The weekend will kick off on Thursday evening with an etiquette dinner followed by a presentation from NCAA Consultant Jill Willson and NCAA Associate Director of Division II Josh Looney entitled "What Happens on Campus Stays on YouTube". That will be followed up by a talk from professional keynote speaker Erik Qualman dealing with Socialnomics.

On Friday morning the group will participate in a community engagement project, visiting with children at Robert Asp Elementary School. On Friday afternoon the group will have more discussions with Willson and Looney on Division II SAAC Voice and Hot Issues and on Inclusion / LGBTQ with Derek Schnell. The afternoon will culminate with the group having a joint meeting with the NSIC Board of Directors and then dinner at MSUM President Anne Blackhurst's home. The day will end with the SAAC Olympics taking place at Nemzek Hall.

The summit will end on Saturday morning with the SAAC business meeting.

About SAAC

Each campus' Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) is made up of student-athletes assembled to provide insight on their experience. The committee at each member institution is comprised of a diverse group of female and male student-athletes charged with the responsibility of assisting in the review of NCAA proposed rules, regulations, policies and legislation, while representing the voice of student-athletes in the NCAA governance structure. This is accomplished by providing student-athlete input on issues related to student-athlete well-being that are division-specific and association-wide.
