BASKET TOSsing QUINT STILL INDEFINITE AS TO PERSONNEL

Promising Candidates are in Such Quantities that Choices are Bound to be Hard.

With the completion of the first week of basket-ball practice the situation is about as satisfactory as the first day of practice as far as getting a line of "dope" on the potential varsity quint, goes. The turnout continues to be as numerous as it was at the initial session, but no new constellations have materialized on the athletic horizon.

Walker has been holding down the pivotal position for most of the week and seems to be slightly the favorite. Capt. Hansen and Frank Lawler have been working together as forwards and seem to be able to find each other pretty consistently. "Andy" Anderson, last year's forward, has been shifted to guard, with Lea Frank to assist him on the other side of the court.

This combination is by no means permanent, and the men are constantly changed and shifted so that every man is given a chance. Rosenwald is still taking the rest cure, and Mencke's debut for this season is hanging-fire.

Robilliard, who is a newcomer on the squad, is being tried out as a guard and is making a good show in. McElmeel, Wanless, and Sawyer are making a strong bid for places and will help to make the selection of the five best men more complicated and difficult.

Meeting of Sophomore Engineers for election of officers, after 4th hour, Monday in Physics lecture room.

PROFESSOR BROOKE INVENTS

Illustrates Effect of Rotative Inertia—To Be Used in Class Work.

Prof. William E. Brooke, of the Department of Engineering Mathematics has made an interesting invention. It is a rotating horizontal plate with a vertical axis on ball bearings. When a person stands on it and sets it rotating he can control his speed at will just by raising or lowering his arms, as a bird does when flying.

The machine has been built in the machine shop, and will be used by Professor Brooke in his mechanics classes, to illustrate the effect of rotative inertia and that due to changing the radius of gyration. It is a physical representation of an important principle of Mechanics.

TWILIGHT PROGRAM PROMISING.

The reading of Yeate's clever little play "The Hour Glass," by Frederick Karr, at the Y. W. C. A. Twilight Concert next Wednesday afternoon, will be one of the best things offered at the University this winter. Mr. Karr is a talented reader and this selection gives full play to his dramatic ability.

Mr. Will Norton will sing several selections.

Varsity Football Future In The Balance Today

YALE SMILEY, '09, EXPECTED FROM NEW HAVEN

No New Developments in Coaching Situation Since Thursdays Meeting—Committee to Give Final Report to Board of Control.

Since Thursday's board meeting there has been a lull in the coaching agitation for two days, but the matter will probably come to a head and be definitely decided upon at this afternoon's session.

When the selection of a coach came up for determination, last year, Dr. Williams was given a one-year contract, and a committee of three, with Yale Smiley as chairman, was appointed to investigate the situation. This committee has been at work during the past year examining the various coaching systems in use throughout the country and looking up the men who would be available for Minnesota. Today at 4 o'clock this committee will submit its report, and those who have been in touch with the work of its members, say that it has gathered a large fund of information upon the subject. Yale Smiley, who is taking post-graduate work at Yale, is expected today, coming from New Haven to submit his report.

The fact that the alumni did not submit this petition asking for an alumni coaching system at Thursday's meeting indicates that this phase of the question has been practically dropped. The student petitions which were handed in were unanimous in declaring against such a system, and experts and laymen alike agree that only a professional coach can successfully handle the football department of Varsity athletics.

Student opinion is by no means unanimous upon the advisability of retaining the present coach. About the campus, and in the cigar stores where the wise ones foregather, the question is being warmly discussed, and both factions have their arguments, pro and con.

Several upperclassmen have expressed the opinion that Minnesota's best course would be to secure a football coach who would at the same time be supervisor of all branches of athletics and their coaches, a position analogous to that occupied by Stag at Chicago, and Hutchins at Wisconsin. It is argued that a man occupying such a position could unify the athletic policy, preserve the proper balance between the various sports, and act as an experienced and capable advisor to the athletic board.

It is expected that the board will take some decisive action at today's meeting, and undergraduates and alumni are awaiting the event with a good deal of interest and expectation.

FIRST CADET HOP OF YEAR AFTER INSPECTION TODAY

Girls Will Watch Inspection and Maneuvers From Gallery—Usual Big Crowd Promised.

Gold braid and shoulder straps will hold the floor this afternoon, at the cadet hop in the Armory. Both privates and officers will be out in full force, and none but uniformed men will be allowed on the floor. Dancing will begin at 3:15 sharp, and the program of ten dances will be played by the University band.

The floor will be in excellent condition owing to the dance last evening, and the usual large number of couples are planning on being present. The girls as usual will come early and view the maneuvers of the weekly inspection from the gallery.

Twenty-five cents will be charged for each couple, the proceeds going to the band.

SENIORS NEED MONEY.

Yesterday at the meeting of the senior class it was voted to appropriate $28 for Girls' Basketball. A debt of $3.00 from last year will be met which leaves $25 for the senior girls' basketball team. As the treasury is just about able to pay up last year's deficit all seniors are urged to support class athletics by paying up their dues.

FAMED WOMAN SINGER AT MASS MEETING MONDAY

Dr. Geisel of the Battle Creek Sanatorium to talk Monday on "What to Wear and How."

Dr. Geisel, a surgeon on the staff of the Battle Creek Sanatorium, a speaker of intense magnetism, one who grips her hearers with her own enthusiasm, will speak on Monday to a mass meeting of all the women of the University. Her subject will be "What to Wear and How to Wear it," a subject on which she is remarkably well equipped to speak, having studied in Germany, France, and Russia with famous and learned medical authorities.

Every girl who comes at five o'clock on Monday afternoon to the Assembly room at Shevlin will hear a talk of rare interest and value to herself, and will have an opportunity to ask questions on matters of vital importance.

PINAFORES BEHIND BASKETBALL.

Basketball enthusiasm ran high yesterday in the Pinafore meeting. A committee was chosen for decorating with Margaret Nachtrieb as chairman; Yale blue and white were decided upon as the Pinafore colors; and plans discussed for showing the team that the class is with them.

FIVE STRENUOUS DAYS FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATERS

Three Judges for Home Contest are From Nebraska—Tax is Only a Quarter.

Minnesota's debaters are putting in day and night sessions polishing up their argument and delivery. The income tax has proved a complicated and difficult subject, but the team has now got a good grasp on it.

The affirmative team will meet Wisconsin in chapel, next Friday night. The members are all experienced debaters. Sigurd Peterson, represented Minnesota in the Northern Oratorical contest last year and won second place; Lambert Prigge has been prominent in inter-society debates; and Charles Carlson was a member of the negative team that went against Illinois last year.

The judges for the debate have already been chosen. They are: S. H. Sedgwick, ex-chief justice of the Nebraska supreme court; F. M. Fling, professor of European history in the University of Nebraska; and Professor G. L. Taylor of the department of political economy and commerce in the same institution.

The negative team, composed of Norman Houck, Fred Johnson and Charles Rodeen, leave with Professor Rarig for Lincoln, Wednesday night. They will meet Nebraska at the same time the affirmative Nebraska at the same time the affirmative team contends against Wisconsin in Chapel.

The question is, "Resolved: That a graduated income tax with an exemption of incomes under $5,000, would be a desirable feature of our federal taxation system."

LIBERAL CLUB UNDER WAY

Mrs. Helen Thomsen, Dr. Shutter, Prof. West and Rankin are Among those to Speak.

A meeting will be held for the organization of a University Liberal Association next Monday at four o'clock in Room 205 of the Library.

The meeting will be presided over by Mrs. Helen Camp Thomsen and among those who will be present and address the meeting are: Rev. Marion D. Shutter, of the Church of the Redeemer; Rev. John D. Reid, vice-president of the State Unitarian Conference; Mr. W. T. Roberts, president of the State Universalist Convention; Rev. Wm. Rider, Prof. Rankin, Prof. West, Mrs. Anreas Ueland and Mrs. T. G. Winter.

As this is a new project at Minnesota it is hoped that all those who are interested in the organization of this Association will be sure to attend the first meeting.

SWEDISH CLUB MEETS.

The Swedish Club will hold its next meeting in Shevlin Tuesday evening Dec. 7th, at 8:30. A special program will be given and refreshments served. All members of the club and others interested in its work are invited.

Today the Athletic Board of Control decide the question of Minnesota's football coach. We Plain Duty have strenuously opposed the Board posed the alumni of Control. coaching system; but this afternoon that will not be considered. The issue is, shall Dr. Williams be rehired, and for how long a time.

At this meeting the committee, appointed last year to search the field for a possible successor, will report; this report should be given unprejudiced consideration—no personal feeling or platform declaration should enter in; the report should be voted on, on its merits alone.

Provided a change for the better can be made, we and the entire University favor it, but we are opposed to blindly discharging Williams until we are reasonably sure of a better man to take his place.

If Doctor is to be rehired we hold that it should be for a period of two years, because the annual wrangle which must ensue from a one-year contract-policy is most detrimental to football interests. Further we oppose three years because we feel that thereby we are binding ourselves to an unnecessarily long period.

Whatever view we may hold as to Dr. Williams' qualities, we must recognize the entire folly of discarding what we have, until we are certain of something more satisfactory to follow.

The recent resolution of the faculty to enforce certain drastic regulations concerning Stevenson vs scholarship, brings The Professor. up the question, wherein does the chief value of college life lie?

The faculty are almost unanimous in saying that it lies in what one gets out of books; and this view deserves our attention. But the difficulty is that it is not corroborated by unprejudiced observers outside academic halls.

Robert Louis Stevenson anything but bears out the common attitude of the professor. "If you look back on your own education," he says, "I am sure it will not be the full, vivid, instructive hours of truantry that you regret; you would rather cancel some lack-lustre periods between sleep and waking in class. * * * While others are filling their memory with a lumber of words, one-half of which they will forget before the week be out, your truant may learn some really useful art; to play the fiddle, to know a good cigar, or to speak with ease and opportunity to all varieties of men." We would call the attention of the faculty to the fact that the benefits of student activities include just these things.

And how about the "grinds"? "Many who have plied their book diligently," says Stevenson, "and know all about some one branch or another of accepted lore, come out of the study with an ancient and owl-like demeanor, and prove dry stockish and dispeptic in all the better and brighter parts of life."

dermine athletics—will destroy your chances for a 1911 championship even—chances.

I am a graduate of Michigan—and a post graduate of Minnesota; both schools appeal to me in their distinct ways—both have in the past, and will in the future produce great teams; but after studying the situation carefully at your school—I must confess there is something wrong at Minnesota.

How I wish that those few ranklers at Minnesota, could have been at Ann Arbor on the night when Michigan left for Penn! When, after a crushing defeat at the hands of Notre Dame, Yost and his men pulled out! Never did I see in my four years in Minneapolis such loyalty to a beaten team—cheer upon cheer were hurled forth to their coach! I leave to the student body at Minnesota—did Yost and his team vindicate themselves?

Students at Minnesota! Pull to, team and coach—one of the greatest in the country. Be loyal to Coach Williams—he, too, has had his lean years, when material was scant and stars were few; but I do not believe from coast to coast, there is an institution which ought to be more proud of, and more loyal to, its coach than you of yours.

HUSKING BEE ATTRACTION FOR MEN AT Y. M. C. A.

Keller Jr., to Hold Down the Boards
With a General Mix up on the Side.

A huskin' bee party is scheduled at the Y. M. C. A. tonight for all members of the association. There are about five hundred men signed up so far and the celebration this evening is to be a general mix-up for all. An endeavor is being made by the cabinet to get the men of the University more thoroly acquainted, hoping to promote the general college spirit. Come out and get acquainted.

An all-round magician has been secured for entertainment. He promises some very new stunts and in particular a performance just secured from Keller. Other entertainment is being provided by the committee in charge and a royal good time is assured.

CLUB TO HAVE HOME

Faculty Organization Plan Campus
Home for Entertainment of Visitors.

A building for the University faculty club is being planned by members of the organization who need a campus home for their gatherings and a place to entertain American celebrities and foreign men and women of science, literature and arts. Dean John F. Downey said today that the plans made some time ago, including members of the faculty and residents of the East Side, have not proved practical, and an attempt will be made in the near future again to bring the matter of a clubhouse before the faculty.

Need of Building.

The visits of men to the University like Camille Enlart and Marcel Poete of Paris, lecturers for the Alliance Francaise, and Dr. F. A. Cook, reputed discoverer of the north pole, according to the various heads of departments, are occasions for special entertainment that cannot be provided unless the guests are taken care of privately or informally received in the faculty parlors.

Dean Downey and Professor George Neander Bauer have investigated the club proposition exhaustively and believe that the present plans, rather than being an innovation in university faculty life, will be following in the waks of other institutions throughout the country.

"A LITTLE BROTHER OF THE RICH."

In the first act of "A Little Brother of the Rich" the new play by Joseph Medill Patterson and Harriett Ford which closes its engagement at the Lyric tonight, society and society's ways so amusing itself are uncompromisingly shown. The master of the house is preparing alone, to go to Washington, ostensibly on business. The mistress of the house is entertaining a fairly representative smart set of he-flirts and she-tiplers. There is gambling and rique allusions, and a surprise at the end of the act which is said to leave the audience in breathless expectancy of what is to follow. Liebler & Co., have provided the best in the way of a cast which is headed by such experienced and popular players as Vincent Serrano, among the men, and Hilda Spong, among the women.

FEBRUARY CAMPAIGN PLANS

Large Committees from Both Associations are Working—Week to be Kept Clear.

Plans for the coming evangelistic campaign in February are already being made by the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. A large committee of University girls with Elizabeth Ware as chairman, are considering ways and means which will make the campaign week a successful one. All clubs and societies have been requested to leave the week open if possible so that all students may be free to attend the meetings.

Miss Wilbur and Miss Holmquist, national Y. W. C. A. secretaries and our state secretary Miss Robinson will assist in the work which will be carried on among the girls during the campaign week.

A group of influential upperclassmen met "Dad" Elliott at the Y. M. C. A. late yesterday and talked over informally, the share of the men in the campaign.

THE SPECTACULAR PLAY "THE BARRIER" AT MET.

The Leading Man of "The Virginia" is Now Leading in "The Barrier."

Mr. W. S. Hart who was last seen here as "The Virginian" is now playing in Klaw & Erlanger's new production of Rex Beach's thrilling narrative "The Barrier."

This startling play has never been seen in Minneapolis before and is considered one of the most beautiful scenic productions upon the stage today. They carry two extra baggage cars of scenery.

Mr. Maurice Greet who is advance agent of "The Barrier" is hoping that all University students will be able to see the play.

Word comes from Chicago of the beginning of the construction of a new building in which Minnesota people have more than usual interest.

Three years ago, a Minnesota concern, or more particularly Maurice L. Rothschild of The Palace Clothing House of Minneapolis and St. Paul, determined on a venture which looked very daring and to some of his friends even risky. He went to Chicago and started a retail clothing business in that city, choosing a location in the very center of the most powerful competition, with the express intention of showing Chicago that Minnesota had something new and better to offer in the business of selling clothes, which Chicago hadn't seen.

A handsome eight story fire proof building was erected, and three years ago the business started under the name of Maurice L. Rothschild. It has been a spectacular success; the most remarkable success ever known in the history of the clothing business. The same high quality merchandise, the same high principles of doing business, the same liberal treatment of customers which have made the Palace Clothing House a beacon light in the clothing world, have won a marked success in Chicago. The methods of this concern were new to Chicago; and Chicago approved of them from the first day. That approval has now justified an enormous expansion of the Chicago store, and on Dec. first work was begun on an addition to the building now occupied, which will be like the present building, eight stories, 46,000 sq. feet of floor space added. This gives the concern a total floor area of 84,000 sq. feet, by far the largest and finest building devoted exclusively to the sale of fine clothing in the world; a fire proof building, specially constructed for this business, and to be occupied exclusively by it.

It is gratifying to know that Minnesota has contributed this improvement to Chicago; and to know that Minnesota business methods have met with so large a reward in that city.

JUNIOR MEN TO BE GUESTS AT ROUSING TAM-O-SHANTER PARTY.

Tam-o-Shanter has set Tuesday evening December 14, as the night for their party for junior men. Every sort of a Christmas amusement, from games and a Christmas tree to good old fashioned Christmas dances will be provided, in Shevlin Hall.

The junior men will receive invitations some day next week through their P. O. boxes.

Each junior girl who goes will be charged fifteen cents, to cover expenses. Tickets will be on sale next week in the halls and by members of the junior class.

This Tam-o-Shanter affair looks awfully suspicious. Last year it came off in April—but 1911 girls are energetic—the Junior Ball is still coming—do you blame them?

The surest way to prevent the girls from giving help is to make them pledge to know nothing about the subject in which help is requested.

We (meaning the economics students who were excused from class) were glad of the meeting of the Academy of Social Sciences. Come again, soon—and stay longer.

DR. WILDE TO SPEAK SUNDAY

"Is Christianity Unphilosophical" to be the Subject of Second Vesper Service.

The second of the series of University Addresses which are being given at the five o'clock services of the Andrew Presbyterian Church will be delivered on Sunday, December 5th, by Dr. Norman Wilde, Professor of Philosophy, on the subject "Is Christianity Unphilosophical?" These services are designed to interest University men and women primarily and this subject upon which Dr. Wilde is announced to speak is one that he is eminently capable of dealing with in a clear and forceful manner. It will be to the profit of every student who can arrange to hear this address on Sunday.
