"OLD MAIDS" UNDESIRABLE TEACHERS FOR YOUNG WOMEN

So Says President Hamilton of Tufts
—Do Not Create Proper
"Atmosphere."

President Frederick W. Hamilton of Tufts College has said that unmarried women teachers should not teach college girls because their influence is harmful.

"I do not believe that young girls who are just passing into young womanhood are in the proper environment if they are continually brought into close personal touch with elderly unmarried women. The larger proportion of women's colleges are in the hands of women teachers, however, and the educational atmosphere of the place is feminine, the peculiar type of femininity developed by highly cultured, middle-aged, unmarried women. Now, while this type may be very fine individually, it is not the proper one to create the atmosphere for the girls at the formative period of their lives. In the lower grades of the schools, too, and in the preparatory schools their influence is counteracted by the influence of the home. All elements that tend to narrow our college girls should be eliminated."

Y. W. C. A.'s HIKE

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock Ruth Hanson took the girls who signed up for the walking trip, along the river road to the government dam. All reported an enjoyable time.

The leaders for the remainder of the week are: Wednesday, 2:30, Lillian Sevaston; Thursday, 3:00, Dorothy Mason; Friday, 1:30, Ruth Newman; Saturday, 2:30, Rosalie Zeien.

The girls who sign up may decide on the length of the walks, but later it is hoped that the walk on Saturday may be a long one. The girls will meet in Shevlin for the walk. Next week different leaders will be chosen.

SWIMMING POPULAR WITH CO-EDS.

Forty-two girls used the swimming tank yesterday. Two weeks ago twenty-eight girls used the pool and there were thirty-seven girls there last week. Miss Butner says that if the girls want to have the tank two days a week, they will have to increase the number to one hundred and fifty, for on an average that many men use the tank every day.

CONCERT IN SHEVLIN.

Next Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock the Sutherland-Murphy concert will be given in Shevlin Hall. Miss Pearl Sutherland and Miss Gertrude Murphy, both University girls, will play several original compositions for two pianos. Besides these Miss Sutherland and Miss Murphy will each play several works of different composers. Miss Connie Frank, soprano, will assist by singing four songs. An invitation to be present is extended to all the faculty and others interested in the two pianists and their work.

Ruth Fagundus is spending Tuesday and Wednesday at home.

BURTON POPULAR LECTURER

Head of English Department in Great Demand—Has Given Several This Year.

In addition to his University and literary work, Dr. Richard Burton has been very actively engaged in lecturing in the neighboring states.

Among the lectures he has already given this fall are two before the Des Moines, Iowa, Women's clubs on "The Bible as Literature." Last Thursday he addressed a joint convention of the Iowa Librarians' association and the Illinois Librarians' association at Davenport, Iowa, on the "Modern Novel." Next Saturday he will give his lecture "The Bible as Literature" before the state convention of the Wisconsin Y. W. C. A. at Racine. On Nov. 5 Dr. Burton will lecture before the convention of Iowa teachers on "Mark Twain."

According to Dr. Burton, the public is becoming more and more interested in the Bible, especially the literary side of the Bible.

UNCLE SAM TYPE DISAPPEARS

Jenks Discovers New Physiognomy Worn by Sons and Daughters of the Revolution.

Dr. Jenks in his ethnic census of Minneapolis will make a special study of the new American type. He says that a new face of certain characteristics is coming upon Americans who have lived in this country for several generations. Early in our history the Uncle Sam type was predominant; now he is found only in the small villages and country, away from the influences of the city. In connection with this study for the new American type, a study of the ethnic characteristics will also be made.

GEOLOGISTS TO TRAVEL.

Under the management and direction of the geology department an excursion will be made to Taylor Falls next Saturday for the purpose of studying the various geological features there. Incidentally the power possibilities of the St. Croix Falls will be considered. Details of the excursion have not yet been decided upon, but the party will start from the Union Depot at 8:10 Saturday morning on the Northern Pacific. Five hours will be spent at the falls.

The trip is primarily intended for classes in geology, but Dr. Hall and Professor Grant, who have charge of the plans, invite everybody who is interested to join the company and request that all those wishing to go should communicate with them. More definite plans will be announced later.

MUSICAL FEDERATION ELECTION.

Members of the different college musical organizations will meet in room 2 Folwell Wednesday at Chapel time for the purpose of electing officers. See that your organization is well represented.

The University of Pennsylvania boasts of a thriving Aero club.

VISITOR FORCEFULLY EJECTED

Psychology Instructor Rids His Class-Room of Unregistered "Student."

Our professors of psychology object to having unregistered students in their classes, hence unfortunate interlopers are ejected by force. Yesterday a white, woolly poodle wandered into the psychology recitation room and expressed every indication of a desire to remain. When the instructor entered there was a sudden intensity apparent in the atmosphere. A stern glance was directed at the arrival who vouchsafed no explanation except a timid, expostulating yelp. Then the professor strode manfully down the aisle, seized the frightened visitor by the scruff of the neck and ejected him into the passage-way.

This treatment, however, did not discourage another applicant in the hall who darted nimbly into the room only to be served in like manner as soon as he was captured. Yea, verily the way of the transgressors is hard!

READING FOR GIRLS EXTENDED

Mrs. Ladd Decides to Add Another Hour so More Can Attend.

Mrs. Ladd will read at 3 o'clock both on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons instead of only on Thursday afternoon as formerly. "I find that so many girls who are interested are unable to come on account of having classes on Thursday afternoon, so, upon request, I have decided to give them the benefit of the reading on Wednesday."

Mrs. Ladd wishes all girls who are interested to come and bring their sewing.

UNIVERSITY GREEK CLUB TO STUDY ANCIENT DRAMA

Monday evening the Greek club met in Shevlin. A short program was given. Anne Kramer played a selection on the piano, after which Mrs. Frelander gave an interesting account of her trip through Greece. A letter from Miss Brooks, daughter of Professor Brooks, in reply to a letter sent last spring to Mrs. and Miss Brooks, was read. A business meeting followed this program and Donald Durham was elected sergeant-at-arms. He was elected in place of Guy Memfeep, who was appointed to the position last spring but is absent from school this year.

The program for this year takes up Greek Drama and the different members are to write papers. They will have lantern slides at different meetings illustrating the archeology of Greek art.

LIMIT SET FOR REFUNDS.

Accountant Bren states that Oct. 18 is the last day on which refunds for unused students' season tickets will be made. So far about 1,600 season tickets have been sold. Mr. Bren says that a much larger number ought to have been sold, especially for the Wisconsin game.

NEW MEMORIAL HOSPITAL NOW NEARING COMPLETION

Work on First Building of Greater Campus Progressing Rapidly.

The Elliott Memorial Hospital, although its construction was hampered by the recent action of the regents in regard to the funds, is rapidly nearing completion. The plans for the building had to be reconstructed, as the cost first submitted was larger than the Elliott subscription. The work is now progressing smoothly and the men at the head are delighted with its progress. C. E. Ekman, C. E. '10, is superintending the building of the hospital and speaks very favorably of the hospital and its location. "The location is the best in the city, and as for the building, it is to be one of the most modern hospitals in the country. From now on I expect the work to run along more smoothly and we will probably have the building ready for occupation by February or March."

All the wards of the hospital are to face the river, thus getting the clean, cool breeze that is necessary. There are five stories facing the river, while on the north side the ground is level with the third floor. The entrance is on the north side and is to connect with a large reception room. The offices of the doctors and superintendent of the nurses are on the third floor while the nurses' quarters are on the second floor facing the river. The children's ward is on the fifth floor together with the operating room.

The operating room is to have a two-floor height in order to afford plenty of light from the skylights. The arrangement of the halls and wards is radically different from that of other hospitals, but is considered excellent by authorities. There are solaria or sun rooms for the benefit of the patients at each end of the building, on the first two floors, while two very large balconies are on the fourth floor. These balconies afford fine views of the University campus and the river and are to be fitted out for the benefit of visitors. The heating system is to be of the best and much work is being put on it to make it a success.

The building itself is of a modern style with many costly architectural finishings both outside and inside. The ground slopes down toward the river and this will be one of the beauty spots of the greater campus. Should the high dam be built, forming the much-talked-of lagoon with its boat houses and canoes, the hospital will form a most beautiful background at the top of the hill.

STUDENTS ON WAR-PATH

Editor Ernest E. Roche of "The Spectator" the Columbia daily, is keeping away from his classmates who are seeking him. Before the flag rush that was held last week Roche announced that all cuts made to attend the rush would be excused by virtue of an agreement the student board of representatives was supposed to have made with the faculty. The freshmen and sophomores, of course, cut their classes. The faculty informed every student who had cut that a black mark had been recorded against him.

Last year an organization known as the Students' Council came into being. Although it has hardly been in existence for a year it has reached a crisis and will ultimately end in failure or Point. deserved success. The council, recently described by a member, "is an organization elected by the academic students to crystallize undergraduate opinion and direct undergraduate action. It is an organization whose purpose is to carry out the will of the students."

No one will doubt that the existence of the council is due to the efforts of the students themselves. Its constitution was drawn up by students and ratified by them, which constitution gives the council power to exercise a wholesome supervision over student affairs. Precedents for the council, however, are scarce because of its short existence. Therefore their actions are oftentimes experiments, but nevertheless should be met with a hearty encouragement on the part of the student body which is the real creator of the entire movement.

Says an authority of a similar institution in another college, "College spirit is set down as a basis of all development. It is defined as unselfish service to our alma mater, the doing of everything in our power to advance her welfare, and the leaving undone all those things, however innocent in and of themselves, that would mar her good name. Out of experience there has come a definite judgment that measures contemplated actions by their probable effect for good or for ill on the University. This individual judgment crystallized now by tradition and precedent is the rock upon which the foundation rests."

"The foundation itself is public opinion,—effective public opinion as in the case of any government in which large numbers have a share. It is an expression, an exemplification of student self-control. The individual judgments are units caught up and bound tightly together, forming one standard for the whole student body."

Thus do we have a Student Council, the members of which having accepted the responsibility offered them by the students, assume control of matters put within their jurisdiction by the constitution, and by judicious advice and timely warnings, strive to direct affairs in the path they should take. The one thing lacking, however, is power to enforce. That must come through the students. If they refuse to help out this, a creature of their powers, by supplying its needs, they doom it to an early death. Such an occurrence would hardly fall short of being criminal.

The present council may have its defects. It may be deemed by many to have a personnel that is not fairly representative of the student body, and such statements would not be without some foundation. But whatever the minor faults may be the existence of the Students Council is in a critical stage. It must have support, and that support must consist of student enforcement of council requests.

We would urge upon the council a judicial and careful consideration of all its moves. If the actions of the council are ill timed it will soon be noted and the error corrected. In other cases there must be infallible support by the students.

A COMMUNICATION.

To the Daily.

As a member of the Y. M. C. A. Bible study committee, I wish to call attention to Rev. Clement G. Clark's work in "Religious Truths in Biblical Setting," this course having been especially referred to me for promotion.

The work to be done is of University scope and calibre. Short lectures are to be presented and followed by general discussion. Mr. Clarke's experience in teaching Minnesota men in the past has led him to outline a course touching upon the fundamental truths of religion with such a means of approach to these truths that the progressive, scientific mind can honestly come at them.

The individual standpoint of each and every member of the class is at all times to be kept in mind and used as a means of broadening the discussion. Those who are more concerned in finding a satisfactory point of view and means of approach to religion than in formulating a set creed will find Mr. Clarke's class peculiarly helpful. Those who heard Mr. Cope of the Religious Educational association when here a short time ago will realize that this is the important end and aim of religious study for the growing University man.

The regular hour of meeting is 5 o'clock on Monday.

Epsilon Phi will elect officers Friday at 1:15 in Literary society rooms.

A COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor.

The recent editorial in the Daily advocating a student's ticket, entitling the holder to all University contests, is a step in the right direction and should be followed by others along the same line.

While attendance at athletic contests is not the only thing that stands for college spirit, a good enthusiastic student support in every university activity is desirable.

Make the price so reasonable that no student can complain about that feature of the scheme. Without student support no activity here can be a real success. Anything that will bring the students closer together and intensify an honest Minnesota spirit cannot be too strongly advocated.

Now that the idea for an all-year ticket is under way, let us keep up the agitation and see if the student body will not gladly take it up.

RAIN DRIVES TEAM IN-DOORS FALL TRACK-MEET SATURDAY

However, Coaches Put Men Through Hard Work-Out in Preparation for Chicago.

Rain drove Dr. Williams' squad into the Armory in the middle of last night's practice. Before the rain fell, however, the team had been put through an hour of hard signal practice.

The Gopher coach sprung a bunch of new plays on Nebraska and time was spent in perfecting these plays and planning others. The team is working hard for they realize that it will take their very best efforts to defeat Chicago two weeks hence. Every man seems to have more life than ever and gets into the plays with lots of snap.

The freshmen, as usual, were given a hard work-out and scrimmage. This squad has shown excellent football at times considering the fact that the men are taken on and off the regular team and shifted into new positions every few days.

Chicago is wide awake to the fact that they will have to put up a strenuous article of football to defeat the Gophers and are wasting no time. The game last Saturday did not show up the real strength of the Maroons. Illinois has been laying for Chicago for some time and at last have brought victory to their school. The team they advanced was a fully developed one while Stagg's is just being worked into form.

Stagg has a good bunch of green material that have not been fully developed, but those who know the Stagg of previous years say that he will whip them into championship form during the two coming weeks. Chicago as a whole is anxious to take the starch out of the Minnesota team and it will be a battle royal.

SPORT COMMENT.

Just one month from today Minnesota will be represented in the western inter-collegiate cross-country run to be held at Chicago, by a team of five men.

Last year was the first time that we sent a team and they were good enough to take the blue ribbon. This year's team will be expected to make an equally good showing. Success in this branch of sport can only be attained by hard and consistent work and unless those who expect to make the team get busy in a hurry Minnesota will have lost before the race begins.

Last year all the men turned out at 4 or 5 o'clock in the afternoon and a spirit of good fellowship was an incentive to work. This year the men have been going out at all times of the day with the result that there has been very little co-operation and hence a failure of the men to get into condition.

There are surely three and possibly four members of last year's team who are not out this year. This means a great number of chances to make a place and secure an "M."

Thursday at 5:15 the candidates for the team will have a light try-out in the form of a hare and hound chase. This will not be a hard race and everybody is eligible. It is expected that all the men will get together and help make this first run a success.

The junior chemists have elected the following officers: President, Ralph W. Mitchell; vice president, John R. McLeod; secretary, Miss Carolyn Curtis; treasurer, George H. Schmidt; sergeant-at-arms, Guy C. Parkin.

Coach Dick Grant Inaugurates a New Plan to Get Track Men Out.

Saturday afternoon the first annual fall track meet will be run off on Northrop Field. This meet is something new and promises to become an important annual event at Minnesota. The program will consist of all the events on the regular inter-collegiate program and will bring out some good competition. The meet is intended especially for the freshmen and they are urged to get out regardless of what experience they may have had.

This will give Grant a chance to get his eye on the men he expects to get next spring and will help him to determine along what line each man should specialize. Every man in college is eligible to compete and a large list of entries is expected.

The meet will be free, and in connection with it the scores of the various football games that are to be played on that day will be announced.

Plans for the construction of a permanent $20,000 running track are being completed at the University of California.
