dying. This did not frighten me but caused wonder. Then I suppose my surgical sense came to me and I began to speculate if I was still alive. I tried to move my fingers and toes and found I could. I recall that I moaned in my breathing and tried to tell the boys that I was not whimpering and was in no pain.

"Then came a feeling of nausea. All this time my mind was only partially conscious. Complete unconsciousness followed. For I did not realize that I was taken to the University hospital.

Faculty and School Men Clash Over Perogatives

Dean Downey Insists that University be Sole Judge of Entrance Requirements—Academic Faculty and President Northrop Sustain this Action—High School Principals Object.

Educators throught the Northwest are at present engaging in a stirring controversy over the stand taken by Dean J. F. Downey in his speech before the State Association of School Superintendents in which the Dean declared that the University must be the sole judge of its entrance requirements.

Discussion Precipitated.

Professors W. M. West and A. W. Rankin were strongly opposed to this idea claiming that the University was bound to accept any student offered from an accredited high school. The position of the faculty was characterized as an attempt to dictate a course of study to the high schools. A spirited debate followed in which Dean Downey stood almost alone in defending the action of the University.

Faculty Defends Dean's Action.

At a meeting of the Academic faculty last Saturday, Dean Downey's position was almost unanimously sustained. The special committee on entrance requirements submitted their report recommending that agriculture be accepted under certain conditions as an entrance credit; that students offering four years of one foreign language be admitted with three years of English; that business spelling and correspondence be omitted from the list of admission subjects, and that not more than four credits be allowed towards admission for vocational subjects.

The first paragraph was adopted without dissent. Professor West desired that the remaining sections be referred to a committee instructed to confer with a similar committee appointed by the association of superintendents.

Dr. Northrop Objects.

President Northrop opposed this course and explained that while the faculty always would be willing to confer with the school superintendents, it could never permit them to have a voice in establishing the requirements for admission to the University. Those in charge of the institution should know, he said, that students accepted without examination are qualified to carry on University work. The committee's recommendations were thereupon approved and will next be presented to the board of regents.

Principals Resent Dictation.

REGENTS ARE ASSIGNED

Committee on University Board Announced—Meeting Called for April 16.

The following committees of the board have been appointed and confirmed: Executive—Nelson, Williams, Butler, Lind, Northrop; agricultural—Rice, Williams, Nelson, Hovland, Butler, Northrop; medical—Mayo, Nelson, Hovland, Schulz, Smith; buildings and grounds—Lind, Nelson, Butler, Williams, Hovland; geography

The high school principals of Minneapolis resent the action of the faculty in refusing to confer with the committee of school superintendents concerning the adoption of entrance requirements. They maintain that graduates of first class high schools should be admitted to the University without examination.

Mr. W. F. Webster principal of the East high school said, "Hitherto we have conferred with University authorities concerning the entrance requirements. Pupils from the small high schools should be admitted to the University with the same privileges as pupils from the larger schools. The University belongs to the state system of education of which the high schools are a part. This fact should not be ignored."

Mr. J. N. Greer of Central high school said, "I think the high school men know what the community wants and needs and they should be permitted to give the students what the community asks. There is no disposition on the part of the high school principals to dictate or to submit to dictation."

Objections Answered.

In an interview on Tuesday Dr. Northrop said, "We have done nothing that would interfere with the rights of high school principals in any way. The high school principals may confer with the University authorities at any time."

Further Discussion.

At the Sigma Xi dinner Tuesday night Dr. J. B. Johnston of the medical faculty said, "Our system of public instruction is the most antiquated of human institutions save one, disregards the needs and capacities of the individual, and fills the minds of all with a pabulum which is supposed to make every man a president, great artist or a king of high finance.

"Then the University faculty accepts that dwarfed and stunted and misshapen child and sets about the impossible task of making a man of him."

Miss Caplin of West High replied that the high school teachers are not unmindful of their responsibilities and welcomed advice and criticism. "But what we want," she declared, "is criticism along more definite lines and recommendations along more specific lines."

EIGHTEEN TO BE ELECTED TO STUDENT COUNCIL TODAY

It will require eight separate simultaneous meetings to elect the members of the new student council. Each of the four classes will hold separate meetings for the men and women, today after fourth hour.

Eighteen representatives will be elected; three senior men, three junior men, two sophomore men and one freshman for the men's council; and the same number of girls for the woman's council.

The senior members serve for the remainder of this year only; the other representatives serve until the second Thursday of April, 1911. Each year the six senior members will hold office thru the extra two months, in order to assist the new council in getting into working order. The freshmen classes will have no representative until April of each year.

Every academic student can vote at one of the meetings today. The presidents of each class will preside at the class meetings for men, and the vice-presidents will preside at the class meetings for girls. The purpose of the council and the method of election will be explained in detail at each meeting. The officers who will have charge of the meetings are: senior; Theodore Thompson, and Ina Sackett; junior, Barthell Faegre and Viola Lenning; sophomore, Tom Crocker and Ruby Kneebone; freshman, Leslie Brown and Martica Byrnes.

COUNCIL BREAKS DEADLOCK

Elizabeth Ware Defeats Anne Hull—Committee to Amend Constitution.

At a meeting of the Woman's League Council yesterday, it was decided by ballot that the Council should elect the president, as the election of Tuesday was a tie.

Both candidates for the presidency were present at the meeting and were in favor of this proceeding. The Council voted for president and Elizabeth Ware was elected.

As the constitution of the League does not provide for the case of a tie in electing officers, the president of the League has appointed a committee of two, to amend the document.

The elections for the Student Council take place today. All academics can and should vote—the time will be but a few Council minutes and much depends on the result.

The method is simple. No nominating speeches are made. From those receiving the highest number of votes at a first ballot the class representatives are chosen by a second vote—each class having a number of representatives proportional to its age. The articles of the constitution published yesterday contain all the details.

It is hoped that "politics" will not enter into these elections. This means that students should be elected, not for their friends, their popularity, or by electioneering, but for their ability to act as efficient members of the Council. If you know a capable person tell the voters of his qualifications, show wherein he would be valuable, but—nothing more. If anyone asks for votes for himself or his friend sufficient reason is present to turn all votes against that person. Here, if ever, let the office seek the man.

Before going to the elections each student should give a few minutes of serious thought to the consideration of those for whom he will vote. Whether the Council lives or not depends largely upon its membership, the coming year. Each member elected should embody the sincere conviction of the electors that he is the man for the place.

The continued and unwarranted insult of allowing the chapel bell to interrupt and render ludicrous invited guests of the University in their lectures and recitals should cease. It is nothing short of impertinence to ask people of talent to give their services gratuitously for the benefit of the student body and then to render their efforts futile by this raucous noise. But a few weeks since, a distinguished essayist was put to rout by it while still engaged in his introductory remarks. No one needs to be reminded of the unequal combat between a lyric soprano and the untiring offender which filled us with unmannerly laughter. Avaunt ye bell.

CADETS IN SHAM BATTLE

Cadet Officers Petition for Practical Work—Infantry, Battery and Band to Participate.

The annual sham battle will be revived by Capt. Butts as the result of several petitions by Cadet officers. The battle will take place at the Agricultural college the latter part of May.

The entire cadet corps, including the three battalions of infantry, the battery and the band will participate.

Four companies from the University proper will act as the enemy, while the remaining companies and the battery will oppose them.

Twenty-one thousand rounds of blank ammunition have been provided and will be distributed the day of the struggle. The battery will be divided, with one gun for each army.

Chartered cars will take the cadets to and from the Agricultural College.

FINAL STRUGGLE FOR JACOB'S CUP TONIGHT.

The final debate for the Jacob's cup will be held in Chapel at 8 P. M. tonight. This meeting decides the championship, as the Forums have beaten the Law Literary society, and the Philomathiums have won from the Castilians.

The question to be debated is; Resolved that the corporation tax in its fundamental principles is advisable."

The judges will be Professor Rowland Haynes, Dr. John Lee Coulter, Professor Davis of Macalester.

The Philomathian representatives are Mark Thompson, Julius Hoffman, F. E. Older.

The Forum team are Henry Paddock, Eloi Bauer, Haddon Ostlund.

* Mildred Langtry will sing in Chapel today.

VARSITY ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL BEGINS AGAIN

Twenty-two Men Given Suits—Walker Drops Out—New Rules Work Well.

Spring football practice has commenced. The new uniforms have been given out to about twenty-two men and more are expected to be out at the next session. Light scrimmage was the order so that none of the men are limping much or nursing more than one black eye. Minnesota's hard luck does not seem to be confined to the track team. Jimmy Walker yesterday said that he had seen his father concerning his playing football next year and received a definite and decided answer in the negative. This will leave a large hole in the line for Jimmy was all-Western tackle. "Dad" Mohlstad graduates this year, which makes another hole. There is no dearth of material however, and prospects are bright for another championship eleven.

GYMNASTS HAVE REHEARSAL

Dr. Cooke Puts on Finishing Touches—Minnesota Entries Strong.

Minnesota gymnasts held their final dress rehearsal last night in preparation for Saturday's big inter-collegiate meet. Dr. Cooke gave the apparatus performers a few final pointers on form and finish, and concluded the work out with a short lecture on the aesthetics of gymnastics. The quint looks strong and is fully on a par with that which represented the University last year. Dr. Cooke is confident that his proteges will finish among the top-notchers.

Captain Baker will enter the all-round and will compete in all the events. Stunts on the side-horse are his forte and in this event he seems to have the call on all competitors. Roy Calloway is best on the horizontal bar, and should be well inside the money in this event. He will also compete on the horse, the rings, tumbling and club-swing. His Rand will tumble and perform on the parallels and horse. Hercules Hansen will do crosses and things on the flying rings. Herb Nelson will appear on the horizontal bar, the parallels, and will also swing clubs.

Dr. Cooke is still uncertain as to who will represent Minnesota in the heavy and middle-weight divisions of wrestling. E. P. Peterson will compete in the light-weight class.

Entries from the five colleges which will compete in the meet are all in and are being listed by Dr. Cooke. The roster contains the names of many experienced and able men, who will put up a first class exhibition. Chicago promises to show up strong in the heavy-weight wrestling. White-side weighs 200 pounds while Gerend weighs 220, and both are said to be fast and clever grapplers. Nebraska will be represented by Elliot in the heavy mat event. He wrestled in last year's meet and is said to have improved greatly since that time.
