FIVE MEN CANDIDATES FOR MANAGING EDITOR OF GOPHER

Great Number of Candidates Insures Lively Race For 1915 Gopher Editor.

Gopher Board of Publishers To Be Chosen On Same Day, May 17.

Five men have handed in their names as candidates for managing editor of the 1915 Gopher, the election of which will take place Wednesday. They are:

RACE FOR MAY QUEEN CLOSE

The Heavy Voting Expected Today and Thursday May Alter The Final Vote.

Complimentary Ticket Promised For Man Taking the "Queen" To The Dance.

Catherine Leland now leads in the "Queen of the May" election with 19 votes. Eunice McGilvra is a close second with 18. The heavy voting is expected to-day and to-morrow, so all of the candidates still have a good chance of winning out.

The returns up to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon were as follows: Catherine Leland, 19; Eunice McGilvra, 18; Mary Child, 12; Bunny Schaller, 10; Ruth Hansen, 10; Dorothy Davis, 9; Louise McGivra, 8; Martica Byrnes, 2.

In order to correct a prevalent misunderstanding, Chairman Hayes wishes to state that while admission to the All University dance will be $1.25 at the door, tickets may be secured prior to the night of the dance for $1.00 at the Daily Office or at either bookstore.

Chairman Hayes has also offered to refund $1.00, the price of the ticket, to the man who takes the "Queen of the May" to the dance.

SOPHOMORE ACTORS BUSY WITH VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM

Comedians, Dancers, and Musicians Working to Perfect Acts for Friday Night Performance.

Motion Picture Men Take Campus Athletes. Foreign Films To Be Shown.

Clog dances, comedians, minstrels, chalk talkers, pianologists, singers and players in profusion are rehearsing daily for the annual vaudeville to be staged by the sophomore class in the Chapel, Friday night. In all parts of the campus the syncopated steps, the trills of the singers, and the wild guffaws of the "end-men" are to be seen and heard by those who wander accidentally into secluded places or suddenly open closed doors in out-of-the-way rooms in the main buildings.

Yesterday, too, the moving picture photographers were seen in action in the vicinity of the Armory while campus athletes balanced skillfully on tight wires or swayed to and fro on wires that were slack, and while the "wild-man" broke his iron bonds and wrestled with his keepers.

The motion picture work is being done by Dean Frankfurter and Prof. F. L. Frary of the school of chemistry. Not only are circus celebrities to appear in the vaudeville "movies" but pictures taken Cap and Gown Day of the senior and cadet processions will likewise be displayed. In addition to these local films, two reels of imported films never before shown in America and said to be of the very finest type of foreign motion picture production made by the Williamson Kinimatograph Company of London,

M. the circus buttons and stickers will be put on sale by the management. The actual selling will be done by the members of the newly established society of "Table and Chair." The charter members at Minnesota are Forence Swanson, Alice Colter, Marjorie Mix, Margaret Heinemann, Constance Davis, Geneva Blodgett, Betty Aiton, and Gladys Clark. The buttons will be on sale in Folwell, the Library, the Post Office, and in Shevlin Hall. The buttons will be sold for five cents each and the stickers will be five cents the dozen.

TEAM MAKES HIGH SCORE.

Minnesota Riflemen Win First Match Held At Fort Snelling.

A large crowd shot at the Fort Snelling range, last Sunday, and the rifle team made the excellent score of 637 against California, an average of 127 and one-half points per man, over the three ranges. California was unable to shoot on account of final exams, and forfeited the match. Seven men qualified as marksmen, making twenty three so far this year. Next Thursday the sharpshooters course will be gone over, and Sunday the expert riflemen's course.

LARGE CHAPEL AUDIENCE HEARS DR. BLACK'S ADDRESS

Lecture On "Essentials of Christianity" Enthusiastically Received In Crowded Chapel.

"Christianity and The Modern Man" Will Be Subject of Last Lecture Today.

Dr. Hugh Black, the noted orator, theologian, and author who is giving a series of addresses at the University this week, spoke at the regular Chapel exercises yesterday on "The Essentials of Christianity." Dr. Black limited his address to one phase of religion,—the need of high ideals and great vision.

After contrasting vision and sight in his inimitable style of anecdote and illustration, Dr. Black showed the results of a lowering of ideals among the great nations of antiquity. This danger of lowering one's motives, of

DRAMATIC CLUB NEEDS MEN

More Men Wanted To Fill Parts In Play To Be Given On Spring Tour.

Everything seems to indicate, that the tour of the state by the Dramatic Club the first two weeks in June will outdo any former attempt of the club. Two complete shows are to be sent out, each cast playing the same comedy, "A Pair of Spectacles" by Sydney Grundy. This is a very clever little piece, the plot hinging, as the title suggests, around a pair of troublesome glasses, causing many humorous situations and involving the characters in many embarrassing predicaments.

Many of the members of the Dramatic Club are graduating and for that reason, an unusually large number who have never been in plays before will be given an opportunity of taking part in these productions. The final tryouts will be held in room 413 Folwell this afternoon. Many men are needed to make the casts complete and everyone is urged to try out no matter how slight their previous experience may have been along this line of work.

Junior Annual Will Be Distributed From Booth In Front Of Library Building.

FIRST PERSON IN LINE TO RECEIVE FREE COPY.

Feature Staff Reported To Be Catching Outgoing Trains In Fear Of Life.

Promptly at nine o'clock tomorrow morning, if the weather permits, the long awaited 1914 Gopher will make its appearance upon the campus. The burning curiosity of the college public which has been aroused of late by the sanguine reports of enthusiastic critics will then be satisfied. "The punctual appearance of the Gopher at the two distributing centers is as certain as fate," say the management, "if only fair weather prevails." The bindery will be running all night tonight to complete its work, and large motor trucks will be employed to deliver the books upon the campus tomorrow morning.

The sale of copies will begin at 9:00 o'clock in front of the Library building where a booth will be erected. The first person in line will receive a copy free and to the next fifty applicants 50 autographed copies will be sold. The special provision has been

A SUGGESTION ON DANCING.

For the past year and a half numbers of university students have been struggling in the throes of a disease that bids fair to become chronic. Students at other universities have had symptoms of the same malady but have somehow managed to recover their sane and normal selves. Such is not the case with some of us. We are still struggling. The disease we have reference to is rag dancing.

The subject of the modern dance is by no means a new one. It has been the topic of more than one dubious conversation within the past year. Yet strangely enough no definite action has yet been taken. Students at Michigan, Ohio State, Illinois and other universities throughout the West have long since abolished the new dances by popular consent and through their own initiative. Yet we at Minnesota are still clinging tenaciously to those forms of dancing which have been branded as indecent by every serious-minded person in the country.

The new dances have little or nothing to be said for them. They are about as graceful as a pet elephant picking its teeth with a broom straw. They are about as artistic as any "snake-rassel" can be. They have neither tone nor beauty. They are the offspring of the mind of a moral non-entity, and are about as near being a real dance as the quintessence of nothing approaches infinity. On with the dance; let joy be unrefined.

In commenting upon the new dances, it is always the extremes which call forth such criticism. But as long as rag dancing remains, extreme dancing will remain. Without arguing the matter further than to say that it would be most advisable, taking everything into consideration, for the new dances to disappear among Minnesota students, we venture this assertion—that if the girls of this university wanted to do so, they could in one week abolish every form of dancing about which there hangs the slightest taint of adverse criticism. We have no desire to lay at the door of the college girl responsibility for anything she ought not to carry; but this is certainly true, that if the girls who dance would simply suggest to the men that they propose not to dance in a way which will lay them open to criticism, the dubious dances would immediately disappear from college circles. But just so long as the girls want these dances to remain, they will remain.

 giving way to the more material and so-called practical appeals of life seems to threaten our country today, said the speaker. This danger, he continued, can only be averted by developing in our colleges and universities, men and women of great ideals and noble vision. All the learning, all the culture, all that the ideals of higher education, brought to the right attitude towards life by the inspiration the Christian religion, can give,—these are the qualities that wise, far-seeing leaders of the future must have to keep our civilization from deteriorating as the others have done. Dr. Black's religion and the inspiration he gives is essentially that of high Christian ideals.

"Christianity and the Modern Man," will be given this afternoon at 4:15 in the University Chapel.

 made that no person will be allowed to get more than one autographed copy.

Much excitement prevails on the campus today owing to the near approach of Gopher Day, and a line is expected to form in front of the Library building tomorrow long before classes begin. Gophers will appear at the agricultural college a little later and will be put on sale at the agricultural college book store about 9:30 where ten autographed copies will be distributed to the first ten in line.

Books will be issued only upon presentation of checks, signed by the business manager, as has been the custom in former years, and these checks may be secured at the Gopher hole or at windows 1 and 2 in the Library building until all copies are gone. Of the seventy-five extra copies that were ordered only fifteen had not been spoken for yesterday, so that judging from the demand there will probably be a scarcity of Gophers.

The coming of the Gopher is anticipated with a good deal of trepidation as well as joy on the part of the students, and with good reason, for the feature section contains some spicy bits of humor. It is larger than ever before, containing eighty pages of red hot stuff, and is said to be the best feature section ever seen in a Gopher. The members of the staff in the feature department are reported to be already on their way to places of safety, crawling into their caves in fear of their lives, and apprehensive of any demonstrations.

Every one who has yet seen the Gopher has pronounced it the best college annual in the country. No expense has been spared in making it as nearly perfect as possible, and only the fact that two hundred and twenty-five more copies than ever before have been ordered has made it possible for the board to keep the price of copies at the present figure. The engraving bill this year is larger than ever before, amounting to $1825, and the Bureau of Engraving has sent thirty copies as advertising to colleges all over the country. The bill for paper will be about $1000 and it is said that the paper is as good as can be found in any annual in the country. It is interesting to note that copies of the Gopher have been sent into the following states to Minnesota, alumni: Michigan, North Dakota, South Dakota, Ontario, California, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Montana, New York, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Ohio, and Tennessee.

The 1914 Gopher contains 650 pages, 150 more than ever before, seven colored inserts, a binding in two colors, and a rich leather cover the top of which is gilded, giving it a burnished gold appearance. Among its novel features are a special Minnesota building section, which has received much favorable comment; an organization department, wherein two pages are devoted to each fraternity giving a full page photograph of each house; an 80 page feature section containing jabs at all the celebrities in the University. In the athletic section there is an entirely new sort of heading for each sport, the nature of which has not yet been divulged.

A special section of 16 pages on the county fair is finished in two colors and will be similar to last year's "May Fete" section. All the doings of the campus have been recorded in the College Life section. With such features to boast of, the 1914 Gopher has been well termed the best Gopher ever put out at Minnesota and one of the best college annuals in the country.

CHINESE TO MEET VARSITY

Occidentals Will Play University
Nine Saturday Afternoon.

Local fans are promised something especially good for next Saturday afternoon when Coach Sullivan's Gophers will take on the Chinese team of the University of Hawaii at Northrop Field. The team which will appear here is practically the same as the one from that institution which won such a reputation for itself on its tour of the United States last season. Out of 119 games played, the Chinese won 66, lost 49, and tied 4.

Because of the success of their last year's tour, the Chinese decided to come to the United States again this year. The expenses of the trip are being guaranteed by the leading merchants of Hawaii. Captain Akana left Hawaii on March 18th with fifteen players and arrived in San Francisco on March 26th. Since their arrival in this country, they have been playing teams in the West and Middle West. They will play throughout the South and East, finishing their tour on June 21st with a game in New England. By that time, the Hawaiian pastimers will have played over 100 games and travelled a distance of over 50,000 miles, or more than twice around the globe, one of the longest, if not the longest trip ever attempted by a baseball aggregation.

Gopher Rally In The Eighth Inning

Runs.

McNally Stars For Minnesota. Lambert Strikes Out Seven Men.

The Minnesota baseball team administered a thorough beating to the University of Chicago nine at Marshall Field on Monday afternoon by a score of 7 to 3.

The Maroons started strong, scoring twice in the second inning and annexing a third tally in the third, while Kixmiller, one of the shining lights of the Midway pitching staff was holding the Gophers safe. The Windy City slabster had things his own way for seven frames, allowing the Minnesota swatters but one single off his delivery. He weakened in the eighth, however, and the Gophers promptly batted him out of the box. Baumgartner who succeeded him fared better, but before the inning was over, four hits, one of them a triple, coupled with costly errors on the part of the Maroons had netted Minnesota four runs and enough to win the game.

"Bugs" Raymond, the funny man of Coach Sullivan's staff twirled a consistent steady game, while his team mates backed him up with almost faultless support. McNally who is filling Captain Doermann's position at the initial sack since the latter's injury, was easily the batting star of the contest, getting a double and a triple out of four times at bat. It was his triple that started the Gopher scoring in the eighth.
