DREAMS AND NIGHTMARES

Abe Osheroff, a member of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade during the Spanish Civil War, is now a carpenter living in Los Angeles. This extraordinary documentary finds him returning to contemporary Spain to discover whether his struggle against Franco had been in vain. This intensely subjective political film is, in the words of critic Amos Vogel, a "unique history lesson for a new generation not yet acquainted with this indispensable lesson in turpitude and betrayal." Directed by Larry Kingman. 55 min. Color. 1974.
