PROMINENT JOURNALISTS TO GIVE LECTURE COURSE

Professor Thomas's Classes to Learn of Actual Newspaper Work.

Lectures by active newspaper men of the Twin Cities will form a large part of the new course in newspaper writing started this week by Professor Thomas. The first lecture will be given Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Room 311 Folwell and will be open to the public.

Dr. Caryl B. Storrs, dramatic critic of the Tribune, will give the lecture Wednesday. In treating his subject, "The Sources of News," he will analyze one paper showing the source of every article of reading matter, the means employed to obtain it, the way it is written, and a general idea of available news which has not been used.

Professor Thomas has arranged the following schedule of lectures, although some of the speakers have not yet been secured.

Feb. 9. "The Sources of News"—Dr. Storrs.

Feb. 16. "Syndicate News": The Associated Press, The United Press, The Western Newspaper Association, city press associations, news bureaus of individual newspapers, etc.

Feb. 23. "Organization of a Newspaper." The various departments of a metropolitan paper and their subdivisions with the duties and responsibilities of each.

March 2. "The Assignment Book." City editor's knowledge of what is to happen; division of work among reporters; method of checking up their work; nature of his special directions.

March 9. "The Reporter's Work."

March 16. "How to Write a News Story."

March 30. "The Interview."

April 6. "Make-up and Heads."

April 13. "The Editorial."

April 20. "Psychology and Journalism."

April 27. "The Cartoon."

May 4. "Specialization in Journalism."

May 11. "The Sporting Page."

May 18. "The Woman's Field."

May 25. "The Business Side of a Newspaper."

NEW SYSTEM AT SHEVLIN

Organization of Girls Will Take Charge of Different Departments In Turn.

Henceforth girls' societies rather than individuals chosen at random, will take charge of Shevlin Hall. This month Gamma Phis have the ground floor. Alpha Phis the first floor and Thalias the second.

The Student Government Association has instituted this arrangement in the hope that competition will result in greater interest and better care. If it proves successful, this plan will be retained, the societies, in charge like the former committee, acting for one month.

Senior men—get measured for your caps and gowns by Feb. 10, Folwell 204—Chapel time.

MEN ARE BASHFUL ABOUT TAKING GIRLS' ROLES

Urgent Appeal Is Issued for More Masculines to Assume Feminine Garb.

There was a good turnout yesterday afternoon for the trials for "The Prof. and the Princess," and many men were chosen. Miss Malcolm could not hear all of the trials yesterday so there will be additional trials next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in chapel.

Many more men are needed to take the parts of girls, for most of the men who tried out seem bashful about taking these parts. These "girls" need not have beautiful soprano voices, however, for it is their presence and not their voices that is needed. A great many more short men are wanted, and every man who has been embarrassed, all his life because of his height, will be in demand for the operetta. All men who have good trained voices are also urged to try out.

COMMITTEE MEN CHOSEN

Banquet and Campaign Committees Named—Faculty Ladies Interested.

Preparation for and management of the approaching campaign has been put in the hands of the following committees:—banquet committee, Howard Williams; Harold Hull, W. Martin, and C. W. Moore; publicity committee, Henry Bruchholz, Harold Dane, Ward Cosgrove, and Warner Borst; meeting committee, Fred Ware Ned, McKeen, and Harold Munk; and district work committee, Wm. Bethke, Tom Crocker, Will Ecklund, Franz Aust, J. E. Anderson, P. R. Fulton, and Calvin Buswell.

The scheduling of Mr. E. C. Mercer's meetings has been turned over to W. W. Norton.

Several of the faculty ladies have shown great interest in the coming University Campaign and have expressed their desire to do all they can for its support. This week they are entertaining the girls of the various Bible Study Campaign classes in their homes, also groups of University girls residing in their neighborhood.

U. C. A. INFORMAL RECEPTION.

The second informal reception of the University Catholic Association will be held on Saturday evening, Feb. 5, in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Arrangements are in the hands of Blanche Young and Eunice Brotherton, and an informal evening of games and music is planned.

All the Catholic people in University are invited to attend.

DEAN COMSTOCK RETURNS.

Dean Comstock has returned from a short lecture trip to Montevideo. She addressed the Study Club on "Some Anthologies of English Verse," and also spoke before the high school and Windom Institute. Two Minnesota alumnae are teaching in Montevideo; Miss Gippe as principal of the high school and Tryphena Anderson in Windom Institute.

Masonic Temple Scene of Annual Junior Ball

Formal Party of 1911 Class Rivals All Previous Affairs—Decorations in Minnesota and Class Colors—Gowns Exceptionally Beautiful.

In a true Minnesota setting of Maroon and Gold, combined with the 1911 class colors of silver gray and crimson, the Junior Ball was held last evening in the Masonic Temple. The decorators had transformed the large ball room and the originality and beauty of the scheme of decoration rivaled any of the annual formal of previous years.

The hall has been recently renovated, and the finishings of soft green harmonized with the green of the many palms and quantities of smilax. From the high arches under the ceiling, with its many sparkling lights, festoons upon festoons of maroon and gold hunting were hung. Between the arches booths in the class colors had been built with lambrquins above in silver gray stenciled in crimson, as were also the box effects in front. Crimson curtains were draped between the booths and in front of each booth, Palms stood on each side of the booth doors, while oriental lights shone here and there.

The stage had not been neglected and two long silver gray drop curtains bore the crimson "1911." A crimson lattice work hid the musicians from view. The dining room was entirely in maroon and gold.

Long before the grand march started, the balcony was full of fond, proud mothers and fathers and a few envious ones who could not mingle in the gay company below. The scene was well worth viewing, even tho one could not participate, for University society had set itself out to show what it could do. Never were there so many handsome gowns, and never such a gathering of beautiful girls—at least so all the men declared. In their soft messaline silks and satins, of delicate tints, with arms full of violets, roses or orchids, one hardly recognized the shirt waist college girls. Besides, the floor was like glass, the music perfect with its lively two-steps and dreamy waltzes, the supper was delicious—and she was the prettiest girl there!

MRS. BURTON'S PLAY STAGED.

"The Combination" Successfully Put On In New York.

Dr. Burton returned from his lecture tour on time to meet his first class Tuesday. As he himself says: "I kept all my appointments, ran into no wrecks, and returned on time." Dr. and Mrs. Burton saw the production of Mrs. Burton's new play "The Combination," in New York in the Fifth Avenue theatre. The play is now on the road, and Minneapolis people are hoping that it will be presented here later in the season.

VALENTINES FROM PIERCE

Registrar Promises A Blue Variety by Feb. 14—Studes Should Wait Patiently.

Registrar Pierce is preparing to remember a goodly number of students on Feb. 14, with valentines of a lovely deep blue hue. All "flunk" and "con" notices will be out in about two weeks. No other reports of standings beside these ominous blue signals will be sent to members of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes. The seniors, however, will receive a statement of their first semester grades as soon as the reports are all in and recorded.

Says Registrar Pierce:

Practically all the notices of flunks will be sent to students within the next two weeks. Meanwhile it won't help matters to swarm about the office. Instructors send in notices of failure usually within ten days or two weeks from the beginning of the semester.

John R. Mott, who is to address the University students during the coming religious campaign, is a John R. world figure. Theodore Mott. Roosevelt has characterized him as the "most influential layman" of the world. One who hears him is invariably impressed with the simple dignity of the man, and also with the might which lies in the direct appeal to a human being's reasonable self. Those who fear that the coming religious campaign is to partake of the nature of a clap-trap revival meeting may lay aside their apprehensions, for Mr. Mott, though deeply religious, and though truly exceptionally forceful as a speaker, employs no methods but the sanest and most wholesome.

A farmer boy who went to a small Iowa college, sleeping under the bank-counter and earning his own way; a student at Cornell coming to know life in terms of its highest values; a leader of thirty-two student and religious movements; such is the brief history of the man. A concrete expression of his true worth is found in the saying concerning him; that it would take thirty-two men to fill his place were he to step from his post at the present time. Such a man is surely worth listening to.

All candidates for office are required to give name and specify office for which they are candidates to Edw. Leach, Sec. of the Association, Box 1138, by 5 p. m., Thursday, Feb. 10.

Yesterday two new candidates, Al Victor and Dartt Lyford, entered the political field, and the situation is assuming a complex aspect which promises some exciting contests. Al Victor, candidate for secretary, was pitcher on last year's varsity baseball team, and is popular in University circles, so that he has a strong following which will make him a formidable candidate.

Dartt Lyford, who is candidate for engineering representative, is a well-known basket ball man and hockey enthusiast, and is one of the most prominent men in the engineering college. He has a strong opponent in McCree, who has the advantage of being first in the field.

In the medical college the situation is rather uncertain. There have been rumors that "Rube" Rosenwald will withdraw and leave the field clear for Warner Workman. The Daily has received several emphatic denials of this, but owing to Rosenwald's absence from the city, is unable to make any definite statement in the matter.

There is much comment on the fact that five football men, all members of last season's team, have announced themselves as candidates for all except one of the places which are to be filled at this election. The upperclassmen say that Minnesota will have many important problems to solve in the near future, and that every effort should be made to secure an efficient and non-partizan board. Minor sport enthusiasts are arguing that a board composed of football men might not be favorable to their particular branch of athletics.

None of the candidates before the student public have as yet announced any definite platform. There seems to be, however, a general understanding as to what each man stands for.

Students Use Drugs.

College circles at Washington and Jefferson colleges are shocked at a charge that many students are addicted to the drug habit. The Weekly says: "The habit has grown to an alarming degree, and some measures should be taken at once to stop it." The paper declares that the habit is especially prevalent at examination time, to sharpen the wits.

GOPHERS MEET BADGERS AT MADISON TONIGHT

Basket Ball Squad Will Arrive At Madison To-day—Game Crucial.

The varsity basketball team succeeded in keeping its record clear Thursday night by defeating the Hawkeyes 23 to 17, and left for Madison yesterday morning. They arrived at the Badger headquarters last night, and with twenty-four hours in which to recuperate from the effects of the trip, will be in good condition to-night for the hardest game of their schedule so far this season. The contest with Wisconsin will be an ordeal which will test the mettle of the Gopher players, to the utmost, and if Dr. Cooke's proteges come out at the long end it will prove beyond a doubt that they have a team of championship caliber.

Cardinal Team Strong.
 The fact that Wisconsin ranks fifth among the Conference teams is no indication of the ability of her quint. The Badgers were the first to make the big swing around the circuit with the result that they lost four out of the five games played. So far this season the teams playing on the home floor, have almost invariably won; but as the players gain in experience and adaptability, familiar surroundings will undoubtedly cease to be as large a factor in determining the victory as heretofore.

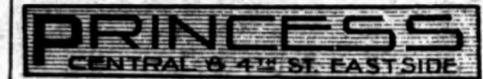

Birch and Scoille form a strong forward combination for the Cardinal team. Slidell and Fenn are still fighting it out for a job inside the toss-up circle. In Capt. Witt and Harper, the Badgers have two of the cleverest and headiest guards in the conference. Against these men the Gophers will have to put up a strong fight with a garrison finish in order to win.

Lawler a Find.
 Minnesota's lineup will probably be much the same as in the Iowa game. Lawler and Capt. Hanson will be in the forward positions. Lawler proved himself a star of the first magnitude in the Hawkeye game, and is the find of the season in Minnesota basket ball. Walker will play at center, and Rosenwald and Wanless or Anderson will form the defense.

SIGERFOOS JOINS REGIMENT.

Capt. Sigerfoos, formerly Com, of the University Cadet Corps, has returned to his regiment, the fifth U. S. infantry at Plattsburg, N. C. He is now acting major of the 1st battalion of the regiment, and professor of military international law at the officers' court school.
