Faculty Group Criticizes Graduate School Plan

A proposed reorganization of the Graduate school and research policies and practices of the University was criticized this week by the Advisory committee and certain chairmen of departments in the Arts college.

In their joint statement, the faculty members pointed out that they did not disagree with the present organizational difficulties of research or to the ends to be attained as indicated in the lengthy reorganization plan. The differences in views results from the means by which the suggested reorganization would be accomplished.

These "means" include the establishment of a "vice-president of research and graduate education,"

- Short Subjects

The newsreels will be shown from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and again from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. today in the Union ballroom.

Today's newsreels show latest films of the Nazi offensive, Western front film reports, the Allied air offensive and freed Russian girls welcoming the Yanks.

A five-minute recorded newscast by E. William Ziebarth, acting manager of WLB, will be played twice, after each showing of the newsreels.

"West Point," a "This is America" short subject, is a study of West Point, giving an account of life and customs at the military academy.

Popeye helps Olive move her furniture in the cartoon, "Moving A-Weigh."

The Popular Science short subject shows the latest equipment for locating metal fragments in wounded men, kitchen hints for the housewife and how flaws in railroad tracks are detected.

Admission to the newsreel program is 10 cents.

the appointment of two deans under the vice-president—a dean of research and a dean of graduate education—and an all-University research council, (of which all members of the graduate faculty and certain "chiefs of research units or projects are voting members.") In addition, the reorganization plan calls for two executive committees, one for the graduate faculty and one for the research council, and a Minnesota development center which will be concerned with "discovery, development and utilization in respect to all the resources of the state—the natural, the industrial, and the human—with the ultimate aim of increasing the opportunities and improving the lives of all the citizens of the state."

The reorganization plan was drawn up by a committee of 17 faculty men and women, appointed several months ago by President Walter C. Coffey. This plan was then sent to members of the graduate faculty for their suggestions and criticisms.

In criticizing the reorganization proposal, the 11-page report stated that "the proposed plan for reorganization endangers the unity of the University and tends to break existing lines of responsibility."

This is done by the creation of new offices which, in the opinion of the dissenting committee, would

- Divide the powers of the president,
- Permit the research council to act on University-wide matters without going through the Senate,
- Break the direct line of responsibility of the deans to the President,
- Put a double check on the appointment and promotion of faculty members by two different vice-presidents with conflicting interests.

Any plan of reorganization which is agreed upon should, it was asserted, deal only with essentials. "It should be brief and flexible, so that changes in it and additions to it can be made from time to time in accordance with experience. . . ."

Women's War Draft Endorsed by Nurses

The board of directors of the American Nurses association approved selective service for all women including drafting for military purposes, in a special meeting yesterday in New York, according to word received from Katherine J. Densford, director of the School of Nursing and president of the board.

In a special meeting Sunday, the board discussed the proposed bill to draft nurses now before the House of Representatives, endorsing the draft only as a preliminary step in the selective service of all women.

A second point approved by the board was the national registration for non-military service of all men and women of draft age.

Ruth Freeman, president of the Minnesota Nurses association, accompanied Miss Densford to the meeting.

Vet Spokesmen, U Administrators Discuss Tuition

Representatives of Minneapolis and St. Paul American Legion posts and University administrators met yesterday to discuss the dispute over charging non-resident tuition to resident veterans.

The discussion served to clarify the issues at stake and to promote mutual understanding between the American Legion, as spokesmen for World War II veterans, and members of the University administration, in defense of their stand on tuition charges.

Present at the meeting were James Bolin, of the Veterans Referral office in Minneapolis; Frank Howard, Frank Williams, Marion Juell and others of the American Legion; Vice President William T. Middlebrook, True E. Pettengill, acting director of admissions and records; Edmund G. Williamson, dean of students; and Leigh H. Harden, director of the University Bureau of Veterans' Affairs.

No plans were made for future meetings.

SWECC Plans New War Benefit Drives

War relief, Red Cross days, M-V day and war movies are the projects which have been designated by the Student War Effort Coordinating council for winter quarter.

Greek war relief sponsored by the WAA and Russian War relief sponsored by AWS are the projects for January.

In the Greek relief drive, a goal of 8,000 garments has been set by SWECC. This is approximately one garment from each person registered at the University and will include coats, shoes, sweaters and other clothing.

AWS will fill 200 boxes for Russian war relief. Half of the goal has been realized, Lyla Mae Anderson, Arts senior and president of SWECC, reports.

January 24, 25 and 26 have been set aside as Red Cross days. Tables will be set up in the Union and Folwell hall at which students may register for one of the courses sponsored by the American Red Cross which will be allocated to campus organizations. Both men and women students are needed.

Supervising the course in nutrition is Minnesota Foundation; home nursing; Inter-professional Sorority council; first aid, Union board and all-University council; blood donors, Panhellenic association; bandage rolling; AWS; knitting, YWCA.

On the Ag campus, all registration will be supervised by SWECC under the supervision of the Student council.

M-V day will be held February 20 with a program in Northrop Memorial auditorium. "Minnesota for Victory" will be the theme. There will be visiting celebrities, and a war movie will be shown. Throughout the quarter, the

U Regents Hit By Carle at YM-YW Meet

"The University has attained prominence because of its faculty and in spite of its administration," Norman Carle, business agent for Public Building Service Employees Union, local 113, AFL, said at a meeting of the public affairs group of the YMCA-YWCA yesterday.

Stating the union's position in the present controversy, Mr. Carle denounced the Regents. He compared the present situation of the Regents to the situation existing on the Supreme court when there were on it nine old men past an effective thinking age.

Recognition for the union was discussed by Mr. Carle as essential to the welfare of the worker. He explained that recognition of a bargaining agent would mean that the workers who have come together into an organization would have the power to deal with any other powerful organization.

A bill at present before the legislature was denounced by Mr. Carle because this bill would allow each person to bargain for himself or hire an attorney for his or her defense. By using a fictitious worker as an example Mr. Carle showed how it would be practically impossible for a person to get any satisfaction from the University in this fashion. "As individuals we haven't a chance," he said, "as a group we have many chances."

Almost everyone who tried to get satisfaction in this way had been rebuffed, Mr. Carle continued, but at least 69 cases had been processed through the union in which union members received consideration and settlement.

The low take-home pay of the workers was mentioned by Mr. Carle as needing settlement. In regard to Frank Gallagher's recommendation that wages should be increased a flat $15 for all employees, Mr. Carle further added that Mr. Gallagher had said this should be a base increase and from this rate the scale should go upward.

Clyde Lucas' Band Will Play for Snoball

Clyde Lucas' orchestra has been chosen to play for the Snoball February 3 in the Union ballroom. The Union board is establishing a precedent by holding a dance instead of sponsoring Snow Week.

Another precedent is that the Snow queen will be replaced by a student vocalist who will sing with Lucas' orchestra. All University organizations are asked to submit a candidate before auditions are held next Friday. Members of the dance committee will select the final winner February 2.

Dance tickets will sell in the Union today at an advanced sale price of $2 a couple. Door admission is $2.50 a couple. Both prices include tax.

Ag Campus Shows Amateur Rural Art

By Margaret Chant

Farmers from all over Minnesota have been sending in paintings, wood carvings and other works of artistic merit for the Ag campus Farm and Home Week, J. O. Christianson, director of agricultural short courses, said recently.

The best and most interesting works were selected for an exhibition and went on display yesterday in the Ag Administration building. Members of the committee which selected the show will be present to discuss the work with interested visitors.

While the State University has carried on extensive projects to develop our material resources, a program for the development of our vast cultural resources should also be given its proper hearing, Dr. Christianson believes.

"It is well known that there are artists at work in many different parts of the state, men and women of all classes of society who have paintings, wood carvings, pottery or metalwork they have done themselves, yet have never had a chance to exhibit them.

In Dr. Christianson's office there were paintings and carvings spread about the room, boxes and crates yet unopened and more on the way. "Over there," Dr. Christianson said, pointing to one corner of the office, "are four pictures painted by a farm woman from Stillwater. That painting of a mounted policeman was done by a soldier who used to live on a farm in Brainerd.

"And we have about five oil paintings from a woman who runs four farms in Norwood. "What is so amazing," Dr. Christianson continued, "is that with all the hard work farming requires, these men and women still find time to create something merely for their own pleasure and satisfaction."

Farm scenes, landscapes, flowers, portraits and modernistic painting make up the show. One woman commented on the back of her painting, "This is the scene I can see from my dining room window on our farm."

Hygiene Society To Air Vet Problems

The problems of the returning veteran will be discussed by Margaret Lefevre, executive secretary of the Minnesota Mental Hygiene society, at a dinner meeting at 6 p.m. today in the Union junior ballroom. Miss Lefevre's discussion will be a part of the annual report of the meeting of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

Local aspects of the veteran problem will be discussed after the report is presented. The meeting is sponsored by the Minnesota Mental Hygiene Society, Inc., and the Twin Cities chapter of the American Association of Social Workers.

will not easily fit into an already complex and going concern. Instead of creating a new vice-president, a new faculty organization to be called the Minnesota Research Council, and a new executive board, we believe it would be simpler, more understandable, and more effective, to utilize and to build upon the existing organization which includes a dean of the Graduate school, a graduate school faculty and an executive committee."

At the conclusion of the many criticisms made of the plan, the following recommendations are included:

● That further study be made, including one joint meeting with the Senate committee on education so that "plans for research organization for the general reorganization of the faculty may be harmonized,"

● That the plans for research organization and general faculty reorganization be presented to the Senate before any final action is taken, and

● That "no attempt be made to lay the proposed plans of reorganization before the Regents until President Morrill has taken office and has had an opportunity to consider the plans and to discuss them."

These criticisms and suggestions were sent to L. I. Smith, professor and head of the division of organic chemistry and chairman of the committee on organization.

The committee representing both the department chairmen and the Advisory committee of the Arts college include: Wilson Wallis, anthropology; W. J. Luyten, astronomy; Marbury Ogle, classics; J. W. Beach, English; Lawrence Schmeckebier, fine arts; Darrel H. Davis, geography; George Thiel, geology and mineralogy; F. F. Grout, geological survey; Oscar Burkhardt, German;

A. C. Krey, history; Ralph Casey, journalism; R. W. Brink, mathematics; Paul Oberg, music; George P. Conger, philosophy; J. W. Buchta, physics; William Anderson, political science; R. M. Elliott, psychology; F. B. Barton, romance languages; F. S. Chapin, sociology and social work; Frahk M. Rarig, speech; D. E. Minnich, zoology, and Russell M. Cooper, general studies.

Those on the advisory committee, which includes some chairmen of departments listed above, are Buchta, Alburey Castell, associate professor of philosophy; E. M. Kirkpatrick, associate professor of political science; Krey, Minnich, E. O. Monachesi, associate professor of sociology; Ralph O. Nafziger, professor of journalism, and Schmeckebier.

Twilight Dance Today

The V-12 band will play at the Twilight dance from 6 to 7:30 p.m. today in the Union ballroom. Dancing to records will begin at 4 p.m. Admission is 10 cents a person.

Greek Relief Clothing Drive Needs Stressed

Further appeals for more contributions of clothing to the Greek war relief drive was made yesterday by Lyla Mae Anderson, Arts senior and president of SWECC, after returns from the first day were recorded.

The campus goal is 8,000 garments. Coats, sweaters, mittens, sweat shirts and any garments made of warm materials are needed. The national drive quota is 20 million garments.

"Greece is literally in rags today," Miss Anderson said, "Statistics show that in certain parts of the country, exposure is now claiming more victims than starvation. Clothing for children especially is needed.

"Reports tell of the mountaineers of central and northern Greece who wander half-clothed and barefoot without homes or sufficient food. Clothing for 50,000 adults and 300,000 children already has been distributed, but the need is still great," she said.

Clothing shipments from the Greek War Relief association are sent through the Swedish-Swiss Relief commission which supervises the distribution and makes certain that only Greeks are helped.

Graduate Heads Anti-draft Group

Mary Muedeking, Graduate student, was elected temporary chairman of the Campus Committee for the Opposition of Peacetime Conscription at a meeting last night in the YMCA.

The constitution was approved by the group and will be presented to the Senate committee of student affairs today. The purpose, as stated in the constitution, is to provide an organ to represent anti-conscription views on campus.

Provision is also made for organized community opinion against conscription.

Phyllis Thayer, Arts sophomore and member of the steering committee, presided.

Basketball
 Joe Bishop came out for Minnesota basketball last quarter heralded as one of the best shots in local cage circles. But because of his long period of inactivity from the professional basketball ranks, which he once frequented, Bish has spent most of the time from fall quarter re-perfecting his shooting eyes, dulled by a stint in the service.

Last night saw the culmination of these weeks of practice as Joe came through with some superlative shotmaking.

His improvement together with the return of Curt McCamy from the sick list and the arrival of Minneapolis Central high school's all-city star, Jim Goodwin, shot Weston Mitchell's hopes for help in the forward department up a little higher.

Kleg Hermesen was one of the forwards, but with the absence of Joe Knoblauch after Saturday's Indiana tussle, it will be good to have a couple of more forwards on tap.

Phi Eps, Army PMGs Win I-M Thrillers

Academic fraternities and the independent league opened their cage seasons last night at Cooke hall with Phi Epsilon Pi edging Theta Chi, 24-23, on Mel Fishman's second-half 14 points, and the Army AST team clipping a short, hard-fighting, Japanese American Wesley Foundation squad, 21-14.

The Army PMGs slipped past the Bears in another independent league thriller, 20-19. Pete Vandover of the Bears was high point man of the evening, scoring 15 of his team's 19 points.

Duncan McRay of the Chateau House independent league tied Vandover for total points as he paced his team to a 44-29 victory over Delta Kappa Phi.

Slipstickers, the engineering team, soared over Alpha Phi Omega, 28-19, in the evening's first game. A later game scheduled between Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Alpha Mu went to the latter club on a forfeit.

Hockey
 Larry Armstrong's pucksters will meet the Bermans in absolutely top condition at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the Minneapolis Arena. Showing fast coordination and good teamwork in a practice session, the Golds, led by Bob Carley at center, beat the Maroons, 5-3.

After a short rest, Bob Graiziger is playing "better hockey than he has for four years," according to Coach Armstrong. He will be back in wing position for the coming game despite the battered knee gleaned from last Friday's workout.

Armstrong is optimistic about the approaching tangle with the professional Bermans, whom the Gophers have twice defeated.

The team literally skated rings around the Michigan players last Saturday and their speed has proved no flash in the pan item.

In the navy leagues, V-12 action saw Squad 16 trounce Squad 13, 43-21, as Kimpert dropped in 18 points to lead the victory.

Squad 8 tripped Squad 5, 29-27, and had Sherman to spark the scoring with 14.

Squad 5 in the NROTC league continued its win streak by annexing victory number four, whipping soundly Squad 8, 54-31. Bob Gordon was the margin of victory for the number Fives as he sank 22 points. Squad 1 and Squad 4 was cancelled.

Skiing to Stage Comeback

A revival in the Twin City snowfall this winter may bring back the old University ski club which was dropped two years ago when the weather man suddenly noted that Minneapolis and St. Paul weren't going to get their usual quota of snow.

An organizational of all skiers and potentials will be held at 3:30 p.m. today in 231 Union. W. R. Smith, intra-mural director, is in charge.

Proposal of the meeting was made to Smith last week, who already has listed a number of students interested in re-forming the club. Two of the leaders of the proposals are graduates of St. Paul Central high school, Ed Zaspel, Technology freshman, and Tom Harrington, Technology senior. Both are active in St. Paul skiing circles.

History of the club is rather short, but in 1941 and 1942 four men in the club gathered in some glory when they skied in and won the Central United States Intercollegiate Ski Unit championship. The '41 meet was held at the University of Wisconsin, while the meet the following year took place in Minneapolis. The teams, composed of four members each, received a gold engraved plaque for each of the two meets they won. These plaques now reside in Mr. Smith's office.

"No doubt these teams will be reorganized," said Smith yesterday, "if the club can get back into swing again."

The 1941 team had such illustrious members on it as Bill South, Harry Neils, Ken Hancock and Gale Burton. South and Hancock paced the team to the CUSISU title again in 1942. More recent to the memory may be Buzz Bainbridge and Chuck Lindstrom, who were the two others forming the four-some of the 1942 squad.

The club was not all male, however, for several coeds were among those who joined and competed in several city women's skiing tournaments.

"Although there are many men left on campus who are interested in joining such a club," said Smith, "it may be up to the coeds to form the backbone of the club. Servicemen may also join."

In the famed Xochimilco gardens of Mexico, the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coca-Cola is an old established custom. Across the border, as in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for a refreshing interlude, a symbol of good will wherever it is served.
