GRINNELL TOMORROW

The Plucky Little Indians Play Here Saturday. A Good Game is Expected

Tomorrow the Varsity play their annual game with Grinnell. While we have heard little from the scarlet and black it does not mean that they are not awake to the fact that to hold the Gophers down to a low score means something to them in Iowa football circles. They held the Nebraskans down to 3 touch-downs, and now it is up to the Varsity to equal or better the game the Cornhuskers put up against them.

While confident of a victory, we can expect a good, hard game with the Iowans.

The score of the past seven years is as follows:

1895, Minnesota 4 Grinnell 6.
1896, Minnesota 12; Grinnell 0.
1897, Minnesota 6; Grinnell 0.
1898, Minnesota 6; Grinnell 16.
1899, Minnesota 5; Grinnell 5.
1900, Minnesota 26; Grinnell 0.

Grinnell is coached by Pratt the famous Wisconsin quarter-back, and will consequently give our men a good chance to learn more of Wisconsin's style of play. While their team is a light one they are noted for their pluck and endurance and can be depended upon to put up a creditable exhibition.

Ames Expects to Do Iowa

Iowa is making a great effort to pull into shape to defeat Ames next Saturday. The defeat last Saturday did not leave the team badly crippled and work this week has been harder than ever as the Hawkeyes feel that a defeat Saturday would put them out beyond all hope of recovery this season.

Ames is much heavier and they feel that they made a much better showing against Minnesota than the Iowa City institution. They are said to be stronger than they have been for several years past and are offering even money on the outcome.

Exchanges

"We'll show them where football players grow yet." This sentence uttered by a member of the team last night shows the determined spirit of the team in spite of the Saturday's defeat. They are bound to win and the one university they are laying for is Minnesota. "When we beat Minnesota we will be up toward the top," is the way Capt. Stahl expressed it.

From the Illini.

The Michigan golfers defeated the representatives of Chicago last Saturday in a contest at the Ann Arbor links.

The Cardinal prints two columns of football songs well calculated to strike terror to the hearts of the Michigan rooters.

Harvard students are losing confidence in the team on account of its continued failure to give indication of improvement.

Art Note

At the exhibition of oil paintings now held at the Art Institute in Chicago, is a picture by Mlle Clopath, one of her latest portraits.

Rate to Chicago Secured

It seems to be an assured fact that Minnesota will send a good sized contingent to Chicago next Saturday to witness the great Wisconsin-Michigan game. In case 100 go a rate of $6.00 for the round trip has been secured. Already quite a number are planning to make the trip, among them being several members of the football squad, including Dr. Williams, who are going for the purpose of getting a line on the way these teams play, as Minnesota meets them both this season.

Those wishing to obtain further information can get the same at the Daily office or at the cigar store, 1322, 144th Ave.

NORTHROP DEFEATS PAYNE

Title of the University Tennis Champion Changes Hands A Great Contest

The fall tennis tournament was finished yesterday, and Louis Northrop now holds the title of University champion, having defeated Fred Payne, winner of last spring's tournament, in three straight sets. Score, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4. Although the score does not indicate that the match was a close one, yet every point was fiercely contested.

Northrop played a star game, having magnificent control of the ball and using excellent judgment. Payne, although not up to his last year's form, played a strong, heady game and fought gamely to the very last. But Northrop proved too strong for him, who thus gained for himself the coveted title.

Colleges in India

Miss Newton of Lucknow college, India, addressed the Y. W. C. A. meeting in India and drew a picture of the college life there.

Miss Newton of the Lucknow College, India, addressed the Y. W. C. A. meeting Thursday. She described education in India and drew a picture of the college life there. Miss Newton said that the football enthusiasm is as great as in this country, and the girls play basket ball and tennis with as much zeal as is displayed in American colleges. The students are bright and more ready to learn than American and English students. They give perfect attention and their grateful appreciation of their instructors is most charming. The government has a system of universities for men. To women, the Christian schools offer the only opportunity for education.

Lucknow college numbers twenty young women; the high school, two hundred girls. The curriculum includes seven languages, science, mathematics, and extensive courses in history and English. The need of teachers is great. Of the graduates of the Indian schools the young women usually teach; the men go into government offices, practice medicine and engage in civil service work.

Miss Ingraham, also of India, spoke briefly, paying a happy tribute to Miss Newton's work and speaking of the need of Missionary work in India.

KING VS. YOST

The Chances Seem About Even in the Great Game on Saturday Wisconsin Favorite Here

The eyes of the football world are all turned toward the great Michigan-Wisconsin game which is to come off next Saturday in Chicago. It is by far the most important game thus far in the big nine as it means that one of the two teams which claimed the championship last year must give up all hope of that distinction this season.

Coach Yost of Michigan is plainly troubled about the defensive playing of his team. While of course Michigan has piled up tremendous scores in her games this season, her opponents have not been of the high class and consequently its defense has undergone no severe test. After practice last night Yost is reported to have said: "I am not at all satisfied. I thought the men had taken a brace but their work today was as erratic as in the Ohio game."

The Wisconsin team on the other hand seem to be more confident. Their practice now is the swiftest seen this season as is shown by the fact that the team made a touch-down against the scrubs in less than one minute after the whistle blew. After that they were put on the defensive and during thirty plays the scrubs made their distance but twice and could not get the ball into the first team's territory. There will be hard open practice this afternoon and for the remainder of the week light signal practice.

Both teams have up to this time an enviable record. Michigan's scores running up as high as 119 points in one game and while Wisconsin has not distinguished herself by such high scores she has had the advantage of a great deal of work in defensive playing, and Phil King can be relied upon to produce an aggregation that will be hard to stop. Wisconsin seems to be the favorite in this neck of the woods.

Junior Ball Meeting

A meeting of the Junior Ball Association was held this morning at the second hour. The membership of the association was increased to fifty-five and the following members were elected:—

T. Bass, Merrit, Art. Saunders, Earl Jackson, and S. Alden.

The preliminary reports of committees were handed in. There are no definite plans formed, but everything is running smoothly and there will be another meeting in two weeks.

The Sophomore election takes place today.

The above is sufficient to indicate that there is something doing. The academics and the engineers are again arrayed against each other, each having a candidate for president and for treasurer. It is thought that Brown the academic candidate for president has slightly the better of the argument because he is better known than Walker, his opponent, from the engineering aggregation. For treasurer Garber, an engineer, seems to be in the lead, although Phillips is putting up a good fight.

Foot Ball Notes

The Wisconsin-Michigan game is the chief topic of conversation.

Among those who favor Wisconsin are Coach J. F. Bernhagen of the North Side High, Knowlton, Van Valkenburg, Bidlake, Gray, Thorpe, Irsfield and Davies, While George Belden, Sig Harris, and O'Brien think Michigan the strongest.

Just wait until we play Wisconsin. There will be something doing then.

Michigan and Wisconsin both think they have a cinch on the championship if they win Saturday. We have not had our little say yet.

Tear each other up, boys the harder you fight the better our chances.

HOODOO HAS BEEN LOST

No New Men on the Hospital List and Cripples are Recovering

"The best practice yet"; was the verdict of those who saw last night's work of the football squad. The hoodoo which followed the team so persistently all through the first of the season seems to have looked up a new victim and although the practice has been fierce and long every night this week no more men have been added to the hospital list. Several of those who were injured last week are giving their sore spots time to recover thoroughly and are not doing the work this week. Next week all the old squad will be in the game with the possible exception of Lafans. Two new men were on the first team last night, Burdick and Downing and both look like comers.

Dr. Williams will take three or four of the team down to see the Michigan-Wisconsin game Saturday. This has led to considerable speculation as to who will be in the game against Grinnell here. The team is bent upon running up a higher score than they did last week against Iowa and the team will have to be a strong one to do it as this is the thing which Grinnell is betting will not be done.

Mrs. Sarah Pillsbury Gale is winning the lasting gratitude of every one connected with the University by her work in beautifying the campus.

The magnificent memorial fence which she is building seems to be only a beginning and Mrs. Gale is sparing neither expense nor time in her efforts to make the campus a beauty spot. Last week a landscape gardener from Boston came out, at her expense, and his suggestions as to arrangement of walls and drives and planting shrubs and trees will be carried out by this loyal alumnus.

Bulletins to Northrop Field

Through the courtesy of the Minneapolis Journal their bulletin service from the Wisconsin-Michigan game will be received at Northrop Field Saturday. A man with a megaphone will read the bulletins in front of the grand stand as fast as they arrive. He will also give the scores from the other games.

The Cardinal, Wisconsin's Daily paper, says that Minnesota has taken a brace but can hardly be considered in the race for the championship after the defeat of Oct. 15. Let us see. We play Wisconsin, Nov. 15th. The Cardinal may sing a different song after that. Stranger things have happened.

Can our team beat Illinois? is the question now uppermost in the minds of the students. If we can beat Illinois, can we beat Wisconsin? is the next question which confronts us. We believe that we can do both of these things and upon Thanksgiving Day give Yost and his understudies such a trouncing that we will be proclaimed undisputed champions of the West.

While this may seem like a vague dream, yet all things are possible and this is one of the things that we are going to try to make possible.

It would be a very good idea of some one in authority would take it upon themselves to make a passable crossing over University avenue. Thousands of students cross this mud hole daily and the antics performed by some in order to avoid the said mud and slime are both laughable and pitiable. One man could make a path there in an hour; but it has not been done as yet, and it looks as if it would not be touched until the street becomes dry.

Can we Have a Holiday?

Many students are asking whether there will be any school on general election day, Tuesday, Nov. 4. Although the statutes provide for a legal holiday upon this date, it has never been recognized by the University authorities and classes are held the same as usual. The only exception that is made is upon a national election day.

It seems that now would be a good time to change this precedent, and allow the student body the benefit of a holiday. The reasons for this are obvious. Many would like to go home and vote, but are deterred by the fact that they will miss a day of school. Many others will absent themselves anyway for various reasons, while some few will have an opportunity to secure work on that day. Of course there is another reason which in the minds of some is the most obvious of all, and that is that a holiday is enjoyed no matter when or how it comes.

But apart from these reasons it seems only fair to all that school should be closed next Tuesday. For in this event those wishing to go home could go Saturday and not be obliged to return until Wednesday morning. Those voluntarily absenting themselves would not be losers, and those who are fortunate enough to obtain a job could earn an honest dollar without the fear that they might get flunked in consequence. This matter is respectfully submitted to the faculty with power to act.

A copy of the Manila Times has just been received at the office of the DAILY. The first page is largely taken up with half tone photographs of Governor General Taft, Major General Chaffee and Frank E. Green, '04. To explain how one of Minnesota's graduates comes to be in such illustrious company it is only necessary to say that our friend Green has been making the most of himself and his opportunities in the Philippines. Mr. Green went to the islands as captain of a Montana volunteer company and after serving through the war with unusual distinction he became one of the incorporators of the Philippine Lumber and Development Company, of which he is general manager. He is now president of the American Chamber of Commerce of Manila and in a recent banquet tendered to Governor General Taft, he gave "The Philippine's Welcome to Governor Taft."

BY THE WAY.

Walter Plymatt, law, '01, was seen about the campus yesterday. He is now engaged in law practice at Mankato.

J. Grosvenor Cross, '02, and Mrs. Cross (Frances Montgomery, '91) are on their way to Europe where they are to spend a year, mostly in Germany, where Dr. Cross will do some graduate work in medical lines.

William C. Bass, Mines '09, and Mrs. Bass (Fannie S. Newman, '09), who have been living at Ely, Minn., passed through the city last Wednesday on their way to Chloride, Oregon, where Mr. Bass is to engage in gold mining work for one of the large companies located at that place.

Frederick M. Mann, C. E. '08, also a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been appointed professor in charge of the newly created department of architecture of Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. He gives up a fine practice in architecture in Philadelphia for his new work. He was married to Miss Grace Hitchcock, of Boston, Mass., July 29th.

Professor Owen Ridley, deputy chairman of the University College, Reading, England, visited the University last Saturday. Mr. Ridley is making a tour of this country for the purpose of studying university conditions and problems that may throw light upon the development of his own college. The University College is one of the youngest in England, having been established but ten years ago.

PIANOS

The tendency in prices of all manufactured goods has for years been steadily downward. In most lines the quality has gone down with the price. The public has gone bargain mad.

We deplore the fact that this spirit has invaded the fine arts—and people are buying pictures, books and musical instruments at "so much a square yard." But there is no royal road to true culture. A highly artistic musical instrument cannot be made by the "hit or miss" process, and sold for a trifle. A good piano is the result of painstaking, intelligent effort and costs a fair price. It is cheaper at a fair price than cheap stuff is at a trifle.

The Ludwig Piano

represents the highest possible standard of merit at the lowest possible cost. Not a dollar put in for the non-essentials, and not an essential left out. A full assortment of these artistic pianos always on exhibition on our floors. Sold on easy payments. Write for free catalogue.

HAYNES FOR MAYOR

The University ward of the city will undoubtedly furnish Minneapolis with its next mayor. James C. Haynes has been a resident of the Second ward, the University district, for something like two decades. His popularity extends to all parties and classes, and among the University contingent he is specially strong.

Although this ward is usually Republican by a majority of something like 800 votes, Mr. Haynes was elected alderman on the Democratic ticket by a ship and the eight-hour day; and as chairman of the city council committee on ways and means he in two years saved the taxpayers $472,000 in taxes.

The late Republican mayor, "Doc" Ames, whose administration resulted in thirty or more indictments and two or three state prison convicts to date, as the fruit of the legitimate outcome of a machine gang policy, is a warning to the people of this city that if they would preserve the city's good name and prosperity they must have a strong and comfortable margin. His pronounced ability, his clean cut and strong character, and his excellent record as a professional and business man, as well as public official, brought to him in his campaign for mayor in 1892, 2,443 more votes than the candidate for governor. As alderman of this ward, he supported the street railway transfer system which saves street car patrons $400,000 a year in fares; he introduced the gas arbitration resolution which resulted in a reduction of $100,000 a year to consumers of gas; he voted for municipal owner-thoroughly qualified man in the mayor's chair. There is not a Republican, Democrat, Socialist or Prohibitionist who doubts the high standard of intellect, integrity, courage and public experience that James C. Haynes would bring to the office of mayor, and nowhere is this better known or more profoundly felt than at the University district where the progress and prosperity of our great institution is known to be influenced by the standard of municipal government and by the city's reputation for morality, cleanliness and civic ideals.
