Albert Lobb Resigns Post As U Regent

Another member of the board of regents resigned yesterday, to add to the biggest turnover on the board in the last 20 years.

Albert J. Lobb, recently retired assistant director of the Mayo clinic in Rochester, turned in his resignation after leaving the clinic because of a compulsory pension plan.

The resignation was announced at a press conference in the office of state Sen. Gerald Mullin of Minneapolis, chairman of the senate University committee.

Immediately after the announcement Sen. Walter Burdick of Rochester said, "Dr. Charles W. Mayo would be the logical man to succeed Lobb."

Sen. Burdick added it would be a "shame to break up this connection between the University and the Mayo clinic."

Lobb was named in 1939 to succeed the late Dr. William J. Mayo, one of the clinic's founders. Dr. Mayo had served as regent since 1912.

Sen. Burdick said the Mayo continuity would be preserved if Dr. Charles Mayo, a professor of surgery at the Mayo foundation, were named.

Retiring regent Lobb has been connected with the University since 1914 when he became a lecturer on law and political science.

In 1918 he became an assistant professor of political science. From 1920 to 1925 he served as University comptroller and secretary of the board of regents. He held a position at the Mayo clinic and was appointed to the board of regents in 1939.

The Minnesota legislature, after appointing Lobb's successor, will have appointed six regents this year, including four whose terms expire Monday and Lester A. Malkerson, successor to Fred B. Snyder, who retired from the board last month.

Wesley Resigns After 20 Years

Edgar B. Wesley, professor of education, yesterday announced his resignation after 20 years with the University teaching staff.

When his resignation becomes effective June 15, he will devote his full time to research and freelance work.

"I want to write," he said last night, "and this will give me the time to do it."

Dr. Wesley joined the college of education faculty in 1931 as an assistant professor. He was advanced to an associate professor in 1934 and became a full professor in 1937.

Earlier he received his bachelor degree from Baldwin Wallace college, Ohio. He taught for a while and then went on to obtain his master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees at Washington university, Mo.

BANDLEADER STAN KENTON talks jazz with Tom Snell, Daily jazz critic, (left) and Bob Hahnens, University Society member (right). Kenton spoke yesterday afternoon at a jazz forum in the Union men's lounge. The forum was sponsored by the University Jazz society and the all-University congress.

Crowd Hears Kenton Answer Jazz Queries

By Nate Shapiro

Stan Kenton, prophet of progressive jazz music, discussed jazz at a public forum on campus yesterday.

The pianist-bandleader was introduced in the Union men's lounge to a capacity crowd. He began with the statement, "You really make this thing look like a political meeting, with me up here to tell you what my platform is." Within a couple of minutes, Kenton was asking for questions from the floor. There were many.

Several students asked Kenton's opinion of criticisms that his music is too "different." "A lot of people say we don't improvise," he said, "yet the individual musician's conception and phrasing is all within himself."

Kenton said creating new music involves a lot of psychology. "If a guy has the desire to bring about a change, he tries to create something emotionally. If the public accepts, it will satisfy him a lot more than getting a poll of public opinion first and then writing the music."

The bandleader, who once thought seriously of becoming a psychiatrist, said he has given up the idea. "If I had a life to live over again, I don't know whether I'd be a psychiatrist or a bandleader," he said. "Anyway, I'm too old for psychiatry now."

Students asked Kenton what he thought of George Shearing and Dizzy Gillespie. "Shearing has done some good things," he said, "but we're worried whether he will change and progress. If he does, he'll have a long musical life."

Dizzy Gillespie is a different story, according to Kenton. "Dizzy's a tragedy. He had a gimmick, but there was a time to junk it and become another Duke Ellington; Dizzy didn't junk the gimmick and it became cheap."

Before leaving the Union for a radio appearance, Kenton told his audience, "It doesn't make any difference what you like—Shearing, Dixieland or modern music—as long as you have an interest in jazz, it's wonderful."

State Breeders Honor Regent

University regent J. S. Jones was named yesterday to the Roster of Distinguished Livestock Breeders of Minnesota.

A photograph of Jones was presented to the University by the Minnesota Livestock Breeders' association to be placed in the breeders' gallery in Peters hall, animal and poultry husbandry building on Ag campus.

Jones becomes the twenty-eighth Minnesotan to have his picture in the livestock hall of fame.

Jones has been secretary of the association since 1926. He has been secretary of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation since 1923. He was appointed to the regents as a member at large in 1946.

Bandmaster Needs Sousaphone Players

Eleven sousaphone players were needed for their big bass horns in University bands last fall.

This week there are only two. The situation has acting bandmaster Ernest Villas worried.

"The armed services have a peculiar affinity for sousaphone players," Villas complained. "Now we have to do some recruiting for the bands."

What Villas wants to know is, are there any sousaphone players around?

Oil Heater Fires Trailer Unit in University Village

A fire that began with an overheated oil heater burned through the floor and into the closet of a University village trailer before it was subdued yesterday.

No one was in the trailer home at the time of the fire. Damage, which was confined primarily to the closet, amounted to several hundred dollars, according to L. F. Peterson, fire captain.

Peterson said the heater burned through the trailer floor and started the blaze which spread to a closet. Two companies answered the call at 12:10 p.m.

Claire J. Gudim, SLA senior, and his wife, residents in the trailer, have been moved to another unit, village director A. N. Hansen said.

Damage to the trailer itself was only about $100, Hansen said. "But rather than repair it, we probably will include the unit with the group of others which we are selling."

Weinberg Resolution Hearing Will Open

Sen. Fay George Child's "Scientist X" resolution is scheduled to go to the senate University committee at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The resolution asked for a four-man senate committee to urge the board of regents to oust assistant professor of physics Joseph W. Weinberg for his alleged communist activities while at atomic laboratories at the University of California at Berkeley.

The University committee, headed by Sen. Gerald Mullin of Minneapolis, postponed the hearing of Child's resolution until after the selection of five members of the board of regents last Wednesday.

Campus Police Ban Socialist Party Paper

A woman distributing copies of the Socialist Workers party paper, "The Militant," on campus Thursday was stopped by the department of protection and investigation.

Campus police told the woman, Mrs. Pauline Swanson, route eight, Minneapolis, of a university regulation prohibiting sales or solicitations and the distribution of literature on campus except by permission of proper authority.

C. B. Hanscom, director of the department of protection and investigation, was unavailable for comment yesterday.

When apprehended near Nicholson bookstore Thursday, Mrs. Swanson insisted she was giving, not selling, copies of the paper to students.

She halted after the warning, however.

Pres. Morrill Says:

Albert J. Lobb has had a unique and rewarding association with the University, beginning as a student, continuing as a member of the faculty, including service as a major administrative officer, and capped with the high honor of membership on its governing board.

Because of this rich educational and administrative background he has brought to board deliberations incisive and penetrating observations that were unfailingly helpful in reaching ultimate and significant decisions. . . . We are indeed sorry to have him go.

Prize British Film To Be Shown Here

"The Fallen Idol," ranked as best film of the year by the British Film academy, will be shown Wednesday in Northrop auditorium as the fifth in the University Film society's winter quarter series.

Showings will be at 3:30, 5:30 and 8 p.m. Tickets at 60 cents will be on sale at the Northrop box-office before each showing.

The movie is based on a story by British novelist Graham Greene.

Pass the Jelly

Daily Ad Goes Wong; Results 'Out of Hand'

By Stu Gang

Daily want ads bring results.

This is not a statement from the Minnesota Daily's business office. It's the firm belief of Don Wong, exchange student at the University.

Wednesday a want ad placed by Wong and his room-mate appeared in the paper: "Wanted: boys with peanut butter and jelly desire to meet girls with bread or crackers. Call Jelle. GL. 5357."

Results it brought—plus bedlam. Phone calls poured in, 111 to be exact, from girls at Sanford and Comstock halls, numerous sororities, and hospitals all over the Twin Cities.

As Wong puts it, "It's getting out of hand."

One of the many calls came from a girl who purred, "Come on to 9002 Lyndale avenue N. for a date." The boys fixed themselves up and rushed to the address. They found an outhouse with the address on it and a sign, "Sucker."

The boys also got a call from the National Biscuit company saying they would be paid if they would specify they wanted to meet girls with Nabisco crackers.

Yesterday Wong decided to invite all the persons who call to what he terms a "jelly party" with the hope of organizing a Jelly and Cracker club.

The first meeting of the proposed club will be at 3 p.m. Monday in 325 Union.

Health Service Treats Frostbite

The student Health Service has treated 17 cases of frostbite during the four days of sub-zero weather.

Most were minor cases of frozen noses, cheeks and ears. The students were treated with ointments for acute inflammation of the skin, says Dr. Donald W. Cowan, assistant director of the service.

Don't use snow on frostbitten skin, warns Dr. Cowan. Rubbing the area with snow could break the skin. It is better to thaw the area out slowly in a cool room.

Daily Poll

U Officials, NSA Not Well Known

By John Erickson
Daily Research Editor

★ ALTHOUGH 95 per cent of the student body knows the name of the president of the University, only about one-tenth to one-half knows the names of other top officials or anything at all about NSA—

Williamson

National Students association—according to the first results of the Daily poll for 1951.

Five per cent of the representative sample of 189 students used in the poll could not name Dr. J. L. Morrill as University president.

The dean of students, Edmund G. Williamson, was correctly named by 53 per cent of those students polled.

Morrill

Academic vice president, Malcolm M. Willey, drew 15 per cent correct response, while business vice president, William T. Middlebrook, hit eight per cent.

Even though 54 per cent claimed to have heard of NSA, just 34 per cent of the total sample, knew what the letters stand for.

Middlebrook

NSA's achievements and aims are known to 20 per cent, and 30 per cent know the University is a member of the organization. Just six per cent knew the last NSA convention was held last fall at Ann Arbor, Mich.

All interviewing in the poll was done by 11 students who are majoring in journalism or related subjects.

Willey

They are: Henry Hoover, Wilma Fancher, John Love, Ann Timmons, Joan Atlas, William Conley, Thyra Luedke, Ray Swanson, Marilyn Porter, Karin Becker and James Kondrick.

The breakdown of figures:

	Right	Wrong	Don't Know
President	95		5
Vice President, Academic Administration	15	3	82
Vice President, Business Administration	8	1	91
Dean of Students	53	6	41

1. Have you ever heard of an organization known as NSA?
Yes 54% No 46%

(The following results are from those answering "yes" to the preceding question but are expressed in percentages of the total sample.)

- 2. Do you know what the letters NSA stand for?
Right 34% Wrong 20%
- 3. Do you know what NSA does or what it is trying to do?
Right 20% Wrong 34%
- 4. Do you know whether University of Minnesota is a member of NSA?

Attitudes on the Draft

★ THERE ARE TWO diametrically opposed student attitudes toward the draft worth considering these days.

The college press at the Universities of California and Ohio State summed them up rather well about a week ago, as reported by the ACP. The attitude of each paper is about as different as night and day.

The Daily Californian has warned students not to consider themselves privileged characters regarding the draft. In most cases, it says, college students have no more right to deferment than anyone else.

It goes on, "In any war men must die. Many others are blinded for life or have their limbs blown off. . . . Somehow it does not seem fair that a certain group who, because of their ability to pay the tuition at a college . . . should be exempted from the horrors of war."

"It sounds like a superior race theory that people of only a certain class of IQ level should be subjected to the tortures a war can inflict on a human body.

"Our Declaration of Independence states that all men have an equal right to 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.' They should have an equal right to die for it."

Counters the Ohio State Lantern:

"Thus far, college students have been deferred until the end of the academic year. Several persons in high places have attacked this plan, arguing that just because one person is more intelligent than another, or because his family has more money and is able to send him to college, that is no reason why he should be deferred.

"The thing that rubs us the wrong way is the implication that we college students are hiding behind the skirts of the administration and are holding up behind the ivy covered walls just so we can stay out of the service.

"We ask you to remember that we college students had nothing whatsoever to do with setting policies on deferments. Evidently the government thinks it valuable for us to get as much schooling as possible before we're drafted. . . .

"We also notice that those who speak up the loudest about deferments and 'sending all our troops to battle now' are generally far over the age limit, so they cannot be drafted.

"We'd feel pretty secure ourselves if such were the case.

"So we ask that all the self-appointed experts on why 'college students should be drafted' bear these things in mind. In the event of an all-out war, we'll need as many well-trained specialists as we can get."

"Comrade Ivan has no gun, Comrade Bear has no gun. Everybody is equal!"

"Critically Speaking," a new series of discussions on art, movies, radio, television, books and the theater, will be broadcast from 2 to 2:15 p.m. daily over KUOM.

Participating in the broadcasts which, according to Bill O'Brien, publicity director of KUOM, invade a field "almost completely ignored by radio" will be Dr. Frank Whiting, director of University theater; Dr. Harvard H. Arnason, chairman of the department of art; Paul R. Wendt, associate professor of education; Northrop Dawson, Jr., KUOM program production director.

The program aims to give listeners information that enables them to be a more appreciative and critical audience, O'Brien said.

Duluth ROTC Group Gets Standard Rating

The air ROTC unit of the University Duluth branch was designated a standard air force ROTC unit Thursday.

Previously it existed as a satellite or subsidiary group to the unit at the University.

The announcement was made by Maj. Gen. Earl Hoag, special assistant to the chief of staff for reserve forces, to Pres. J. L. Morrill.

The unit's new status on a permanent basis makes it comparable to units in 126 or more other universities and colleges.

Since its establishment in 1948, a year after the Duluth branch was formed, ROTC enrolment has increased from 91 to 194.

LSA to See Film, Hold Folk Dance

A movie, "Glimpse of Europe," will be shown at a Lutheran Student association meeting at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Union main ballroom.

George Stedman, SLA junior, was elected president of the campus Phalanx club, national YMCA fraternity, Tuesday. Other officers are Ing Siverts, technology sophomore, vice president; Roland Comstock, SLA sophomore, secretary, and Ken Skelton, SLA sophomore, treasurer.

"Operation Blood" could well be the title of the blood donor program sponsored by the Army ROTC cadets next week.

More than 500 cadets have volunteered for donations, which will be earmarked especially for the Armed Forces.

The Minneapolis War Memorial blood bank will be at the University armory Tuesday, Thursday and Friday to accept the donations.

The program was the cadet's idea and all arrangements, with the assistance of Lt. Col. Ashton Pully, have been made by them, according to Col. Clarence H. Schabacker, professor of military science and tactics.

Cadets who volunteered have been notified of the time for their donation and examinations for blood pressure, hemoglobin, temperature and pulse conditions will be given before the donations are made.

If the examination is passed the cadets will be directed to one of six stations set up in the cadet lounge in the armory—each of which will handle four persons an hour.

Donors should not eat for five hours before giving blood, Schabacker said.

After making donations, the cadets will be served refreshments by wives of the ROTC staff officers.

$150 Award Open To Business Coeds

Business school coeds can apply through Friday at the bureau of loans and scholarships, 211 Eddy hall, for a $150 scholarship.

Coeds to be eligible must have completed two quarters in the school of business.

Selection will be made on the basis of academic aptitude vocational promise, personal qualifications and financial need.

The award was donated to the University through the Greater University fund by the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth branches of the National Secretaries association.

Ag Newman Club Party

The Ag campus Newman club will hold a sleigh ride tomorrow at 1401 Forest lane, Arden Hills. A bus will leave Corpus Christi Catholic church, 1445 Cleveland avenue N., St. Paul, at 7 p.m. Cost is 75 cents.

The army ROTC quartermaster corps soon may have its own fraternity—Phi Chi Eta.

Approval must be given by the University senate committee on student affairs, however, before it is recognized as an official University organization.

Next meeting of the committee will be held "probably within the next several weeks," an SAB representative said yesterday.

Recognition, according to John Levine, student activities adviser to governing boards and military groups, will permit the fraternity to use University facilities, such as the SAB advisory bureau, University buildings and the official University letterhead on correspondence.

Provisions in the fraternity's constitution will admit third and fourth year students in the quartermaster corps and second year men who signify their intention to enter the quartermaster corps during their third year, Levine said.

Second year members, he added, would receive a "quasi-membership" enabling them to attend fraternity functions, but not vote or hold office.

Levine said application for University recognition was made Jan. 26. He estimated the membership to date at "about 40 or 45."

He added that the fraternity was started at the University of Illinois two years ago by the army quartermaster unit.

WMMR Extends Request Show

"Saturday Frolics," WMMR's Saturday afternoon request show, has been extended to a four-hour show.

Starting today the program will be divided into five sections—interviewing a national artist appearing in town songs from current Broadway shows, songs from musical films, song hits from years past and recordings by duos.

Bob Roddy, general college freshman, will announce the program.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 11... THE OPOSSUM

The class clown went out on a limb and tried to prove cigarette mildness by the quick-trick method! He tried the fast inhale, fast exhale test—a whiff, a sniff—and they still left him up in the air!

But then he got his feet on the ground. He learned that there is a reliable way to discover how mild a cigarette can be!

And that test is...

The sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke—on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
