NOTICE

The General Storehouse will not accept personal packages "express collect" consigned to members of the various departments unless the persons to whom such packages are consigned make previous arrangements with the Receiving Clerk to take care of them, and also leave money with him to cover express charges.

When making arrangements for shipments to the University on University business please bear in mind that these should be consigned to the department, and not to the individual.

If it seems desirable to do so the package should be marked for the attention of the proper individual. Packages directed to individuals will be refused at the Storehouse unless the foregoing directions are followed.

R. S. Callaway
