

Survey Reveals Bus Problem

The recent STATESMAN survey on the bus rate problem brought to light a great many interesting facts.

The purpose of the survey was to obtain the facts from the students and present the data obtained to the Transit company and the student body.

Figures resulting from the survey show that the average student expends 2.9 fares per day or $.2415 which amounts to $43.47 per school year (36 weeks).

82% of the student body ride the buses regularly which means that the Transit company receives from the students $1,882.58 per week.

However, if the increase to $.11 is granted it will mean a weekly expenditure of $2,630.

This will give the Transit company a yearly increase of $21,724 which will give the Transit company $89,486 from the student body per school year, as compared to the present $67,771.

When R. B. Thompson, vice president and general manager of the Duluth Transit company was approached with the survey results, he felt they were substantially correct, but in view of increased operating expenses a readjustment of the fare for college students would be impossible. Mr. Thompson cited a number of price increases such as 30% on coal and 29% on gasoline within the last year. The cost of new buses has risen $2,500 within the last two years. Wages av-

LSA, CFC, Slate Christmas Pageant

A pageant, "Why Christmas?", in the UMD auditorium Dec. 8, will be presented by the Lutheran Students association and the Christian Fellowship club, two campus organizations, it was reported by Miss Dorothy Grinden, English instructor and director of the project.

The pageant will differ from other Christmas pageants in that it will not portray the traditional Nativity scene alone, but is based on the prophecy, birth, and crucifixion of Christ.

The first scene will include the shepherds and the hills, while scene two will be the manger scene, and scene three the three crosses, or why we have Christmas. Music by a chorus consisting of students enrolled in the Lutheran Students association and the Christian Fellowship club will furnish background Christmas music.

Kathleen Kemp is music director and other members of the staff producing the pageant include Marshall Dahlen, stage and scenery; Barbara Phillips, costumes and make-up; Miriam Majander, script; and H. Elvin Erdahl will handle the publicity.

The aim of the pageant is to express the true meaning of Christmas by revealing the risen Christ.

Faculty, "M" Club Committees to Meet

The faculty intercollegiate athletic committee voted Tuesday to meet with an "M" club delegation Thursday, Dec. 2 to discuss the present UMD athletic set-up.

Athletic Director Lloyd Peterson recommended the formation of a baseball nine and the awarding of letters to ski team members. A new constitution was adopted by the group.

Dr. Clarence B. Lindquist, associate professor of mathematics at the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch, since September, 1946, has been named head of the new department of engineering. His appointment was made by UMD provost Raymond C. Gibson upon the recommendation of Dr. John C. Cothran, chairman of the division of science and mathematics.

Dr. Lindquist, a graduate of the Central high school of Superior, took his Bachelor's degree at the Superior State Teachers college in 1937 and his Master's and Doctor's degrees from the University of Wisconsin in 1939 and 1941, respectively. His graduate work at the University of Wisconsin was in the field of applied mathematics.

He served as assistant professor of mathematics at the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis from 1941 to 1946 when he joined the staff of the Duluth State Teachers college. Dr. Lindquist is a member of the American Mathematical Society, the Minnesota Academy of Science, and the Astronomical League of America. In addition to his duties in the mathematics and engineering departments, Dr. Lindquist is supervisor of the Darling Observatory.

Kiwi Squadron 2 Elects Todd Captain

At an installation supper held the evening of Nov. 18, Richard T. Todd was inaugurated as Cadet Captain of the Air Force Cadet Officer club, Kiwi Squadron 2.

Master of ceremonies, John Klefstad, introduced the faculty and newly elected Kiwi staff to the squadron.

Publicity, Game Time Hit

by Bill Ingberg

In discussing UMD athletics, two promotive phases, publicity and game time, persistently introduce themselves.

A new game time is desperately needed for UMD football contests to enable a greater number of persons to be in attendance. We now compete with Minneapolis games and with the various industries in Duluth. Saturday night games may be the answer. Night games in themselves have proven very popular with fans.

That school spirit is directly connected to interscholastic athletics is an almost indisputable point. This is true not only in football but other sports as well.

A simile may be drawn between a chain reaction or perpetual motion and school enthusiasm. A fighting team gets out the fans if the contest is staged at a convenient time, and fans, as the word implies, are enthusiasts. The enthusiastic fan will instill greater school spirit and spur the team to victory which will,

Council Votes Forum Unanimous Support

The UMD Student council gave its unqualified backing to the newly formed Campus Forum committee Tuesday with a unanimous vote of confidence in the fledgling project.

The council heard an outline of Forum procedure and a discussion of the myriads of suggestions received by the committee by Gordon Schempp, originator of the Forum plan, and Don Ames, Forum committee chairman. Richard Graving, Richard Granquist, Ben Finch, and Dale McNulty, other committeemen, were also present.

Jack Powers, council finance committee chairman, reported that an approximately $1,000 balance in the council treasury at the end of the spring quarter, 1948, has been removed from the council's jurisdiction by the business office. Further investigation is being conducted by the finance group to locate the alleged discrepancy.

Debate Team

Openings Available

"All students interested in joining the debate team to be formed next month should attend the meeting which will be held Wednesday, Dec. 1, in room 216", debate coach John Converse announced recently.

The first debate in which the new team will participate is the 16th annual Red River debate tournament, which will take place at Concordia college in Moorhead, Minnesota, Feb. 4 and 5. The topic for this debate is "Resolved: That the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing education in tax supported schools by means of annual grants". There will be six or seven additional debates throughout the rest of the year.

Anderson Describes UMD Bill

A. B. Anderson, state representative from the 57th district, speaking before the UMD Republican League Monday night, described the passage of the UMD bill.

A motion by Dale Nelson, member-at-large, to request a joint meeting of council members and UMD administrators was unanimously passed.

The council voted $18 to the freshman class for a mixer dance to be held in the gym Dec. 10.

Constitutions of five campus organizations, the Phalanx fraternity, Engineers club, Noble Order of the Buckhorns, Rangers, and Air Force Cadet Officers club were ratified unanimously at the Tuesday session. All clubs having over 20 members must have their constitutions accepted to exercise a vote on the council.

Bruce Warren, council president, announced that an executive committee would be appointed before the next meeting Tuesday, Dec. 7.

Miss Schauland Enters Discussion

Mabel Schauland, UMD senior, is one of four college students in America selected to participate in a round table discussion on future projects of Gamma Theta Upsilon, national professional geography fraternity.

Miss Schauland left last night for Chicago, where the discussion will take place at the Palmer House hotel. The meeting is in conjunction with the National Council of Geography teachers. She is practicing teaching at East Junior at present. Her subjects include English grammar, American literature, and American history.

of course, start a new cycle. There is, however, a variable that enters upon the scene, that variable being publicity. Publicity is more than merely stating the basic, where, when, and what. The various mediums of expression, the press, radio, and posters must be utilized to their utmost capabilities. Not only to inform, but actually to gain the public's presence at athletic activities.

This entails greater expenditures. However, a healthy athletic program will support itself.

Key to Forum Success Is Campuswide Cooperation

Great things are expected from the newly created Campus Forum project.

The Forum has unlimited potentialities as a vehicle of greater understanding between the UMD administration and the student body.

Taking a typical complaint, cafeteria prices, let us see just how Campus Forum machinery would be set into operation.

The first step rests with the Student council Campus Forum committee. This group prepares a list of questions for which factual answers are desired. For example, "Is the cafeteria a theoretically non-profit enterprise?", "If a profit has been made, then how much profit?", etc. These questions are presented to the Student council for additional queries or deletions.

The Forum committee, meanwhile, prepares a comparison of cafeteria prices with those in downtown eating establishments.

After the Student council gives its approval to the list of questions, the list is submitted to Dean John E. King or Student Personnel Director Chester W. Wood for study and research. When enough time has elapsed to enable these men to find the answers a convocation is scheduled.

The council Forum committee then approaches the school official directly responsible for the matter under consideration, in this case, the cafeteria, UMD Business Manager Earl H. Hobe. Mr. Hobe would be requested to appear at the convocation to supply the desired information.

It is hoped that all faculty members who are asked for information or to appear before Forum convocations will comply. They would only defeat the common goal of betterment of this institution if they refused to do so.

The Campus Forum was conceived for the three-fold purpose of constructively airing student grievances, establishing a more workable relationship between the administration and student body, and generally making UMD a better university for all concerned.

Dr. King and Dr. Wood have both expressed favorable inclinations toward the Forum project. However, the extent of success to be attained in this venture will depend upon whether or not the student body approaches the problems which will arise in a constructive manner. If a constructive approach is taken, nothing but a rich harvest of benefits will be in store.

UMD Minor Sports Deserve Greater Emphasis

Although the facilities for major sports are not the best in the country, they are much superior to those being used by the varsity squads in the so-called "minor" sports.

First and foremost, each of these sports should have a competent coach who is interested in having a winning team and willing to work with his men until he has one.

The present system of "advisers" affords the squads nothing of value in either instruction or correction and is absolutely unsatisfactory. Other things which are needed now in the various sports are as follows:

- Tennis — UMD netters need a more comprehensive schedule before anything else. Other badly needed improvements are the installation of a practice board at the site of the university courts, better nets, and a new paint job on the lines of the cement courts.

- Skiing—The wealth of skiing talent attending UMD would be assisted and encouraged by a coach who would formulate a schedule for more competition. Also, the awarding of letters in this sport would put a keener edge on the team.

- Golf—Here again a more inclusive schedule is a requisite.

- Track—This sport could well be one of UMD's strongest departments if it were headed by a competent mentor who knew the mechanics of coaching track and field events. A great weakness in the past has been the failure to develop depth in the squad. It has been proved time and time again that track meets are not won by individual stars.

- Hockey—A better schedule should be arranged and all home games should be played at the Curling club.

- Baseball—A majority of other conference schools have their teams in competition. UMD, loaded with diamond talent, should field a team this coming spring.

Critic Gives Cast Candied Pill

Johnson, Taylor Star

By Jean Worrall

With Shirley Johnson and Herbert Taylor carrying the ball, the first production of the 1948 University Guild players was successfully completed.

Shirley Johnson, completely in character as Candida, the charming wife of a socialistic parson, used her lovely, expressive voice to good advantage to become the most outstanding player in the cast.

Richard Moore, playing opposite Miss Johnson, as Reverend James Morell, was excellent as the severe, restrained 19th century parson, but somehow fell short of expectations in the portions of the play where he was supposed to be in a fit of angry, passionate rage.

Humor was introduced in the person of Prosperpine Garnett, frustrated old-maid secretary employed by Reverend Morell. Mary Lou Pentek used a quick, clipped style of speech to characterize "Prossy" and her efforts to hide her secret love for Reverend Morell.

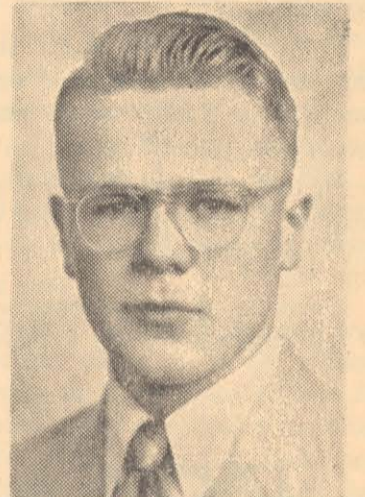

Campus Profiles

Tumbling into the roster of Campus Profiles, is energetic Jack Powers. Jack is activity personified as he finds time to be president of the Barkers, chairman of the financial committee of the Student council, and a member of the gymnastic team. He also was chairman of the queen contest for Homecoming.

Well known as one of the best tumbling artists in Minnesota, Jack uses his acrobatic skill to good advantage in his position as a cheer leader and as an instructor of gymnastics at East junior high school.

In addition to having a part-time job, Jack has charge of a Boy Scout troop and teaches swimming at the Red Cross aquatic schools in Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Iowa. He is an expert in the art of canoeing and once took a canoe trip down the Mississippi River from Minneapolis to New Orleans. His next project will be a canoe trip to Hudson Bay.

"Support Forum," Says Schempp

Dear Sir:

We need all the assistance which you and every student on this campus can give us in this campaign to improve our school. All we ask is that you take a few minutes to jot down your gripes, suggestions, questions, etc., concerning the school and drop them in one of the suggestion boxes.

We, in turn, will use every possible means to get them answered or acted upon for you and will arrange for a Campus Forum or convocation at which responsible officials will be in attendance to answer and discuss all matters.

Our first check of the suggestion boxes has produced many fine topics to be acted upon; but in view of our present enrollment, the response has not been what it could be.

The Campus Forum has great possibilities, but a student body certainly cannot expect improvement and action when they are too busy or indifferent to voice their opinions.

Sincerely yours,

G. J. Schempp

No Trump—No Nuthin'!

Dear Editor:

I protest!

The ban on card playing at this university is assuming ridiculous proportions.

Although the idea is entirely foreign to modern universities, there is a ruling against card playing in Washburn hall.

Not satisfied with banning cards at Washburn, the "powers that be" have now decided that no one may play cards in the cafeteria.

The after-dinner bridge games which have so long been a tradition on campuses throughout the country have now been wiped out on a campus where, due to a serious lack of facilities, few other recreational activities are available.

As long as everyone refrains from breaking state laws and Governor Youngdahl doesn't dispatch the militia to our big "gambling dens", there is no reason for the ban against card playing!

Plans Christmas Concert

UMD Chorus to Sing

The University chorus and glee club will present a concert Dec. 7 at 8 p. m. at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The program will consist almost entirely of songs of Christmas, including chorales, an English Christmas carol and a piece of modern harmony and arrangement called "Christmas Journey".

A special work, "Missa Brevis" by the contemporary Hungarian composer, Zoltan Kodaly, will be presented at the concert. This song, published in 1947, is reputed to be a stunningly colorful and expressive modern setting of the mass.

Allen Downs is conductor of the women's glee club. The men's glee club and mixed chorus will be directed by Dr. Alspach. Miss Katherine Reed will assist as organist.

Parkinson Is Head Of Klub Koed Dance

John Parkinson will take charge of the decorations of Klub Koed's regular bi-weekly dance tonight, 9 to 12, at the YMCA. Ralph Williams and his orchestra will provide the music.

Air Guard Men Are Draft Free

A recent ruling by the Judge Advocate General of the Army Air Force states that men who join the Air National Guard, regardless of age or military time, cannot be drafted. Therefore any man will be fulfilling his military obligations to the government by enlisting in the Air National Guard, and he will not be drafted into active duty.

average $.64 per hour in 1941 while the present average wage is $1.34 per hour. He also brought out the fact that business fell during September to the extent of 2.4% almost 50,000 passengers. Including bond interest the actual return has been less than 3% per year.

In other cities where a price increase has gone into effect a decrease in number of passengers has resulted. So by correlating Transit company figures and STATESMAN survey figures it is found that a smaller gross profit is gained than would be expected.

Because this conclusion is based on untried variables they are not apt to be instituted here. However, the vice president of the Duluth Transit company offered the thought that the student would feel it well worth the 24% increase to know that a swift, warm bus would be at his corner on schedule in the cold months ahead.

'Treasure Hunt' Is Book Week Theme

"Buried Treasure" was the theme chosen for UMD Book Week, Nov. 14-20. Miss Buelah Larson, head librarian, displayed the "Buried Treasure" in different collections of universally interesting books. The serving of refreshments to students viewing the various literary exhibits opened the activities of the week.

'M' Club Officers Assume Duties

At its meeting Nov. 17, the new officers for the UMD "M" club presided. They are Dick Carlson, president; Joseph Waters, vice president; Fred Murphy, secretary; and Glen Olson, treasurer. Jack Coons was elected student council representative.

A committee was appointed to inquire about 'M' sweaters. Another committee consisting of Bob Ritchie, Dick Talakson, John Sundberg, Wes Olson, Bob Horton and John Pocernich was appointed to meet with the faculty athletic council to make recommendations regarding the present UMD athletic set-up.

Down the SIDELINES

with ROY H. MAKI
Sports Editor, UMD Statesman

Football followers at UMD probably saw the all-conference team which was released awhile back. They were probably as surprised as this columnist to see a few unfamiliar names gracing the roster. John Kutscheid, tackle, and Fred Murphy, halfback, were the UMD footballers who crashed the first team. We have no complaint about these two choices—both deserved the honor—but a few players who were not even regulars and played very few quarters made the second team.

We understand that the football coaches were asked to make out an all-opponent team and mail it to the league officials who then picked an all-conference team from the teams compiled by the coaches. This method is fraught with difficulties in that busy coaches might easily confuse numbers on the jerseys of opposing players.

1930 Eleven Pulls Unusual Play

Former Bulldog football coach Frank Kovach chuckles every time he thinks of the following incident which took place in 1930 when this school was playing its first season of football. The Bulldogs were scheduled to meet the Eveleth J. C. (at that time a power in the Jaycee loop) but only 13 members of the Duluth team showed up for the game. It seems the rest of the squad took off to watch the Central-Denfeld classic. O'Hehir, one of the greatest linemen Duluth ever had, was pressed into service as a fullback.

Duluth pulled a play rarely seen these days. Bulldog quarterback Archie McC Corey received the kickoff and immediately punted it upfield after taking two steps. The surprised Eveleth players watched the ball sail over their heads. The ball bounced off an Eveleth man and was immediately recovered by Duluth on the Eveleth 20 yard line. Duluth failed to score, however.

Famous Bulldog Victory Recalled

One of the most thrilling upsets pulled by a Bulldog eleven was engineered in the fall of 1935 when they surprised Superior State, 18-6. The Yellowjackets entered the game heavy favorites to trounce the hapless Bulldogs. Superior before game time ranked as one of the country's 11 unbeaten and untied teams. In seven previous games just one touchdown has crossed the Superior goal line.

Duluth drew first blood when Leo Nagolski, Bulldog fullback, stole a Superior pass and threaded his way 55 yards down the sidelines to tally. The aroused Superiorites came back to tie it up 6-6 but Maurice Gorham put the Bulldogs ahead again when he pitched a short pass to his brother, Francis, who scampered 40 yards to score. Captain Norman Johnson, a guard, pilfered another Superior pass and galloped 77 yards to score Duluth's final TD.

UMD Conference Bid Tabled

The Minnesota College conference faculty athletic committee in a meeting held last Friday in St. Paul voted to delay action until next spring on UMD's application for admission to the conference.

Dr. Raymond C. Gibson, provost of the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch, appeared in person before the board and spoke for nearly an hour during which time he outlined UMD's reasons for desiring entrance into the loop. Provost Gibson also answered questions asked by the board.

UMD's application must wait until next March. Before the committee meets the matter will be discussed with the presidents of the conference colleges. At the present time the committee has no authority to act without consulting the presidents.

An early snag in the negotiations involved UMD's willingness to abide by the conference rules, including the one-year transfer and one-semester freshman regulations. UMD signified its willingness to abide by all regulations touching conference athletics.

If the Duluth bid is accepted and the Bulldogs become a member of the MIAC attempts will be made to slate night football games at Public Schools stadium. Games will be arranged so as to allow the greatest number of patrons to attend. Duluth has been playing its home football games in the afternoon at Ordean field. The proposed change-over to a night schedule should appeal to a wider number of fans.

Meanwhile coaches Lloyd Peterson and Raymond Isenbarger along with Dr. Elizabeth Graybeal were at Iowa State college in Ames, Iowa, studying the physical education set-up there. The purpose of the visit was to draw up recommendations which will determine the type of athletic plant to be built at the new UMD campus.
