STUDENTS AIM TO GIVE MINNESOTA STRONGER MORALE

All-University Movement Sponsored by Student Body, Taking Form.

PRES. BURTON SCHEDULED TO GIVE SERIES OF TALKS

Bringing Old Minnesota Spirit to Life Declared Task of Backers.

"Better Minnesota" is the slogan of a movement that is being stimulated by the men of the University working through the Y. M. C. A., which comes in answer to the appeal of President Marion L. Burton for "a finer Minnesota morale," given in his address at the Basketball Convocation last week. "Minnesota Morale" will be the subject around which most of the activities of this movement will be projected.

Series of Talks by President. A committee composed of representatives of all of the Colleges of the University, which has been discussing the campus situation, has asked President Burton to give a series of addresses to all students and members of the faculty who are interested in making a "Better Minnesota." The addresses which will concern the vital problems of the day and their relationship to University men and women, will be given next week Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the last week of the Lenten Season. "This dedication of a week to morale

HANDBOOK GUIDE TO TWIN CITIES

Professor Swift's Pamphlet Tells How To Reach Places of Interest in Twin Cities.

"What the Twin Cities Offer to Students" is a handbook compiled by Professor F. H. Swift in which he describes, and tells how to get to, the interesting places in St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is "an attempt to open up to the students of the University of Minnesota that greater education which may be secured through contact with the civic, social and cultural institutions lying outside our academic world." An article on "Walks and Walking" by Dean Alfred Ovre is included in the sports section. There are sections devoted to music, books, art, civic clubs, theaters and trolley trips. The handbooks have just arrived and will be distributed through the post office very soon.

If You're Not A Sophomore Nor of Male Gender, Don't Read This

Amidst food, drink, and much laughter, the men of the class of 1921, who are keenly interested in the formation of a class mixer to promote the student welfare and uplift of the University, will get together this noon in Room 204 of the Minnesota Union. The men who attend the initial meeting today will form a Sophomore Commission, which will be the nucleus around which a larger and more inclusive group of 1921 men will be formed later in the week.

The committee, which has this meeting in charge, has issued the following statement:

"Today's gathering is to be com-

Those who have bought tickets for the Masquer production of "Plots and Playwrights" are urged to exchange them at once at the Co-op, in order to secure desirable seats.

MASQUERS PLAN ON MANY ATTRACTIONS BETWEEN THE ACTS

In producing their plays Friday and Saturday nights at the Little Theater, Masquers will introduce the plan used in the Symphony concerts at the auditorium, that of admitting no one during a number. "The Dust in the Road," the one-act curtain raiser, strikes a high pitch of dramatic tension.

Prompt Attendance Urged. In order not to break the hold of the play upon the audience, no one will be admitted during the performance of this one-act drama, although the doors will be opened for the intermission between it and the presentation of "Plots and Playwrights," for those who find it impossible to arrive on time. The management is advocating prompt attendance, in order that the entire audience may see both plays.

Ushers and Candy-Sellers Appointed. Margaret Mealy, chairman of the committee on ushers, has arranged for a group consisting of Bertha Peck, Margaret Mealy, Elizabeth Nissen, Edith Olin, Louise Bowman, Ella Platon, Veta Harris, Luella Pesek, Rose Scheffron, and Hazel Hoag.

The ushers and the girls who will sell candy will appear in costumes planned by Miss Mealy.

Mildred Hogan is chairman of the sales committee, assisted by Virginia Murray, Alice Dunnell, Louise Robertson, Katherine Fischbein, and Delight Allen.

Cookmen To Banquet

Victorious Team Will Have Big "Feed" in Minnesota Union Friday.

The Basketball Banquet will be held at the Minnesota Union, Friday, April 11, at 6:30 P. M. Members of the Varsity squad, and Freshmen squad, together with coaches, members of athletic board of control, and some alumni basketball stars, will make up the party. The captain will be elected at that time.

posed of any Sophomore men who are intensely interested in the making of a jolly, upright, Christian, clubby organization. If you want to be instrumental in starting such an organization drop in and see Ralph Garner in the Y. M. C. A. parlors before 11 o'clock, and reserve a place at the festive board. Remember that this is an organizers' meeting—a meeting for those who are willing to spend a little effort each week in boosting the club's progress.

Later in the week, probably Friday, a meeting of the entire Sophomore male host will be summoned to start the organization on its way.

REHABILITATION WORK SPONSORED BY DEAN COFFMAN

Education College Head Aids In Vocational Training for Disabled Soldiers.

EXTENSIVE CHOICE OF COURSES OFFERED MEN

Booklets Treat of Mechanics, Agriculture and Many Other Lines.

Dean Lotus D. Coffman was in the Surgeon General's office in Washington last year in government work, and the results of his labors may be seen in his office this week. They are several hundred manuals of rehabilitation courses for disabled soldiers issued by the Federal Board of Vocational Education in cooperation with the Surgeon General's office and the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. The Red Cross provided for the expenses of the committee and for experts to advise the committee in making the courses covering the various fields of work.

For Use in Hospitals. The manuals Dean Coffman had a part in compiling are for use in hospitals in training disabled men for vocations. Courses have been prepared in the field of general education, in commercial subjects, in industrial and technical subjects, in agricultural subjects, and in physical education.

Condensed Instruction Aimed At. The courses are made up of units of work consisting of the aim of the unit, the task, and questions on the task. Each unit tries to give some definite knowledge and skill in some specific task. Each unit aims to fit the man to do something for which there is use in life. If he finishes but one unit he has something complete rather than a fragment of some more ambitious course.

The future application of these manuals can only be determined by trial, but many possibilities are apparent, and great credit is due Dean Coffman and his co-workers.

"CONGENIALITY" IS BYWORD AT UPPER CLASSMEN FEAST

"When good fellows get together" at the Junior-Senior smoker, Thursday night, April 10, a good time will be had by each, according to those in charge. As has been previously stated, the gathering will convene at 6 o'clock and E. B. Pierce, that dispenser of humor, wit and good-fellowship, will speak, following the sumptuous repast. Any of these men will be willing to separate any upper classmen from 35 cents for a ticket: Burton Forster, Newton Holland, Fred Curtis, David Haupt, John Hanley and Neal Arntson. Congenial pipe smokers will gather about a congenial table and confabulate in congenial style. However, addicts to the weed are only one of the ingredient elements. Non-imbibers of the deadly Dame Nicotine will attempt to carry on their share of the conversation, and will try to discuss the current problems—unless the air gets too thick.

REFUGEE KNITTING.

Drop your name in the ballot box in the post office, indicating whether you wish to knit children's stockings or children's sweaters.

MASLON, HOUGH AND BARNER HONORED IN PILLSBURY CONTEST

"J. B." BODES FAIR FOR A STARTLING SUCCESS APRIL 25

With the Junior Ball over two weeks away, half of the tickets for the event have already been sold. The remaining tickets may be bought by Juniors or members of other classes at the Gopher Hole any day this week. Charles Cantieny, who is in charge of sales, will be at the office between 11:30 and 12:30, and between 1:30 and 2:30, daily.

Musical Program Completed. Arrangements for the party are rapidly nearing completion. The music will be provided by an eight-piece orchestra including Harry Squyers, of Schibley-Squyers, and Florence Noonan. The musical program is completed and includes the newest and most popular of the season's numbers.

Committees Augmented. Carl Rohn, chairman of arrangements, has announced three new committee members: Mary K. Hartung on publicity, Grace Shannon on music, and Isabelle Borgeson on decorations. Alano Pierce, president of the Junior Ball association, will lead the dance with Miss Evangeline Skelton.

To begin work on the 1921 Gopher, the management has announced a contest for staff photographers. This was to have closed today, but owing to bad weather, has been postponed. The contest will be kept open long enough for candidates who have not had the opportunity to have their pictures developed, to do so. Anyone wishing to compete, but unable to submit pictures today, must put a notice to that effect in P. O. Box 3270 immediately. "Candidates should also state the earliest date the contribution can be finished.

The pictures, of which a series of six must be submitted, are to be of University scenes and life. Clearness, perfection of detail, position of subject, quality and originality of subject itself, will be the basis for judgment of the work of the candidates. A statement containing the name and quality of the camera, or kodak, with which the specimens submitted were taken, the name and post office box number of the candidate, together with the series of six pictures should be placed in P. O. Box 3270.

Little Theater Scene of Thirty-first Annual Oratorical Clash.

Winners Receive An Aggregate of $175 in Cash—"Bolshevism in U. S." Winning Speech.

In the 31st annual Pillsbury Oratorical Contest held at the Little Theater last night, S. Maslon won first prize, delivering an address on "Bolshevism in the United States." C. P. Hough captured second award with "The New Renaissance and Reformation" as his subject and G. F. Barner was third man, speaking on "National Self-Protection." Completing the list of five contestants were D. H. Bessessen, speaking on "Carry On" and K. P. Buswell with "An International League" as his subject.

The judges of the contest were H. J. Burgstahler, Benj. Drake and H. B. Gislason. Stanley B. Houck presided. The five addresses were delivered before a fair sized and appreciative audience. Great interest was manifested at the outset and much speculation was rife as to who would receive the prize money, the awards being $100, $50, and $25, to the respective winners.

BASEBALL IN FULL SWING IN BIG TEN

Michigan, Kansas and Purdue Developing Strong Teams—Schedules Completed.

Baseball has already come to the focus of attention in University athletic circles. Michigan, Kansas, and Purdue are developing strong teams and hope to have a good season. Many of the Universities have their schedules completed and are busy arranging practice games which will serve to wear the rough corners off their squads and give the teams their final touch of perfection. Bating and twirling practice are in full swing.

WE HAVE WITH US TODAY MR. GEORGE HARVEY OF THE N. A. REVIEW.

It is distressing to gauge the amount of digging into old books, old speeches, old precedents, age-long tradition and old prejudices which Mr. George Harvey must have done in concocting such a hodge-podge of derogation and weak argument for an address and published under the caption "The Independence of America" in his own "North American Review."

Mr. Harvey bemoans the fact that to America apparently "no conceivable advantage is to accrue." Why that is the very cornerstone of our greatness! Have we not shouted at every opportunity, "We went into this thing for unselfish reasons," and does this sound familiar, "The United States does not have to fight for territory or for supplies, but only for principle?"

If as Mr. Harvey contends, we have made a fetish of our chief executive, we can come back at him with the same accusation directed in his case to the Declaration of Independence, the constitution, and the fraternal, broad-minded quotations from the Bible and Daniel Webster, and Abraham Lincoln having to do with "our first obligation being to ourselves."

In every instance of a quotation, Mr. Harvey has been wilfully onesided. Any intelligent person can give without meditating quotations from each of the above named sources which have a very different portent.

That one who first said, "It has never been done before," sounded the slogan of ultra-conservatism and incidentally a sort of death-knell of progress. Why, man alive, if we do not get out of our ruts of "age-old tradition," so vaunted by Mr. Harvey, then all our blood, our anguish, our money, our prayers have been expended in vain.

And then Mr. Harvey's analogy in which he defies anyone to find a flaw. This is really the joker. He draws a parallel between banks, all but one of which have suffered grave losses, from robbery. The unimpaired bank rushes to the aid of the others and proposes help unasked when already it had done its evident duty in fighting off the robbers. "That," says our altruistic Mr. Harvey, "is the precise proposition which now confronts the stockholders of the United States," and, just that is not our condition at all. Are we to take unto ourselves untold glory of battle and none of the hard work of peace, one is forced to the conclusion that Mr. Harvey might help in the bucket brigade in a destructive fire but would let the burned out villagers languish in barrels, for why should he give clothes? Did he not do his duty? H. B.

Cap and Gown Will Tea Today

Cap and Gown, senior girls' organization, will entertain at a tea this afternoon in Shevlin Hall. "This is the last year that the seniors will have a chance to get together," said Marian Wash, who is in charge of arrangements, "and it is up to the girls to show their spirit." Mrs. Jessie Ladd, Dean Gertrude E. Beggs and Miss Frances Greenough will be guests at the tea. Marian Wash declares that there will be "good eats" and that "Shevlin will be fixed up with flowers so that it will look aesthetic." This is the first of a series of teas which Cap and Gown will give. The time is set from 4:00 to 5:30.

GOLF MEETING TODAY.

All girls interested in golf will meet in the W. A. A. room of the Woman's Gymnasium today at noon. Edith Appleby is in charge of the new sport of golf at Minnesota. Alice Gall, president of W. A. A., will speak at the meeting today. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

WILL "KENNY" BE THERE? WE'D SELL OUR SHOES TO KNOW

Will "Kenny" attend the Post-examination dance given by the Livestock club on Saturday night in the University Farm Gymnasium?

Members of the Livestock club wonder if it is really true that "Kenny," well-known and popular senior in the college of agriculture, is going to create news by attending the event on Saturday night. They wonder whom he will ask to go with him. They are mystified by the report because "Kenny," during his four years of college, has never attended a dance. Last year he was president of the Agricultural Bachelors' club and strove strenuously to abide by the rules of that order.

The thing that is a mystery in his career is a trip that he took to the northern part of the state last year. Members of the Bachelors' club were greatly concerned during his absence, but he came back still claiming the right to belong to the club. He is still a member.

Wilke's Orchestra, well known to University students, has been secured for the occasion and the Livestock club is inviting especially University organizations.
