UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1902.

No. 28.

CONTEST BEGINS TODAY

Y M C A Leaders Are Out On a Hunt For New Members

The present membership of the Association is 350—a larger number than ever before at this period of the year. In view of this start there is every promise of increasing the membership to at least 700; this ought to be easily attained in an institution of this size. This means an increase of 350 and the executive committee proposes to accomplish this in ten days. To this end notices have been sent to all members to the effect that they are to hustle for new members. The canvass has taken the form of a contest between equal divisions of the members—Maroons vs. Golds led respectively by Messrs C. E. Austin and E. H. Cressy.

Every man in the university may expect to be touched for membership and there is no doubt but that the Association will be royally supported in this attempt to widen its influence.

Twilight Concert Today

The first of a series of twilight concerts will be given today at 4 p. m. in the chapel under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

Those who will participate are Mrs. Marian Leland, New York city, who will give reading from the books of Richard Harding Davis, J. M. Barrie, and others; Miss Rowena Pattee, who will give a piano solo, and Mr. Craig Walston, who will give two violin solos. Mrs. Leland is one of New York's popular readers, Miss Pattee is a recent graduate of the Conservatory of Music of Boston.

What True Womanliness Is

Mrs. Wilkins addressed the Y. W. C. A. yesterday on above subject. Every true woman must have something to be loved and admired, whether it be beauty of face or of form, a pleasant smile or a queenly carriage. Self-sacrificing devotion to some person or cause, is a second essential. Modesty, self-reliance, including mental strength and culture, and piety which tinges all the other elements, go to make up true womanliness.

Play Each Afternoon

Much excitement among University tennis players has been caused by the unexpected developments in the single tournament. Northrop, Werner and Newhall are to play each other for this tournament championship, the winner to play Paine for the Varsity championship.

The courts are in fine condition and some good fast playing is to be seen every afternoon.

This year's tournament has been the most hotly contested ever held at the University. The new men have shown up wonderfully and the old players are fully keeping up their reputation.

A meeting of the sophomore class has been called for the second hour in Prof. McClumpha's room. This meeting is for the purpose of making arrangements for the class election which will probably occur on the twenty-fourth of this month.

The constitution of '05, provides what is probably the most scientific election system in the University. Elections are under the charge of six judges of election who have entire control of all arrangements. Nominations are made by petition and the voting is by the Australian ballot system. The system proved very effective last year and the '05 men point with pride to the fact that their election was the first in the history of the U in which upper classmen did not participate.

At present there are no candidates in the field, but it is probable that the fight will be between the Academics and Engineers as it was last winter.

It is rumored that the Engineers have already held a caucus and are laying their plans to wipe out last year's defeat.

NEW DEPARTMENT MENT POSSIBLE

Movement on Foot to Institute a New Course in the University

A new department may be organized in the university. The idea is to prepare a course which will give a man a good business education. The course, if it materializes, will include work in the department of economics and political science and also in the school of law.

The plans are as yet very indefinite. A great deal depends on how much the law faculty will be willing to concede. It will be necessary to enter the course through that college as greater freedom can be gained in that way. The course will probably include three or four years, the first two years being devoted to economics and political science while the remainder of the time will be given to commercial law, contracts, etc. This would lead to an entirely new degree in all probability.

At present there are many students in the law school who do not intend to practice but are taking the work as a business education. It is for such as these the new departure is being planned. Courses of a similar nature are offered in some other universities, and a few, Wisconsin, for instance, have a regular school of commerce in the institution.

Blowers Kept Busy

The Band men have a busy week ahead of them. The excellence of the organization this year has made it very much in demand and the engagements are coming thick and fast. A part of the schedule for the next two weeks is as follows:

Friday night, Informal at the Armory; Saturday afternoon, the Nebraska-Minnesota game; that night they will play at the Bijou theatre; Monday, the Woman's League Reception and Friary and Saturday the trip to Iowa city. This with a few practices thrown in will the members a touch of the strenuous life.

Life Is Real and Earnest

Coach Booth, of Nebraska, is not letting his men loaf this week as will be seen by the following account of Tuesday's practice: For a solid hour he gave the scrubs the ball and permitted them to plunge into the varsity line.

Frequently the second team made its distance and was often held for downs,

EXCURSION TO IOWA GAME

Rooters May See the Game With Comparatively Little Expense

At a meeting of the University band last evening Manager Luby submitted a proposition which was viewed with delight by the musical rooters.

One of the railroads to Iowa City has agreed to make a rate of $5 for the round trip to Iowa city on the occasion of the Iowa-Minnesota game, if, 200 tickets can be sold. In addition, the road agrees to transport the band free of charge if this number of tickets can be guaranteed. A special train will be run for the accommodation of the rooters. This proposition is about the fairest in the history of the University excursions and there should be no trouble in disposing of this number of tickets. The band members will begin an active canvas among the students in an effort to guarantee the railroad the required sale. The game at Iowa city is due to be a good one and the team needs the support of the students and the band.

Preparing for the Struggle

The team is putting in some hard licks these nights and every effort is being made to get into the best possible trim for Saturday's game.

Last night's practice showed considerable improvement in defensive work and was much more satisfactory than any other this week. The second team was given the ball ten yards from the goal line and told to push it over.

This they were unable to do.

The men were given a good long signal practice and then worked on running back the ball from the kick off and forming interference ahead of a runner in an open field.

From the Far East

Natives of China and India who chance to be in the city have been secured to speak at a meeting the second hour today in the Y. W. C. A. room.

Accurate description of life in these countries may be expected. Miss Stone is a young woman of Chinese birth and resided there for many years. Miss Ingraham is a daughter of a Mohammedan Prince of India.

The meeting is for men and women and the room ought to be crowded as it will doubtless be.

Chicago Mainstay Hurt

Football stock at the University of Chicago suffered a setback yesterday when Catlin, who was one of the best ground gainers against Purdue last Saturday, suffered a sprained ankle. It is not certain that Catlin's injury will keep him out of the game, but on the other hand there can be no certainty for a day or two that his ankle will stand much of any strain upon it. Catlin turned his ankle during the scrimmage yesterday.

but Booth would not allow them to surrender the ball. Sixty yards they worked down the field, but the Varsity finally held and after the gruelling had gone almost to the limit the big coach relented and turned the oval over to Capt. Westover's first eleven. On the offense 'varsity did not make any too satisfactory a showing, but five minutes of play sufficed to yield a touchdown, after which the squad was sent scurrying back to the "gym."

Will Watch Eclipse

The moon is going to get behind the earth tomorrow night, presumably while the man there dons his winter wearing apparel. There will be nothing unusual associated with the eclipse but members of the astronomy class will be on hand at the observatory.

WOULD SHORTEN ARTS COURSE

Sentiment in Favor of Granting A B Degree in Two Years

Since President Butler of Columbia University made his statement in favor of shortening the college course and granting the A.B. degree in two years, college people have been talking over the plan everywhere. The idea is not new and many of the Minnesota Professors have advocated a similar change for years.

Professor Woodbridge strongly favored a course which would give the A.B. degree with the medical or Law degree in six years.

Prof. F. M. Anderson holds the same views. He says "If the high school graduates enter a professional school immediately after they are graduated, they are likely to obtain a narrow view of their own profession and if they are compelled to take two years in the regular course first, they do it because they have to and not for the educational value. If the course were combined both these objections would be eliminated and the graduates of the professional schools would be more liberal."

Twenty five years ago, Dr. Folwell in a paper before the N. E. A. convention, held that the secondary education should end with the sophomore year.

He says that educational institutions are growing towards his position. The change would necessitate a complete adjustment of the course. In time the studies now taken in the first two years of the American colleges will be included in the curriculum of the preparatory schools. The working out of that idea is not possible now; so the best method is to make a pronounced division between the upper and lower classes in colleges. After the completion of the first two years, those who wish to become literary men and teachers could enter at once upon their preparation for professional work.

"Several years ago at the University of Minnesota it gave a certificate at the end of the sophomore year which would admit the holder to any college in the University. Chicago University adopted this same plan twenty years later. The regular course there is now divided into the junior and senior colleges. In a few years the whole educational system will have to be reorganized."

Saturday's Game

The first decisive game of the 1902 football season will be played on Northrop Field, next Saturday. The game will be no walkaway for Minnesota. Handicapped as the team is by the injuries to some of the best men in the squad the game is sure to be close and exciting. Nebraska is stronger than ever and the Cornhuskers have concentrated their energies on the Minnesota game. It is the big game of the season for them and a victory will probably mean the admission of Nebraska into the Western conference. Reports from Nebraska show that there is a decided feeling in the vicinity of the university that Nebraska is at last to win from Minnesota.

Nebraska on the other hand must meet Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan before the season is over and on this account alone cannot now be in the best of form. In addition the varsity team is badly crippled.

In spite of these handicaps, Minnesota must win on Saturday and in order to do this we must have the active support of every student. A mass meeting will be held in chapel at the third hour tomorrow, when a definite system of rooting will be outlined. There will be no excuse for little noise on Saturday. The game is an important one and upon the result Minnesota's 1902 standing in western football hinges.

Class Insignia

The Pennsylvania seniors adopted a resolution a few weeks ago which has called forth considerable discussion in all the college papers. The resolution decreed, first that all freshman should wear black caps on the campus, and second, that class numerals should be worn only by those who earned them in class athletics. The subject is one which should interest us. The numerous class readgers adopted last spring, a few of which are still to be seen on the campus, furnished a good start in the direction of class identification.

In an institution as large as this, where classes are split up into departments, an established system of class insignia would do much to bring the members of a class together and to foster a healthy class spirit. How many friendships with fellow classmen have failed to materialize because the parties were uncertain whether or not they were addressing one of their own class, how many stirring manifestation of class spirit have been broken up by the uncertainty of the participants as to the class of the man next to them? How much might have been added to class spirit by a universal adoption of distinctive headgear and how much has been lost from Varsity history by such a lack can never be known but the system promises so much that it deserves, if not an immediate trial, at least the serious consideration of the classes as soon as meetings have been held.

With class caps to identify and unify each class and class numerals as carefully and deservedly bestowed as the Varsity M, it seems as if class athletics would play a more important part in Minnesota sport and a class spirit would be developed upon which a higher college loyalty would be founded.

The Saturday Prices

The Journal of last evening printed an editorial which will be of interest to University people. Under the head "It Comes High" the following was given editorial space:

"The scale of admission prices for the Minnesota-Nebraska football game on Saturday seems to be pitched somewhat too high. It is $2.50 for a box seat; $2 for a grand stand seat, and $1 for general admission. For a box seat $2 is enough and for a grand stand seat $1.50 is ample. Aside from the irritation of the public for being assessed so heavily, there is the business question of whether the prices are not more than the traffic will bear. Of course if all the seats can be filled at the higher rates there is no argument on this score for the lower ones. But it is doubtful whether 8,000 people will turn out Saturday. Aside from the immediate business question it is good permanent policy to keep on the right side of the public. The University Athletic association may not always be so prosperous as now. We appreciate the many expenses the management has to bear, including the proposed enlarged field, but it is better to get a large revenue from a large number of people than from a small number.

Certainly if high prices are charged and the receipts are large, the management ought to provide the men with the best of preparation. Yet up to this time they have had no regular trainer and as a partial result the squad is full of cripples on the eve of a big game."

The DAILY believes that the Journal in its attitude on this question, although undoubtedly sincere, is wrong. The University athletic association is not prosperous as is generally supposed. The track and baseball teams of last year were losing propositions and not only has the balance in the association treasury been expended for these organizations but the association has been at a great expense this fall in purchasing the tract of land south of Northrop Field. In addition bleachers which will accommodate 3,000 people have been erected on the field. Under these circumstances, with a view to enlarging the field, it is necessary for the association to realize as much as possible from the games to be played this fall.

If the field can be filled at the prices announced for the Nebraska game it will be to the advantage of the athletic interests of the University.

The Journal also complains of the fact that there is no regular trainer at the University. It is unnecessary to discuss this complaint. If Dr. Williams wished a trainer he would be supplied with one.

Strengthening Back Field

With the game only two weeks distant Coach King has decided that if the Cardinal is to stand any show of winning against the Wolverines, the back-field must be strengthened. He had tried Juneau and Haumerson behind the line, but was not fully satisfied with their work there, and so decided to dig up some new material. He took Findley, a freshman, who has been holding down Captain Juneau's old place at end, out of the line Tuesday and gave him a trial at half. He is said to have demonstrated that he is a swift, fierce player, quick to take advantage of opportunities and a good ground gainer. King thinks he is a find.

Wounded List Large

The Doctors were busy at Omaha Tuesday. It was all on account of a harmless little game of football between the University of South Dakota and the Omaha Medical College. The list of the wounded direct from the front as obtained by the DAILY as follows:
"For the South Dakota team, Novotny was knocked senseless and left the game; Olson was knock down and badly trampled on for strangling; Captain Newcombe received a broken shoulder blade; Thompson has a broken rib and other injuries, and the tibia of Hanson's right leg was cracked. For the Omaha Medics, Eby was hit in the stomach and left the game, while Jungbluth, who knocked Novotny senseless, was chased from the field and did not return. Umpire Whittemore was knocked down by a blow on the jaw for calling Mustine a liar."
Evidently the Minnesota team is not the only crippled football aggregation to-day.

Dr. Leonard's New Book

"The Healthy Woman," a new book dealing largely with hygiene and containing valuable rules and hints for feminine health, has appeared on the DAILY desk. Its author is Wm. E. Leonard, Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics in the Medical College of the University. The book is a neat and compact collection of information invaluable to womankind. It explains whatever tends to the development—physical, mental and moral—of healthy womanhood. Coming from a man of so high professional standing as the author it has a unique value.
It is published by The Contemporary Publishing Co., of New York, and is for sale at all book stores.

SONG FOR THE MORNING

What a friend we have in Jesus,
All our sins and griefs to bear!
What a privilege to carry
Everything to God in prayer!
Oh, what peace we often forfeit,
Oh, what needles pain we bear,
All because we do not carry
Every thing to God in prayer!

Have we trials and temptations?
Is there trouble anywhere?
We should never feel discouraged,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.
Can we find a friend so faithful,
Who will all our sorrows share?
Jesus knows our very weakness—
Take it to the Lord in prayer.
