Duluth---August 14th is the final deadline for filing applications by freshmen planning to attend UMD fall quarter, according to Charles H. Mannel, admissions officer.

Advanced standing students should have all credentials of previous college work submitted by the same date, Mannel said. Anyone filing after August 14 will be considered for winter quarter, 1965.

Mannel reminded freshmen that they must complete the American College Test before being considered for admission. The last ACT test date is 8:00 a.m. August 15 in Room 150, Kirby Student Center. All applicants should bring a $4.00 check or money order made out to the American College Testing Program.

Freshman orientation at UMD begins September 21 with registration September 23 and 24. Advanced standing testing and orientation will be held September 21 with registration the afternoon of September 22.

The final deadline for applications for admission to winter quarter at UMD is December 11.
