The Miller

Even in a milling state, man cannot live by bread alone.

SURPRISE questions are frequently sprung in classes, but few are received with as much surprise as was strange query of instructor: "What is a gelding?"

Coed answered lifted an eyebrow, said, "A little duck."

LAST NIGHT two deans were put on trial at the Interprofessional banquet. Today both are free. It's great fun trying these deans, said the girls who tried.

THE DAILY NORTHWESTERN reports the success of several coeds who sang at Chicago's famed College Inn. The girls sang as part of entertainment featuring Northwestern night. Such professionals as Ben Bernie, Al Johnson, and Herbert Rawlinson; the Daily reports, concurred in the opinion that "... The girls' voices held great promise." And they should know.

THE ALUMNI WEEKLY summarizes the path to fame in one all-inclusive sentence.

"Rachel Crothers had heard of Bohlen and he came to her to impersonate the easy-going, aging cavalier who brings romance into the life of Emmy Sykes, the heart-hungry widow from Duquesne, played by Catherine Doucet."

FEMALE companion of one of the Daily's many sportswriters commented audibly upon Mary Wigman's performance. Said she, "Wait until the Marx brothers get a load of this."

PUBLICITY extraordinary for the theatrical endeavor at Salt Lake City.

"In this presentation the master of ceremonies introduces each item with quaint broken English. The program comprises some 15 different and distinct acts, widely divergent in character, with elaborate..."

MERRY-MERRY at the Theta house resulted in one black eye. It was a case of two girls having fun—pelted each other with sundry loose articles: Parting shot was a mule which hit opponent smartly in the eye. End all—no decision.

OUR TUT! Tut! Tut! department.

An enthusiastic basketball fan shouted, "We sure did beat Foley." We aren't at all surprised at such very warranted enthusiasm, but we are surprised at such very faulty grammar. Sure is an adjective and can't never take the place of the adverb surely.

THE University of Southern California is suing a woman in an attempt to restrain her from hanging a weekly washing of dank underclothing in full view of the university gymnasium. The suit, the Southern Californians hope, will result in condemnation of the property. In spite of protests, this clearly property holder has continued to hang out her washing, and persons attending social functions at the gymnasium have been embarrassed to an end. The university comptroller contends that visitors are getting a bad impression. He hopes that the woman will be forced to give up washing, or that she will do it elsewhere. It's just the same old story of a university being embarrassed by exposure of dirty washing in public. This time it happened to be some one else's.

New Coach Leaves Tulane by Car to Assume Duties Here

Major John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner for the Western conference, and E. H. Lauer, athletic director at the state University of Iowa, will be in Minneapolis Monday to welcome Bernard Bierman to the fold of Big Ten football coaches and pay tribute to Herbert O. Crisler, whom Bierman succeeds, at the Nicollet hotel dinner Monday night being a new athletic era for the university.

The acceptance of both men were received yesterday by the general committee.

Bierman Leaves New Orleans
Griffith will be in the Twin Cities over the week-end, coming to participate in the "most valuable player" award to Clarence Munn at the Indiana basketball contest tomorrow night.

After receiving the plaudits of Tulane university admirers at a banquet in New Orleans Wednesday night, Bierman left for Minneapolis by auto yesterday to return as head football coach to the school from which he was graduated 16 years ago.

A past gridiron leader of the Gophers, H. A. Scandrett, president of the Milwaukee railroad, will attend the affair and give a toast to Bierman, who captained the Minnesota eleven to a championship in 1915. Scandrett was captain of the football team back in the '90's.

Talks Will Be Brief
State, city, university, business and alumni representatives are on the long list of speakers at the banquet which is under the joint sponsorship of the University Contact committee, the Minneapolis Junior Association of Commerce and the Minnesota "M" club. The talks, except for those by Griffith, Bierman and Crisler, are to be brief.

The list includes Governor Floyd B. Olson, Mayor William A. Anderson of Minneapolis, Mayor Gerhard Bundlie of St. Paul, Dean Guy Stanton Ford, Dean J. C. Lawrence, Rufus Rand, member of the board of regents, E. B. Sheffield, president of the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association; Robert L. Van Fosseen, Junior Association of Commerce; Edgar L. Zelle, former president of the Alumni association; and John M. Harrison, of the "M" club.

and troublesome, and an attempt should be made to solve it. With a sizeable waiting list of men who wish to live in Pioneer hall reported, it seems reasonable to believe that one solution would be the lifting of the one-year residence requirement.

MUSIC NOTES

By Martin C. Powers

TOO many residents in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and among them a large number of University of Minnesota students, fail to realize the widespread influence for good which the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra exerts.

Imagine, if you can, a theater in this vicinity which is devoted entirely to the presenting of a few truly great dramas, the few which Gilbert Murray feels are hardly enough to keep a theater going.

What you have imagined does exist, although in music, because the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra has exactly the position of the imaginary theater.

IF such an instrument is to be kept up to concert pitch, however, someone in the role of guardian must lead virtually a dedicated life. That person is the orchestra's conductor.

Fraternity men certainly were high powered rushers this year. Three hundred and fifty men went through rushing and the pledge lists totaled 373 as signed up.

Pioneer Hall Presents Another Problem to Fraternity Men

NOW that the rushing season is over and fraternities have filled their ranks with new members, the Greeks once more turn their attention to the problem of Pioneer hall, the new dormitory for men.

A residence ruling does not permit Pioneer hall men to move out of the building under penalty of forfeiture of certain deposit money.

Naturally, men in Pioneer who wish to join fraternities cannot expect to receive many of the chief benefits which fraternities offer; they cannot live at fraternity houses until next year.

Many men realized that fraternity bills in addition to Pioneer hall expenses would be too great a burden to bear through the year and consequently decided to take their chances on being pledged to fraternities in the spring.

Professor Predicts 'Unchanged Russia' 2,000 Years Hence

Clark U. Expert Hits U. S. Fear of Competition From Soviet

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 14.—(UP)—Prediction that 2,000 years hence Russia will be practically what it is today, "a congestion of population upon a limited area of relatively inadequate resources," was made today by W. R. Ekblaw, professor of geography at Clark University, Worcester, Mass.

Speaking before the third farm and home week assembly at the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, Professor Ekblaw declared that fear of Russian competition with American industry and agriculture is unfounded.

"No matter what the type of government, czaristic, communistic or the most enlightened republic, Russia's congested population and limited resources will not permit any significant advance in a material standard of living," Ekblaw said.

Population in Russia is increasing by 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 a year. The annual excess of births over the death rate for each 1,000 of population is 24.8 two and a half times that of Italy, three times that of Germany and almost four times that of France.

"Adverse physical condition which man is not able to transcend so limit the hospitality to Russia's 8,000,000 square miles of area that more than 75 per cent of its 160,000,000 people live within 15 per cent of its area. Only one-third of this restricted area is arable.

"The generally accepted belief that vast mineral wealth remains to be discovered and exploited is not justified. Transportation facilities are totally inadequate."

Prof. Ekblaw studied Russia during the summer of 1930 as a delegate to the International Soil conference.

Fesler Considers Offer From Northwestern U.

(Continued from Page 1) His acceptance of the position would add one more name to the list of Minnesota officials who have resigned to accept higher salaried positions at other institutions.

Dean Scammon, who returned here this fall as dean of medical sciences, resigned two years ago for a position at the University of Chicago.

Others who have been enticed away by higher salaries include Maynard S. Johnson, who accepted a position two years ago with the University of Arizona; Dr. Royal N. Chapman, who went to the University of Hawaii; and Professor J. O. Jones of the College of Engineering and Architecture, who also resigned two years ago.

Minnesota Cagers Drilled to Swamp Hoosier Defense

Wright, Mace, Anderson Star In Final Intensive Workout

By Hardie B. Smith
Intensive drill on set plays, featured by the deadly basket-tossing of Wells Wright and the speed of Myles Mace and Vernon Anderson, marked the Gophers' final hard workout for their first home conference start against Indiana.

Working in combination with Brad Robinson at center, Ralph Engbretson and Mike Cleusak at guards, and Cliff Sommer as his running mate at forward, Wright showed an almost perfect eye for the strings. Long shots and short shots fell for the sophomore yesterday, and with Captain Mike, Robinson and Engbretson feeding him the ball, he had plenty of chances to score.

Players Show Speed
Scarcely less noticeable was the speed shown by Mace and Anderson in breaking loose from the guards. Mace particularly was constantly breaking under the basket for easy push shots. Mace appears to be the fastest man on the Gopher squad.

This is his defect as well as his great advantage because most of the time he is travelling so fast that he is unable to handle the ball when it is passed to him but in a short time Myles should develop into a stellar player.

Robinson Work Out
Brad Robinson, first casualty on the squad, was in the thick of the drill yesterday, working out in the offensive center position with every indication that he will be able to carry on satisfactorily as a center if he should be needed for that position.

Coach Dave MacMillan has been working on the problem of developing his two forwards to meet the requirements of his style of play. Lack of experience has been the chief reason for the ragged play of the Gopher quint. With two or three more conference games under their belt, the sophomore members of the varsity are expected to be sufficiently polished to play MacMillan basketball with few errors.

Hoosier Matmen Defend Title With Strong Team

A series of elimination wrestling matches have been held at the University of Indiana to determine the varsity roster for the first grappling meet against Cincinnati. The team is especially well stocked with material and is expected to be a leading contender in the Big Ten this season. The Hoosiers won the title last year.

Gopher Splashers Meet Strong Y. Team Tonight

Thorpemen Hope to Avenge Defeat in Armory at 8 P.M.

Goaded on by the Y. M. C. A.'s narrow win over them in a pre-season quadrangular meet, the Minnesota swimmers plan vengeance when the teams clash tonight at 8 p.m. at the Armory pool for the first meet of the regular season.

Despite the strength of the Y. outfit, the Gophers, with a much improved and well-rounded squad, are favored to trounce the down town swimmers.

The public will get their first opportunity to watch a Minnesota water polo team as the Y. M. C. A. and Gophers tangle in the latest game of the natators. This event, following the regular meet, will be a grudge affair as the home paddlers were disqualified in the previous meet to give the Y. their edge of triumph.

Untried Wrestlers Meet Cornell Men

Powerful Iowans Appear Here Saturday
The Gopher wrestling team will have its first chance to show whether or not it will be equal to Big Ten competition the coming season when it meets a powerful Cornell team in the Armory Saturday.

The wrestlers were put through the last strenuous workout yesterday which was concluded with a talk on the intercollegiate wrestling rules by Coach Blaine McKusick. Rest was prescribed for the grapplers so that they will be in prime condition for the meet.

The squad will be hampered considerably by the fact that its members are inexperienced. Captain Jack Wassem is the only returning letterman on the squad.

Minnesota will have its full strength available tomorrow as the last barrier of eligibility was cleared up Wednesday when the few doubtful members passed the eligibility committee.

"We have a strong and well-balanced team this year with good men in all of the heavier divisions and should easily take the honors in these classes," Coach McKusick stated yesterday. "Cornell has an exceptionally strong squad this year but our men have a good chance to win."

HARVARD PUCKSTERS WIN FRAY, 7 TO 6

Special to Minnesota Daily
—Harvard's hockey machine, one of the best in the country, won a game from the University of Minnesota sextet last night in the Boston Arena by a 7 to 6 score.

Both teams played fast open hockey and scored throughout the contest. The game was one of a series played by the Gophers on their eastern jaunt.

Gopher Marksmen With Clean Record Seek Win Tonight

Meet St. Paul Rifle Team in Third Match of Season

Minnesota's unbeaten rifle team, cheered by its hard-earned 1,354-1,352 win over the Alumni, will seek its third straight victory of the year tonight when it battles the strong St. Paul rifle team at the Saints' range in the Capitol City.

Coach Ernest Myke expects the meet to be close and will not be surprised if the down-river riflemen upset his charges.

Good teamwork enabled the Gopher varsity to keep its long string of "at home" victories unmarred Wednesday night against the Alumni who threatened throughout the match. Emmet Swanson with a brilliant 286 out of a possible 300 points was high point man.

Charles Gottfried's strong finish carried the regulars to a two-point triumph. Except for Gottfried, high scoring Gopher, the remaining four Minnesotans were closely bunched with but seven points separating second place from fifth.

Gottfried's perfect kneeling score was the first fired by a Gopher rifleman in two years. Swanson also bagged a pair of perfect scores, prone and kneeling, while Chet Peterson of the varsity annexed one in the prone position.

The meet was fired as a series of individual combats with each varsity man paired up with a grad. Seven of the ten matches were copped by the present wearers of the maroon and gold. The high five out of ten scores counted for the team totals.
