DULUTH. . . The public is invited to attend a Swedish program sponsored by the UMD languages department at 8 p.m. Wednesday (April 5) in the Science Auditorium.

Featured will be three Swedish films: "Linneaus," a story of the life and work of the great Swedish botanist; "I Saw It Myself-- This is Stockholm," and "Summertime in Sweden."

Included in the program will be Swedish recitations by members of the Swedish language class. Ivan Nylander, assistant professor and head of languages at UMD, is in charge of the event.

Admission is free.
