MEMBERS OF ACTIVATED AIR GUARD CAN FINISH WINTER QUARTER EARLY

Canteen Opening Delayed; Council Lists Regulations

The Canteen opening was delayed until the representatives of the class of 1950 could complete final arrangements for the purchase of the juke box.

The tentative opening date is now set for Tuesday.

This Canteen will provide on-campus recreation facilities for the students at a minimum of expense. The use of Washburn for evening recreation will help to make the campus more a part of the student's social life.

The Student Council Committee has drawn up the following regulations to govern the operation of the canteen:

1. No gambling of any type.
2. No alcoholic beverages permitted in the building.
3. No one will be permitted on the second and third floors.
4. Washburn day rules will apply to evenings.
5. Profanity will not be tolerated.
6. Use of the kitchen facilities must be cleared through Mrs. McClearn.
7. Equipment must be returned to supervisors after use.

OPEN HOUSE WEEK PLANS FORMULATED

Plans are now underway for the UMD Open House week. This event, under the direction of the Student Council School Spirit committee, headed by Dolores Campbell, will take place Feb. 5 through 8.

All organizations recognized by the administration and student council are urged to join in this activity. Entry forms have been distributed to the secretary or president of each club and must be returned to P. O. Box 429 not later than Tuesday noon.

An all-school student talent convo will kick-off the affair at 7:00 p. m. Monday, Feb. 5.

Pierce Announces Organization Of Alpha Phi Omega Frat Here

UMD students will have the opportunity to become a vital part of a great national organization of college men called Alpha Phi Omega. A meeting will be held on Tuesday, at 4 p. m., in Room 216.

The Alpha Phi Omega is a service fraternity, and has a definite program of activities in which the pledges and members direct their energies for the benefit of their fellowmen.

The purpose of the Alpha Phi Omega is "to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop friendship and to promote service to humanity." The program embodies four fields of activity. They are: service to the student body and faculty, service to youth and community, service to members of the fraternity, service to the nation as participating citizens.

Being a service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega crosses all lines of honorary, social and professional fraternities, and thus members of other campus organizations may also be active in this fraternity.

There are two fundamental requirements for active membership in Alpha Phi Omega: First, that the student has had previous experience in the Boy

LSA Group to Sponsor Sunday Evening Meeting

LSA is sponsoring a city-wide evening service Sunday at 8 p. m. in the New First Lutheran church. The guest speaker will be Rev. Paido Tua Sarumpaet, president of the Batak church in Sumatra, Indonesia. The Bataks are a native tribe among whom Christianity has had an unusual growth.

Sarumpaet has been in this country for the past year studying at Luther Seminary. His visa has been extended for three months so that he can make a speaking tour of the country.

The offering taken at the service will go to help pay the speaker's traveling expenses and to further LSA work among students in other countries. All UMD students are invited to attend the service.

Scouts; and second, that he prove an earnest desire to render service to others. The first of these is a prerequisite and the second may be attained during the pledgship period.

"All university men meeting these requirements, and any member of the faculty interested in advising and playing a role in developing this new UMD fraternity are cordially invited to attend this meeting," according to Mr. Robert Pierce, faculty member, and life-time member of the national organization."

ATTEND THE
PEP-CONVO
NEXT TUESDAY

About 50 UMD students are members of the 179th Fighter Squadron and other supporting units of the Minnesota Air National Guard located in Duluth which will be activated on March 1.

Acting Provost John King announced that arrangements are being made for students in the guard to complete the winter quarter for academic credit as of March 1. King attended the meeting of the Administrative Committee in Minneapolis last Tuesday and expressed his satisfaction with the plan. The Administrative Committee of the Duluth Branch and the department heads have already expressed their intention of supporting this plan.

As approved by the senate by Vice President Willey's recommendation the plan calls for an accelerated individual study program on the part of each member of the Air Guard under the direction of his individual class instructor, with the approval of the department head and division chairman.

CAFETERIA WILL HAVE MEAL TICKETS ON SALE

According to Business Manager Earl Hobe, Cafeteria meal tickets will probably go on sale Feb. 5. Because of a busy printing schedule, it may be a few days later.

Meal tickets will be available to students, faculty and staff. $10 tickets will be sold for $9.50 and $20 tickets for $18.50. They will be sold by the Cafeteria cashier. It will be appreciated if meal ticket buyers will make their purchases during the noon hour, since the cashier will have change on hand then.

There will be no refund on meal tickets. The University will not be responsible for lost tickets.

Meal tickets will be able to be used in the cafeteria all day, including the coffee hours. They will not be good at the Coffee Bar in Washburn.

Along with the change to a system of meal tickets, a change in connection with dormitory resident contracts is being considered. Any revision will be announced next week.

Hayes Completes Final Casting As Rehearsals For 'Faustus' Begin

"Is this the face that launched a thousand ships?" Christopher Marlowe wasn't thinking of Henry J. Kaiser when he penned that mighty line. He had Helen of Troy in mind, that beautiful lady who turns the head of Dr. Faustus in the University theatre's forthcoming production.

Making Marlowe's iambic pentameters roll trippingly off the tongue, is only one of many problems facing the UMD thespian group as the opening night of "Dr. Faustus" approaches.

Construction of the simple but striking set keeps things humming in the scene shop, and the full and effective utilization of the auditorium's newly expanded facilities is a challenge to the lighting technicians' art. Plans for extensive use of music and modern dance groups are now being formulated.

Final casting of the play, now in its second week of rehearsal, was announced Monday. Phillip Smith will enact the title role of John Faustus, and Herbert Taylor will portray his nemesis, Mephistophilis, agent of Satan.

The Chorus speeches will be delivered by James Pomroy, and Robert Nelson will play the Old Man, who attempts to save Faustus from the wiles of the devil.

The parts of the Good and Evil Angels will be taken by Beverly Anderson and Kay MacDonnell, respectively.

Lawrence LaFave will portray His Holiness the Pope, seconded by Paul A. Johnson as the Cardinal of Lorraine. The roles of Scholars and Friars will be taken by Jack MacNaughton, Harvey Winthrop, and Nickerson Bailey.

The six comedy roles in the play are distributed, as follows: Wagner, James Meckola; Robin, Russell Tornio; Clown, Frederick Lord; Rafe, Bernard Dinner; the Vintner, Floyd Bergman; and the horse-courser, Raymond Helgemoe.

Short Story Contest Announced Winners to Get Book Prizes

Encouragement in the form of a number of valuable book prizes is being offered to budding writers on this campus. The books will be awarded to the winners of a short story contest which opens today and closes on Friday, March 2.

In addition, all manuscripts submitted will be considered for publication in the forthcoming UMD Literary Magazine, according to an announcement made this week by its editor, Herbert Taylor.

Taylor will act as student representative on the judging committee, which includes Dr. William Rosenthal and Mr. Albert Tezla. Participation is open to students in all divisions, and manuscripts should be placed in P. O. box 807.

The first prize will include the following: two outstanding modern novels, a volume of short stories, the American College Dictionary, and Fowler's Dictionary of Modern English usage.

Second prize will include a modern novel, a volume of short stories, and a thesaurus. A novel and a volume of short stories will be offered as third prize.

In addition to the contest, possible publication in the magazine is offered as incentive for the submission of poems, essays, and humorous sketches, all of which are needed. The present plan is to print the magazine in quantities sufficient for free distribution to all students and faculty members.

No Television Yet... But... Radio "Hams" Are On The Beam

"Station WOTMN, UMD calling Station VE3YZ in Canada," will be a familiar ring with active members of the UMD Amateur Radio club in the next few weeks. The club, which has made amazing progress since its organization in the summer session of 1950, has achieved its two major functions. First, a station has been installed, and members are now in contact with other stations. Secondly, several members have been able to prepare themselves for the Federal Communications exam and will soon receive their amateur licenses as a result of club discussions, and assisting in setting up the equipment.

The station has a 10 meter transmitter which allows low power to work long distances. The Amateur Radio "Hams" point out they like to work with what they call "DX"—that is, making long distance contacts from Duluth to the far corners of the world, because that enables them to test the accuracy of their designs "Rigs"—or equipment to the layman.

What do Amateur Radio "Hams" talk about? Generally, they discuss their transmitting equipment, type of tubes, power supply and their success with DX—the distance they have worked. Often many cups of java are consumed, and cigarette butts fill ash trays, as the operators talk into the wee hours of the morning.

Membership in the UMD Club now extends to 10 members, but the club will be hard hit by the departure of two members for the service. The club meets every Friday afternoon.

This is not a social club, even though there is a lot of gabbing about their YL's and XYL's (girl friends and ex-wives). When an operator goes down to the corner store for a "bottle," he comes back with a radio tube.

It has been a long and arduous task to acquire the important transmitting and receiving equipment. However, the club members will appreciate any old radios that anyone may have stored in their attic, as they can salvage 10 to 15 useful parts from such old equipment.

Two members of UMD Amateur Radio Club set up Aerial for "Rig" equipment, completing six months of hard work.

ON ADS, PADS, AND CADS!

By DICK HEIM

You know the way they advertise anything and everything for the base passion of that "green stuff." If your knee-caps don't have personality, you can buy paste on pads in pastel shades that smile when someone kicks you in the shins.

In this month's issue of "Whoosh" I ran across an ad for elongated ear-lobe sufferers—"Use Dr. Ardvark's ear-lobe shrinker and stop being a social misfit," it read. There was a testimonial from a zealous user, Mr. A. H. from Oliver, Wisconsin, who couldn't control his vehemence and had to write in—"Before I found Dr. Ardvark's god-sent formula kids used to leap on my shoulders, sit on my head, and use my ear-lobes as stirrups. After one application of Dr. Ardvark's formula, my ear-lobes shrank into nothing with only one kickback—I now have three uvulas. But gad, it was worth it. I was getting saddle sores of the scalp."

Recently some of these truths have been looked upon with indifference, and in some of the more dogmatic cases even disbelief has been detected. I was foolish enough to question the validity of claims set forth by the Phillip Morris cigarette advertisers, and to satiate my curiosity, I decided to try the "puff-test" on an unbiased smoker.

My first chance to try this veracious, equitable, impartial, reputable test came just yesterday. As I passed Walgreen's Drug store, I stumbled over a little old lady who was lying on the sidewalk. She had the death rattles, and she was dying of cancer of the lungs. I knelt over her shriveled form and asked her if she would mind making a simple test. "I guess not," she gasped. So I thrust a Phillip Morris into her dying mouth. The acrid smoke curled gracefully from her nose, when, for reasons known only to members of the Medical Profession, she bounded vivaciously to her feet and ran the entire length of the block, via the tops of parked cars. And from her now phlegm-free lungs a robust chorus of "Shortnin' Bread" drifted forth.

'YOUR CAREER' SERIES—NO. 5

TELEVISION - A Lucrative Career

Television is no longer around the corner. It's here, and so are mushrooming technical opportunities in this exciting new field for those qualified, according to Ed Cunningham and Leonard Reed, in their booklet, "Your Career," published by Simon and Schuster. If you have mechanical, mathematical and scientific aptitude, plus a special interest in electricity, radio-TV is your meat.

Your Outlook

VITAL STATISTICS: In 1948, there were approximately 6,500 radio engineers employed by seven networks and 800-odd independent stations. An additional 19,000 worked for manufacturers and government agencies. As of January, 1949, there were 700 FM stations in operation compared to 128 in July, 1948. There were 57 TV stations compared to only seven in July, 1948.

THE FUTURE: In early 1949, 63 new television stations and 264 FM stations were licensed for construction; over 300 TV applications were pending. Rapidly growing video requirements draw on radio personnel, causing shortage in both fields. Complexity of television operation requires nine times as many engineers as equivalent sound broadcast.

REGIONALLY: Best current prospects for broadcast work are in East Coast states, Midwest states bordering the Great Lakes, and Los Angeles.

You Need

EDUCATION: B. S. degree in electrical engineering, with emphasis on communications.

LICENSING: FCC first-class radio-telephone license highly desirable; qualifies holder for greater variety of assignments.

You Do

Design, install, operate, and maintain all types of radio equipment for broadcasting, communications, navigation and detection. In manufacturing, the radio engineer does research and development work. In broadcasting, he supervises operations at point of transmission; controls, fades, and mixes electrical signals from various microphones to produce desired effect. Regulates program traffic by sending programs in and out according to schedule.

Checks performance of circuits for transmission of signal from studio to transmitter and networks. Television engineer has additional problems of picture transmission, operation of lighting, camera supervision.

You Get

SALARY PROGRESSION: Salaries generally governed by union contract, vary in different locales. Radio engineer: apprentice, $165-$225 per month; operations engineer, $250 up to $525; master control engineer, $570; station engineer, $625. In television, student engineer, $200 per month up to $225 in six months; operations engineer, $250-$525; video control engineer, $270-$548; technical director, $600. In manufacturing work, salaries start at $250 per month.

ADVANTAGES: Opportunities of an expanding field; mentally stimulating work.

DISADVANTAGES: Extremely irregular hours; often work under pressure.

(Next week's feature will cover the field of petroleum geology.)

TIME FOR ACTION—NOT WORDS

A Definite Stand at Last

Does the United States proposal to the United Nations to declare Red China an aggressor in Korea indicate that our leaders have at long last decided to take a firm stand?

We hope so. It is time that the United States stop being the world's doormat and stand up for its rights. There is no reason for our country to fight the battles of the world alone. To fight the battles if necessary, yes, but not alone. Except for token forces, we are fighting alone in Korea.

In the Korean situation we have the right to make two demands. First, that Red China be declared an aggressor in Korea, and second that the United Nations forces receive substantial reinforcements from other countries. If this is supposed to be a United Nations army, let's make it one. Many Americans are protesting legitimately over the number of GI's being sent to Korea.

We have made the first demand—we should now make the second. If we do not get immediate response, we should get out of Korea. Our country is not obligated to save face for the United Nations IF it does not receive proper support from the United Nations.

We can't, it seems obvious, win a Korean victory without receiving action on these two points. If we can't win, there is no use in needlessly throwing American lives away.

Things have come to the point where we must say "either or else" and mean it. The United States could take a lesson from Russia on being firm, rather than apologetic and weak. If we are one of the two great nations of the world, let's act as if we were.

We should be the leader, as well as the benefactor of our half of the world. Often benefactors find that they are giving everything and getting nothing in return, not even peace.

LAKE SUCCESS—OR WASHBURN—Believe it or not but janitors do clean the place. If you're here at 8 a. m., the place is clean. By 10 a. m., however, the UMD amateur politicians have left the arrangements of chairs, etc., in a nice mess. Reminds one of a finished United Nations meeting—everything in disorder and nothing accomplished.

Mr. Hayes would be proud to know that Helgemoe and LaFave are really trying to get a part in the play. Heaven knows they disturb the peace on the third floor in Washburn by practicing their lines out loud. Not getting a leading role, they remarked, "The Devil with Faustus."

One good point of the "Draft Lecture" on Tuesday and Thursday was that some of the eligible draftees found it more worthwhile than some of their class lectures. Or did they?

GUARDMEN'S LAMENT

A group of sorrowful airmen we,
We must bid farewell to UMD;
A half a hundred men, in all
Have felt the blow, our country's call.

We moan, we cry, shed bitter tears,
We tremble and shake, we're full of fears.
We hope, we pray,—Alas! we are not free.
If only we had joined R. O. T. C.

Our happy voices no more fill Washburn,
We go to the Wars, and we may not return.
But we will not moan, we will not cry,
When our country calls, we'll go forth to die.

Oh! God! What am I saying! I'm crazy, I'm mad,
It's from moping over all the misfortunes I've had.
I'm quaking, I'm shaking, I'm full of remorse—
Oh, no! Oh! My God! I'm in the Air Force!

Feature Motion Pics Scheduled for Convos

On Feb. 1, a new program of movies will be inaugurated with the showing of a feature film at 12:00. Its exact title will be announced in the next issue of the STATESMAN. Besides the feature film to be shown on Feb. 1 are the following:

FEB. 8—A program devoted to the motion picture industry with a presentation of scenes of famous movies and actors and old-time comedies.

FEB. 15—A music and art program.

MAR. 1—Either a drama program or a feature film.

MAR. 8—A current events film.

The specific titles of the films will always be listed a week before in order to provide as accurate information as possible before showing the film.

These film showings are a part of the regular convocation programs. They will be presented at the regular time and will run between one hour and 30 minutes to two hours. The longer programs enable students to come in during their leisure time and still see enough of the movie to be worth while.

ROTC Instructor Is ROTC Graduate

"CARNIVAL IN FLANDERS" TO INTEREST LINGUISTS

The modern languages department and department of convocations and lectures is initiating a series of foreign films, first of which is a classic French comedy entitled, "Carnival in Flanders," to be shown in the auditorium, Tuesday, at 8:15 p. m.

The purpose of this program

Winter Enrollment Figures Released

A total of 1,476 students are enrolled in UMD this quarter. Of this number, 355 are veterans. Men outnumber women 2.01 to 1.00. There are 431 freshmen, 342 sophomores, 289 juniors and 363 seniors.

The number of students dropping between the fall and winter quarter was one of the lowest during the years that this University has been a branch of the University of Minnesota.

LIBRARY SECTION WILL BE MEMORIAL

As a lasting memory of the late Dr. Pieper plans are being carried out to erect a portion of the school library in his name. Books are to be chosen from the types ordinarily selected by him as the best reading material.

A series of interesting movies of historical interest will be shown throughout the year to assure funds for the project. "13 Rue Madeline," the second of the series, appears Feb. 7. Starring Madeline Carroll, this picture of the French underground reveals tactics of espionage during World War II.

is not only to stimulate the interest of language students in their language study, but also to promote interest among other students.

"Carnival in Flanders" is the story of the invasion of a Medieval Flemish town by the Spanish army during the 16th century. Mme. Francoise Rosay, distinguished French actress, currently appearing in "September Affair" with Joseph Cotten and Joan Fontaine (see Look's issue of Jan. 30, 1951), plays the world famed role of the town mayor's shrewd wife who routs the invaders almost singlehandedly.

The film is in the French language, with sub-titles in English.

Hansen Is Elected Ranger President

Election of club officers for the winter quarter was the main business undertaken at the Rangers meeting, Tuesday evening, January 16, in Washburn hall.

Those elected were: Dick Hansen, president; Tom Korenchen, vice president; Erven Maryland, secretary, with Helen Abrahamsen, assistant; Rudy Fadlovich, treasurer; Bill Minelli, Elaine Mattila, social chairmen.

Lunch was served by Alice Arola and Shirley Mae Hill.

NOTICE

There will be a pep convocation in the auditorium Thursday at 11:00 a. m. The Barkers' club will sponsor the event.

FUTURE NICKNAME UP TO STUDENTS

The UMD faculty athletic committee has received a number of suggestions relative to proposed changes in the name of UMD athletic teams. There is a feeling among some people that a title could be selected which would be more significant and typical of this area. It is possible that most people would prefer to have the present name in preference to any of those which have been mentioned.

The student body has been asked to vote on a name which they think suitable or for the present name. The completed ballots can be left in the container outside the OSPS office or turned in to the Athletic office.

BULLDOGS SET SCORING RECORD IN JOHNNIE TILT

UMD's troubled Bulldogs snapped a three-game losing streak last Saturday night when Ray Isenbarger's rim-ramblers slaughtered the visiting St. John Bluejays, 82-65.

Pug Norlander and Bruce Paulson paced the victors to their second MIAC win in four outings as the front court mates scored 19 and 17 points, respectively. Centers John McKeag and Tom Dillon helped the Branchmen rack up their highest score in the history of UMD as they combined talents for 25 counters.

18 and was closely followed by Bob Johnson, Duluth Denfeld star of last year, with an even dozen points.

The Bulldogs, minus the valuable services of Dale Bentz, out of action due to the recurrence of a knee injury, also learned that Isenbarger has to leave for the Navy Feb. 12. To add to the miseries, Dillon was forced to leave the fray because of an ankle injury. And then—to top it all off, it was Norm "Slim" Schroeder—playing with a cast on his fractured wrist—who scored UMD's record-breaking 82nd point!

CHALK TALK

By ARNE MOILANEN

UMD's amiable coach, Ray Isenbarger, has been recalled to active duty with the United States Navy and will be leaving February 12. His final game as coach for UMD will be the Hamline contest which will be played here on February 1.

Isenbarger came to UMD from the University of Indiana where he obtained his master's degree and directorate degree in physical education. From 1943 to 1946 while in the Navy he played basketball and coached Naval Base teams at Gulfport, Mississippi, and New Orleans, Louisiana. Previous to entering the Navy he had coached high school basketball and baseball at Bunker Hill and Kokomo, Indiana.

He took his undergraduate work at Manchester College, Manchester, Indiana, where he won three letters in basketball and two in baseball and was named an all-conference guard. Teams on which he played participated in the Kansas City Invitational Tournaments on the National Association of National Intercollegiate Basketball in 1937 and 1938.

We feel that the sweetest send-off the UMD basketball team could give their coach is a revenge-win over St. Mary's, a victory over St. Olaf and although perhaps not favored to even come close to beating the Pipers, to throw a scare, if not an upset, at Coach Joe Hutton's quintet.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Ray for his friendly co-operation throughout the year, and from all of us on the STATESMAN sports staff, best of wishes and good luck, Ray!

RICKERT TO TAKE OVER CAGE REINS

By JOHN KREBS

Athletic Director - Basketball Coach Lewis Rickert—that will soon be the title bestowed upon UMD's affable sports leader. Rickert, a former all-around athlete at Colorado State College where he captained both the basketball and football teams, takes over the reigns presently held by Lieutenant (SG) Ray Isenbarger, who leaves Feb. 1 for the Navy.

An ex-Air Force captain, Rickert had spent most of his coaching career in his home town of Cincinnati, Ohio, before coming to the fledgling Duluth branch in 1949. During his home town tenure in coaching, Lew was named assistant director of the Cincinnati Recreation Commission, a post he held for two years.

Rickert received his Doctor's degree at Columbia University following graduate work at Miami U., Cincinnati U., and Texas Tech.

Director of Physical Education, Health and Athletics—that is his official title, Lew served as freshmen football coach and co-mentored the frosh basketballers with Johnny Downs.

★ MEET THE STARS ★

By JOE BERINI

The railroad village of Proctor has contributed many fine athletes to DSTC and UMD in the past. Currently, Dale Bentz, another son of Proctor, thrills many a fan with his alert offensive and defensive play on the basketball court.

While a member of the Rails, busy Bentz accumulated eleven green and white letters, participating skillfully in all the major high school team sports. Sterling performances as a cager during the 1948 District 26 Tournament won him a place on the District All Star Team as forward and honorary captain.

A star griddler and basketballer at Duluth JC, following high school graduation, Dale played in Pasadena on Frank "Butch" Larson's Junior Rose Bowl challengers.

Persuaded by Coach Isenbarger to enroll at UMD, daring Dale has been continually plagued by a bum knee while a Bulldog basketballer. He is again sidelined by his old nemesis.

Dale's greatest sporting thrill came in this year's St. Thomas game. With the last 30 seconds of the contest ticking away and on the short end of a 69-66 score, he pilfered the ball to score. While stealing the ball again a few seconds later, he was fouled. His imperfect gift shot was tipped in by a teammate, giving UMD a miraculous 70-69 triumph.

Easy going and nonchalant around the halls of Old Main (and Washburn), deadeye Dale becomes a fiery forward, and an aggressive, ballhawking team man with the opening whistle of a basketball game.
