The University of Minnesota Crookston (UMC) announced the winner of the second Maroon & Gold Fridays' office party for October. The winner of a $50.00 office party from Hugo's is Eagle Drug.

"We have over 30 community and campus offices and departments participating in this fun centennial year event," stated Kari Vallager UMC Alumni Association board member. Maroon and Gold Fridays encourages both the UMC community and surrounding communities to wear the school colors to show pride and spirit. Each month one winner receives an office party for their participation in the event.

The Maroon & Gold Friday proclamation was made by Crookston's mayor, Don Osborne, on September 7 and will last throughout the centennial celebration. To learn more about Maroon & Gold Fridays and how you can participate, please visit the UMC website.
