CAMPUS EVENTS

TWEED MUSEUM EVENTS

The Tweed will present "Earth Surfaces: Paintings by Irving Zane Taran" through August 13.

Irving Zane Taran, professor of art at Michigan State University since 1965, and a UMD alumnus, has paintings known for their dynamic surfaces, coloristic subtlety, and for the enormity of their scale.

Taran cites Lake Superior, Duluth's diverse landscape and his formal education at UMD while working with Art Professor Glenn C. Nelson, as formative inspiration for his work.

From July 18 through October 15, the Tweed will present "The Helen Band Collection of First Nations Art from the Thunder Bay Art Gallery." The exhibition, which makes its only U.S. appearance at the Tweed Museum of Art, contains 49 paintings by 23 artists, including eight works by Norval Morriseau, who is credited with developing the Woodland painting style in the 1960s. An artist lecture by Roy Thomas will be held on Thursday, September 14.

Tom Kerrigan will be featured in a one person exhibition at the Tweed Museum of Art opening July 18 and continuing through October 1. The opening reception for "Tom Kerrigan Ceramics at Tweed" will be held from 5:30 - 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 18.

Kerrigan retired in 1999 as ceramics area head in the Art Department, where he began teaching in 1975. He is nationally known for his innovative hand-built ceramics and for his experimentation with clay bodies, unique clay forms, glaze, surface designs and images. His art was inspired by the mood and changing character of Lake Superior, and later, desert landscape, plant life, and indigenous motifs. For more information, call Mary Rhodes at 726-7823.

SUMMER MINNESOTA REPERTORY THEATRE

The Minnesota Repertory Theatre has two presentations this summer, the Broadway smash-hit musical, "Dames At Sea" and the "The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940". These 2 shows will be running in repertory rotation through August 5 as follows: "Dames" runs July 19, 20, 28, 29 and August 2 and 3. "Murders" runs July 21, 22, 26. 27, August 4 and 5. All shows are at 8 p.m. All performances will be in the Mainstage Theatre at the Marshall Performing Arts Center. Reservations can be arranged by calling the Box Office at 726-8561, open Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

OUTDOOR PROGRAM'S SUMMER EVENTS

An Outdoor Adventure Camp for teens will be held from July 24-28. This camp help teens ages 13 to 15 develop life-long recreational skills in a fun and supportive environment. Activities include river kayaking, canoeing, rock climbing, team building challenges and camping skills. It runs from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. The cost is $225. For information, call Beth at 726 6533.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

GOLF TOURNAMENT

The Fourth Annual UMD School of Medicine Golf Classic is being held on Monday, July 24 at the Giant's Ridge Golf Course in Biwabik, Minnesota. The four-person scramble has tee times assigned from 9:30 a.m. to 1:50 p.m. The 6 p.m. dinner is preceded by a social hour. Play on a world class golf course in the heart of the Northland and contribute to the UMD School of Medicine Student Research Fund. The $160 per person fee includes green fees, cart fees, use of the driving range and putting green, dinner and prizes. For those who don't play golf, participate by attending the dinner at a cost of $25 per person or sponsor a student or resident for $160. Space is limited. Register ASAP!

For information or to register, call Lori Isaacson at 726-7572 or email lisaacso@d.umn.edu.

SUMMER AT GLENSHEEN

The exhibit "Changing Chapeaus: Honoring a Century of Hats," will remain on display through the summer months at the historic Congdon Estate. The summer tour schedule runs from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., 7 days a week, including holidays.

Glensheen's collection of 80 men's, women's, and children's hats from all periods of the 20th century are included in the exhibit, and can be seen throughout 17 rooms included on Glensheen's regular tour. Spring straw hats from the 1910 era greet visitors in the reception room, while winter fur hats from 1900 wait for cooler weather in the smoking room. The exhibit includes boaters, cloches, turbans, picture hats, top hats and many other styles popular during the 20th century. Accessories and photographs of the Congdon family wearing stylish hats accompany the exhibit.

Viewing the hat exhibit is included in the admission cost of the regular house tour of Glensheen. Glensheen's living history tours continue through Labor Day. For information, call 726-8918.

Campus Books Events

Joanne Larsen Line, retired senior administrative director of the UMD Library, will sign her book "Quilts from the Quiltmaker's Gift" on Thursday, July 20 from 1 - 2:30 p.m. in Campus Books. So many quilters asked for information on quilts from "The Quiltmaker's Gift" that Joanne and her publisher created this book of patterns for quilters of all levels. Both "Quilts from the Quiltmaker's Gift" and "The Quiltmaker's Gift" are now available in Campus Books.

Split Rocks books and supplies are available in Campus Books.

FREE color film doubles are available everyday in Campus Books.

Faculty and Staff News FACULTY/STAFF NEWS

Nancy McFarlin Diener, UMD Access Center coordinator of services for deaf, hard of hearing and deaf blind students, presented a workshop titled "Creating WIN/WIN Situations: Innovative Management of Interpreter Services at a Mid-sized University" at the national PEPNet conference in Denver in April. PEPNet is the national professional organization for Post secondary service providers for deaf, hard of hearing and deaf blind students. The corresponding paper will be published in the conference proceedings, due out at the end of the summer.

Karen Heikel, Director of Summer Session, recently had a paper published in Summer Academic: A Journal of Higher Education entitled, "Centralized vs. Decentralized University Summer Session Programs: Examining the Continuum."

Deborah Petersen-Perlman, associate professor, Department of Communication, attended a workshop on the Holocaust and Contemporary Genocide, in June. She acquired many valuable resources while attending the week-long workshop, which she is willing to share with the campus community. Call Petersen-Perlman at 726-6849 for more information.

SEA GRANT NEWS

Jeff Gunderson, associate director, taught a two-day workshop in May for U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service fish hatchery managers and ecological services personnel at Inks Dam Hatchery, TX. The workshop presented an approach called Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Point, which is designed to help hatchery managers prevent the spread of nuisance species with fish that are stocked.

Barb Liukkonen, water resources educator, presented a paper, "Involving Master Gardeners in Shoreland Restoration," at the National Extension Natural Resources Conference in South Tahoe, Nevada in May.

Doug Jensen, Exotic Species Information Center coordinator, spoke at a public workshop hosted by Four Seasons Resort, Lake of the Ozarks, Missouri, in June. He presented, "Prevention Strategies Aimed to Keep Zebra Mussels Out of Lake of the Ozarks," and "Approaches for Volunteer Zebra Mussel Monitoring in Lake of the Ozarks." Jensen also gave the presentation, "Threats of Aquatic Invaders to Minnesota Waters," at a training session for Minnesota Conservation Corps exotic species watercraft inspectors, in July at the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources headquarters, St. Paul.
