THE GAME TOMORROW

Grinnell will Send up a Strong Team, and a Good Game Will be Played

Tomorrow Northrop Field will witness a battle between the two old rivals, Grinnell and Minnesota. Grinnell has always had a strong plucky team and has been a worthy opponent.

Minnesota has had a game with Grinnell every year since 1890. Seven of these games have been victories for Minnesota, two for Grinnell and two have been ties. Last year's score was 26-0 in favor of Minnesota so that the game tomorrow will show, in no small degree, how much Minnesota has improved over last year's form.

In the outcome of the game it will also be possible to get the relative standings of Iowa and Minnesota. Grinnell and Ames played a tie game, 0-0, on September 28. Iowa University plays Ames tomorrow, and there will be an opportunity to compare the work of the Iowa and Minnesota teams from the scores the two teams run up.

The University team has been practicing hard the past week and should be in fine trim for the game. The positions of right half and left tackle are not yet filled. Allen, Evans, Thorpe, Boeckman and Irsfield are trying for the back field position, while Tift, Waist, Schacht and Thorpe are candidates for the line position. All are good men, and it is not known yet who will fill the positions in tomorrow's game.

The record for the eleven games already played is as follows: (Our score appears first in every instance.) 1890, 18-13; 1891, 12-12, and 22-14; 1892, 40-24; 1894, 10-2; 1895, 4-6; 1896, 12-0; 1897, 6-0; 1898, 6-16; 1899, 5-5; 1900, 26-0.

SECOND TEAM PLAYS

The second team plays the strong North Dakota Agricultural college this afternoon at Fargo, N. D. Beyond lining up against the Varsity this will be the first game that the second team has played this season. What the line-up of the team will be has not yet been announced. The Aggies have defeated many strong teams this season, among them Hamline by a score of 33-0, and North Dakota, 6-5. The best wishes of the University is with the team in their game this afternoon.

PROF. SHEPARDSON IN DEMAND

Prof. Shepardson has just accepted an invitation to speak upon train lighting before the Southwestern Railway club of Atlanta, Ga., about the middle of November. Prof. Shepardson is generally recognized as an authority upon this subject and his book, "Electric Train Lighting," has received an enthusiastic reception from men who have practical knowledge of and dealings with the subject.

SLOWLY SINKING

Governor Pillsbury's condition last night was but slightly changed, he was weaker than he had been at any previous time and was slowly sinking. He remains unconscious most of the time and the physicians in attendance say he can not long survive.

UNIVERSITY WELL REPRESENTED

At the October meeting of the Minnesota Academy of Natural Sciences the University was well represented. Dr. Berkey, who has been investigating the clay industries of the state for several years and who devoted much time to the same work this summer, made report of the results of his work. Dr. Eddy, who attended the electrical congress and gave a paper at the summer convocation of the Mathematical Society of America, reported concerning the two conventions.

Dr. Frankforter told of his excursion with a party of geologists through the canyons of Colorado. "Commodore" Nachtrieb, of the "Megalops," told something of his adventures in that steamless yacht on the upper Mississippi. Dr. F. W. Sardeson, Prof. Winchell and Prof. John Zeleny made report of their summer's investigation in the northwest.

GALE TO LECTURE

In conjunction with Mr. Herman Zoch's colossal program of Beethoven's last five piano sonatas, which he will play at the Unitarian church next Wednesday evening, Oct. 23rd, Dr. H. Gale has made up some printed historical notes to the program and reprinted Sidney Lanier's beautiful poem "To Beethoven." But as there is such a wealth of associated matter suggested by this wonderful program Dr. Gale will give a preparatory lecture and analysis on Saturday morning, Oct. 19th, at 11 a. m., in the Unitarian church. This introductory hour to the regular recital will be based on Schindler's and Thayer's lives of Beethoven on the monumental "Critical Catalog and Analysis of Beethoven's Works" by von Lenz, to whom Bulow so often refers in his edition of the sonatas. The characteristic themes of each movement will be played by Mr. Zoch. All persons interested in such an introduction are cordially invited.

THE PEAVEY PRIZE

Mr. F. H. Peavey has again offered his prize of $100 to the winners of the Freshman-Sophomore debate. Each member of the winning team gets $25, and the successful orator the same sum. Mr. Peavey's generosity and interest in the University is well known and he is to be sincerely thanked for renewing his offer of last year. This prize has helped debating and oratory in the University to a wonderful degree and both the Sophomore and Freshman classes are getting very enthusiastic over the coming contest.

MASS MEETING

Women's League to Meet in Chapel Hall Tomorrow Morning at 4th Hour

There will be a mass meeting of the Woman's League in chapel tomorrow at the 4th hour. Every girl in the University should be present and lend her aid in organizing for the coming year. Last year the mass meeting was announced with some trepidation, those in charge feeling that if they secured a membership of a hundred or less, it would be an encouraging start. They were greatly delighted to find that two hundred and fifty names were handed in. Before the end of the year the organization numbered nearly four hundred.

The present year has opened very auspiciously. At the first reception, given at the Armory last week, seven hundred invitations were issued and nearly every one was responded to.

The hearty response of the girls has greatly encouraged the officers and it is hoped they will attend the mass meeting in large numbers. Several of the ladies of the faculty will be present and speak. Tomorrow's issue of the DAILY will contain a detailed account of the preparations for the meeting.

RECEPTION FOR PREXY

The following letter was received by Registrar Johnson yesterday:

"A reception and dinner, in honor of President Cyrus Northrop, has been arranged by the Association of the Eastern Representatives of the University of Minnesota, to be held at the Hotel St. Andrew, Seventy-second street and Broadway, in the city of New York, on Friday evening, Oct. 25th, 1901, at 7 p. m. Other distinguished guests are expected to be present. It is hoped that the occasion may prove a great success, not only as a testimonial of affection for President Northrop, but also as an aid in making permanent the Eastern temporary organization. You are cordially invited to be present. You are requested to extend this invitation to any lady or gentleman you believe to be interested in Alma Mater, whether former members of the university or not. Dinner tickets, $2.50. Please send in subscriptions, or notice of inability to attend, at once, in order to facilitate the committee in making final arrangements. It is known that at least one hundred and fifty former members of the university now reside in the vicinity of New York. The members of the committee believe one-half of that number will be present. In any event, a most enjoyable evening is assured. Please address all communications to Robert Leslie Moffett, chairman, etc., 76 William street, New York city.

Chapel Music

Many of the students have expressed regret that there are no music books in chapel. Consequently many cannot take part in the singing each day, as they desire to do. As the result of this few know even two stanzas of more than five or six songs, and as a result often a mere handful are left to sing, and the volume is painfully small for so large a gathering. The day our distinguished chief executive visited chapel an unfamiliar hymn was announced, and after the first few lines were sung the music died away until at the end only a few were singing. There used to be hymn-books left in the seats so that everyone had a chance to take part in the exercises. If some one who is interested would take the trouble to look the books up and put them back in their old places everybody would sing, and be made happy thereby.

Class Games

Football, at present, is the all absorbing topic at the University and deservedly, so far we have a team which any college would be proud to claim. But we should go still further. The different classes should organize teams and arrange games between each other. These games are not only exciting and interesting but also tend to bind the different classes together and increase a still greater interest in the game. Last year's Freshman team won a name for itself and made an enviable record. It still further increased the fame of athletics at the University and showed the other colleges that we are rapidly forging to the front rank in every department of college sport.

Then also the different literary societies should play together. A schedule could be arranged and games played in much the same way as the inter-society baseball games of last spring.

We suggest that this matter be taken up and feel certain that good results will ensue.

A Student Enterprise

The Pillsbury statue was erected by the University alumni. How fitting it would be for the students to pay for the proposed monument without any aid whatever from outside sources. With 3,500 students at the University it ought not be difficult to raise the sum necessary for the erection of the monument. The Freshman class has begun the good work, the other classes will we feel sure be quick to follow their example. Enough has been said about the merits of the undertaking so that nothing further need be said here in that regard.

Let us see if we cannot raise the amount among the students and members of the faculty without the least outside aid whatsoever. The several classes should have committees appointed at once and start the thing with a rush. On President Northrop's return from the East it would be a fine thing to be able to inform him that the whole amount had been secured within the University and that the monument would be erected as a memorial of the students to their fellow-students who gladly gave their lives for their country and the cause of humanity. Nothing, we feel sure, would please our beloved president more than to know that the students had remembered the sacrifices of these their fellow-students and had decided to erect the monument as an enduring memorial of their glorious deeds in defence of their country.

AGRICULTURE

Last week the DAILY gave a partial review of the opening exercises at the Agricultural College and a short outline of the last year's work and of the plans for the future.

In still another and a very important way the school is this year in advance of its former position. It has been accumulating a library for many years and there are a large number of valuable books, and bulletins from the government and from other agricultural colleges. These books have never been properly catalogued and arranged so that the students might receive the greatest benefit. Through an arrangement with the department of agriculture in Washington Miss E. B. Hawkes, assistant to the chief librarian of the department of agriculture, has been sent out to the school and is now doing the careful and very important work of cataloguing. The library, which has heretofore been in a more or less chaotic state, is now being placed in first-class shape, where everything in it will be immediately available for service.

Miss Mary S. McIntyre, '00, will have charge of the library this year and will devote her full time to the work.

Arena Literary meets tonight in Prof. Woodbridge's room, Library building. A literary program will be rendered and all interested are invited to attend.

PROF. WILLIS LECTURES

The students should not fail to hear the lecture to be given this afternoon in chapel by Prof. A. D. Willis, a noted lecturer from the east. Prof. Willis was present in chapel yesterday and spoke of his lecture. His subject is one of great interest as it deals with the relation of psychology to physiognomy, and Mr. Willis will illustrate his lecture by drawings on a blackboard. This is a subject which is not taught in colleges, but has been studied by Mr. Willis for the past 40 years, and he has lectured on it for the last 25 years of his life.

The lecture is really the result of observations of human nature. The speaker will deal with facial expressions, the color and outline, and he will show how the story of a person's life may be read from observations of these various things. He has delivered lectures on this subject at the Ohio University and the Chicago University, and he has been highly spoken of as an entertaining and interesting speaker. There is no admission charge, but a collection will be taken up at the close to defray expenses. All the students who possibly can should try to hear him, so remember the time, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in chapel.

PROF. BARAKAT'S LECTURE

A very unique and interesting entertainment was given in the chemical lecture room Wednesday afternoon, by Prof. Elias E. Barakat. Prof. Barakat is a native of Damascus, the oldest city in the world. He belongs to the original Christian race of Syria, which dates back to the time of the apostles. The entertainment consisted of stereopticon views in the Holy Land, together with pictures showing the Arabic letters and numerals and the method of writing music. Prof. Barakat is very entertaining because of his Oriental manners, his acquaintance with his subject, and his many personal experiences. For some time he labored in the Protestant mission field in Egypt, but for the last 18 years he has been lecturing in this country.

Y. W. C. A. SPREAD

The spread given by the old members of the Y. W. C. A. to the new members has come to be an annual affair. All the girls who attended the one last year will hail with delight the announcement of this big spread, Saturday, Oct. 19, 1 o'clock.

The girls are not behind the boys in loyalty to the gridiron, as evidenced by the plans made to sing football songs preparatory for the Grinnell game.

All members, old and new, will be there in good time for singing and doing justice to the good things of the spread.

ENGINEERS WANTED

The thorough training given in our college of engineering, and the great demand for trained men in all lines of engineering is evidenced by the fact that at the present time there are calls for three men to take charge of electric light and power plants, two to do work in electrical engineering and one for draftsman and one for general foreman of an electric plant.

The Junior civils are beginning work upon their final problem in curves and earthworks. This will consist of running preliminaries, locating, cross-sectioning and estimating for a connection, through the campus, of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific tracks. The work will take two or three weeks to complete, but when it is done a new railroad will be all but built.

Several new pieces of machinery for the machine shop have arrived in Minneapolis and will be installed as soon as arrangements can be made for hauling them. These pieces with the new machines already in place make a very important improvement in the equipment of the shop and greatly increase its capacity.

G. S. Reque, E. E., '01, and last year on the editorial staff of the DAILY, leaves shortly for Michigan where he will install an electric plant.

Y. M. C. A.

Prayer meeting at the end of the 4th hour today. All men are invited.

The association is receiving a visit today from Mr. W. B. Pettus, of New York city. He will remain over Sunday and address a union meeting in chapel at 3 o'clock Sunday.

The Association building will doubtless be crowded Saturday night. The pianola recital will be especially attractive.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will hold a joint meeting in chapel on Sunday afternoon and an address will be given by Mr. W. B. Pettus, of New York city.

An important meeting of the Debating and Oratorical Association will be held on Saturday, Oct. 19, at the fourth hour in Dr. McVey's recitation room. All members are urged to be present.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Anyone who knows of cases of sickness among the students will confer a great favor upon the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations, by reporting the cases to the associations. These associations intend to see that all students who are sick have the best of care, but many cases never come to their attention. Instructors are requested to report the names of students absent from their classes, presumably on account of sickness, and the associations will gladly look up such cases and report to the instructors. Please report names to Mr. P. O. Hanson or Miss Ada B. Hillman.
