"Often times finding a job is all about networking. The beauty of job fairs is that you are given the opportunity to network and connect with dozens of potential employers all in one place, says Aaron Meyer, director of career development at the U of M Crookston. "Additionally, many times you are limited to an online application, where your resume is tossed into a bin with countless other applications. Job fairs allow you to interact with potential employers face-to-face, giving you the opportunity to create a much more personal and memorable impression."

The Annual Winter Job and Internship Fair is hosted by the Office of Career Development Department at the University of Minnesota Crookston.

The University of Minnesota Crookston now delivers 34 bachelor's degree programs, 22 minors, and 40 areas of emphasis on campus as well as 14 degree programs entirely online.
