PRESIDENT OF DARTMOUTH ADDRESSES CHAPEL GOERS

Gives Some Good Advice on "Opportunity"—Is An Author of Note and Prominent Physicist.

Dr. Ernest F. Nichols, president of Dartmouth College, spoke before the University students in chapel yesterday morning. President Nichols is himself a Kansan, although the head of an eastern institution, and he evinced the greatest interest in the west and its colleges.

"Opportunity, and especially the opportunity of the west," was the subject of his talk. "Eastern men are keenly aware of the opportunities of the west," said Dr. Nichols, "and there is a steadily increasing exodus of eastern college men from the east to the west."

"The west is a great country for educational opportunities. It is the duty and privilege of colleges to train men for tomorrow not only for today," he said, and continued to talk for a few minutes on the importance of small opportunities, which are "always at our elbows from the cradle to the grave," and of the serious mistake made in many lives of neglecting the small and waiting for the large opportunities.

Dr. Nichols is one of the three or four best known physicists in the United States. He was born in Kansas, beginning his university career at the Kansas Agricultural College. After completing his course there, he went to Cornell University where he received his doctor's degree, and later taught physics for two years at Colgate, after which he left for several years study at the University of Berlin.

On his return from Germany, he went to Dartmouth as a professor, then to Columbia, and finally returned to Dartmouth as president.

President Nichols has written several authoritative books on physics.

ASSOCIATION CHOOSES MASONIC-TEMPLE HALL

To Be Scene of Junior Ball—Committees Working Hard to Make it Best Ever.

After many weeks of indecision the committee on arrangements determined yesterday that the 1910 Junior Ball will be given at the Masonic Temple. The committee has had a strenuous campaign to secure a favorable place in which to hold the annual gathering. At first the Radisson was named, but upon inspection, it was found that the two hundred couples could by no means dance with comfort in so limited a space. Next, the Armory, Auditorium and Masonic Temple were that of, with the result that the latter was finally chosen.

Chairman Swenson of the publicity committee, when interviewed yesterday, after the general meeting of the J. B. Association, stated that this ball is to be the best of its long line of predecessors. The scheme of decorations has not yet been completed but it is expected that the hall will be made into a fairyland. There will be a myriad of cozy nooks where the "woman haters" may conceal themselves from ardent admirers.

CASTALIANS ARE VICTORIOUS

Organized Material the Secret of Their Success—Individual Work Good.

The inter-society debate of last evening resulted in a unanimous decision for the Castalians who had the affirmative. The debate was hotly contested, and the individual work of both sides was worthy of high commendation. The question was: Resolved, That the United States should subsidize a merchant marine.

The winning team was composed of Andrews, Brill, and Bethke. Their argument developed three reasons for ship-subsidy; first, that it would encourage the ship building industry in the United States; second, promote foreign commerce; third, furnish auxiliary ships for the navy.

The negative team consisted of Bergstahler, Nalin, and McKeen. They

"M" MEN TO ORGANIZE.

Men who have won the "M" are starting a movement towards forming an association, membership in which will only be granted to those who wear the letter. The reason given for the new organization is that few of the "M" men know any others but those who have won letters in their own sport.

At present there are over seventy-five "M" men in the University and as many more in the Twin Cities. The object of associating is to be purely social and it is planned to make an "Athletic Ball" one of the big social events of the year.

RARE BOOK HERE.

Miss Henriette Clopath is the happy recipient of a rare and beautiful book sent her by the famous artist Jean-Francois Raffaelli. The book contains about two hundred illustrations of his work. Only a few copies were printed and these he presented as gifts to his friends as a remembrance of the general exhibition of his work in Paris last summer.

DR. DEWEY ON "PRAYER."

In his talk at the meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association to-day, Dr. Dewey of Plymouth Congregational church will treat a subject most vital to religious faith, that of prayer.

LAST CADET HOP SATURDAY

Has Been Opened to Public and Drill Suits no Longer as Necessary as Money—Three Track Events."

The last cadet hop of the year will be held Saturday after dress parade. This hop will be open to everyone possessing the necessary quarter of a dollar, no ban being placed on those fortunates who have no drill suit. Everyone may dance, whether in drill suit or in civilian clothes.

Two decided novelties will surprise those attending. The first and greatest fact, that the band has some new selections which it will render for those tripping the Terpsichorean measures.

The second novelty will be three races by Grant's track squad, consisting of a 60 yard dash, a 60 yard hurdle, and a one mile handicap. The first two will be run on the dancing floor, and the latter in the balcony on the running track.

SOPHS CALLED TO ARMS.

As a class so far, we have nothing to be ashamed of, and a little to be proud of. We are simply getting into the spirit of the thing. Let us put our shoulders against the ball we have started, and keep it going. We have supported light things and sports, now let us show we are back of more vital things. The coming freshmen-sophomore debate is one of the best, most useful, and most interesting branches of class activities we will have this year. Let us show that we appreciate the efforts they have made, and honor them as they deserve.

Today, after fourth hour in chapel a mass meeting will be held for sophomores. Let us show that we have enough unity and enthusiasm to make it a success. It is easily possible if all will turn out for just a few minutes after fourth hour. Girls, boys, fraternity, sorority people, and barbs! Let us all be there and boost.

Thos. Crocker, Pres.

CAP AND GOWN SPREAD.

Mary Vaill Tisdale presided over the program of toasts at the Cap and Gown spread Monday night, when the senior girls ate in Shevlin Hall for the third time this year.

The decorations were in gold and white with monograms on the menus.

GOOD TEACHERS' COURSES.

The attention of students who expect to teach is again directed to the special courses in the College of Education in voice culture by Mr. Charles M. Holt, the fifth or sixth hours, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and also to the special work in public school music by Mrs. Kendall, the fifth and sixth hours on Thursday. All of these courses will be repeated the second semester.

Miss Catherine Quigley, who completes her work in the College of Education this semester, has accepted a position in the high school at Long Prairie, to begin next Monday, Jan. 17. Miss Harriet Nelson, '00, is teaching at Hancock, and Miss Hilda Nyström, '00, has recently accepted a position at Welcome.

MINNESOTA TRACK MEN ARE HARD HIT BY OLD HOODOO

Tydeman and Connelly forced Out of Training by Injuries—Hope to be Out Soon.

Western track men seem to be under the bane of an "evil eye," this year, the distance men seeming to suffer most. First the "hoodoo" appeared at Chicago, where Comstock, Chicago's crack miler, was determined by physicians to be unable to run the coming season, because of enlargement of his heart. Next, Indiana was the unfortunate institution, when Weybright, star distance man, succumbed to pneumonia last week.

Now the hard luck has determined to locate at Minnesota. "Long Jaw" Connelly, two miler and cross-country star is being troubled by his heart, and seems to think that unless he is exceedingly careful his running days will be over. Connelly, took second place in the two mile at the western conference meet last spring, the first big race in which he had ever been entered. He is probably the most consistent trainer and the hardest worker on the squad. Coach Grant was sure that he would take down the big money at Urbana in the spring.

Not only has Connelly been hard hit, but also "Slim" Tydeman, cross country champion of the University. Tydeman injured his ankle in the cross country at Chicago, November 20th, and since then he has been unable to train with the rest of the squad. Tydeman was initiated into the running game at Beloit College, Wisconsin, and has a wealth of experience on the track that perhaps no other man on the squad possesses.

Should the injuries to these men prove merely temporary, Minnesota will have next spring a pair of two-milers who should be without equals in the west.

UNDERCLASS COHORTS URGED TO ATTEND COMING DEBATE

Both Classes Placard Campus, But Signs Quickly Destroyed—Soph Council of War To-Day.

"Are you a loyal freshman? Come and help us beat the sophomores!" was the rousing appeal which appeared yesterday morning in all conspicuous places about the campus on big white posters advertising the freshmen-sophomore debate. But by chapel time scarce one white poster remained, for the zealous sophomores had made it their business to destroy all these evidences of freshman enthusiasm.

At noon bright yellow posters appeared urging all loyal sophomores to support their team in beating the freshmen and offering the inducement of free seats to sophomores. These however, flaunted their gay yellowness but a short time, for the wrathful freshmen mercilessly avenged the loss of their white posters earlier in the day and soon the sophomore posters were reduced to tiny yellow bits of paste-board.

The engagement of Claude Randall, '08 and Mabel Kay of St. Paul has been announced. The wedding will take place sometime in February.

For several weeks past, local newspapers have been full of articles sent out by Chicago and Ann Arbor scribes concerning the football relations of Chicago, Michigan and Minnesota for the coming year. One such report, purporting to come from Coach Stagg reads in part as follows:

Coach Stagg yesterday announced that he had made no attempts to get an understanding for a game with the Gophers. The coach has neglected his opportunity to sound Minnesota on a battle, and members of the faculty admitted that they were against such action until they decide on the standing of the Gophers at a special meeting of the board.

As a matter of fact, negotiations for a game have been on for some time between Minnesota and Chicago, but as the faculties have to pass the schedules, nothing has been made public. President Judson of Chicago has gone so far as to write here saying there is no truth in the newspaper accounts and professing great friendship for Minnesota.

Before Minnesota scheduled a game with Michigan, Wisconsin and Chicago were asked (as they held places on the Minnesota schedule) if they had any objections, provided the game was played under conference rules. Both universities refused to object to the game and a two year contract was made.

The objections now coming from Chicago have their origin in the fact that Michigan did not live up to her agreement to play under conference rules. Michigan has admitted that she broke her contract in three ways; viz., by playing at least two ineligible men—Miller and Watkins, and by keeping the training table.

In a circular letter written during the holidays, the Michigan authorities stated that Joy Miller was not eligible at the time he played in the Minnesota game, but stated that Watkins was eligible as the conference had passed a rule stating "that a six year man would not become ineligible by taking his first degree at the end of four years."

An investigation shows that this rule passed the board, but upon reference to the faculties was refused by Chicago and never re-passed by a two-thirds vote. Clearly then, Watkins was ineligible as he has one Michigan degree.

Charges have also arisen in Chicago that Smith has wrestled for money and thus become professionalized. The charge is made that Smith wrestled Frank Gotch in Iowa some time ago. Smith of course, denies the charge. Gotch is in this city today and an effort will be made to see him and ascertain if the statements credited to him by Chicago stories are true.

Minnesota has good cause to break the Michigan contract if she wishes, but does not intend to be forced. Such an action would at once force Michigan into the conference as the Ann Arbor treasury needs receipts from a big game. Minnesota is the only one to play as Wisconsin will not play Michigan, unless in the conference, and Michigan will not play Chicago because Chicago once broke a contract with the Wolverines. Two courses are open to Minnesota. The Gophers can break the Michigan contract, and force the Wolverines into the conference in order to play Wisconsin, and be content with two big games; or they can keep quiet for the present and let Chicago and Michigan talk themselves out.

Mucherism.

The speech of one man at a football mass meeting this fall aroused a sentiment that abolished muckerism at ensuing football games. It was a good movement. Now is the time to give it further impetus.

Basketball is the sport of the hour. Minnesota has a squad of hard working, brilliant athletes; better than that, they are gentlemen. The teams they play are composed of gentlemen, and the officials of the games are the same. The spectators owe courteous treatment to these men.

In the past this treatment has often been lacking. An unpopular decision or a seemingly rough play has been greeted with hisses. A sad commentary on the gentlemanly nature of the students! No good is accomplished by such evidence of disapproval.

A little well directed opposition to this hissing habit at the first games of this season will eradicate it. Illinois and Purdue play here Friday and Saturday. If any hissing is started at these games let the real Minnesota men in the crowd see that it is "cut out"—it will not crop up again.

DREAMLAND FREE FRIDAY

The New Amusement Place Will be Thrown Open to Students—Pennants for Souvenirs.

In the past few years many new amusement enterprises have been established in our city but it remained for the big dancing palace, which opened last month on 5th street, opposite the Court House, to introduce to us something decidedly novel. Dancing has ever been a popular pastime but under the system conducted by this new auditorium it will become decidedly more so.

The promoters have chosen the name of "Dreamland" and it might well be called "fairyland" with its myriad of colored lights, and its pretty oriental decorations. On a superb maple floor and to the time of Kelsey's famous orchestra-band it surely is a pleasure to whirl your partner in a dreamy waltz or a jolly two-step.

The management is desirous of having every student, whether he dances or not, see this beautiful dancing palace and on Friday night they will hold a special night for the University students, when they will present souvenir pennants to all who attend. Special electrical novelties will be introduced and many surprises are promised.

No admission is charged at Dreamland and dancing is held every evening, but on this coming Friday night every University student is requested to attend as a good time is in store for all.

 argued against subsidization as being too expensive, against public policy, and impractical. They substituted a plan of discriminating in favor of our own ships.
 The Castalians concentrated their argument on the three points given above. The Shakopeans, while having a mass of argument, did not have it properly organized.
 The judges were Professors Willis and Fletcher from the Law department, Professor Reef.
