Minnesota Crookston Men's Basketball Set to Host Three Camps in June

CROOKSTON, Minn. – The University of Minnesota Crookston men's basketball program will host three camps this summer.

The Golden Eagles will host a pair of individual skills camps in June. The first one will be the Junior Eagle Day Camp from June 11-14. The camp will run from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. Each camper will receive a camp t-shirt and a ball. The last day, the campers will receive a pizza party following the completion of the camp. The camp is available for boys and girls grades 1-6.

Minnesota Crookston will then host an Offensive Skills Day Camp June 18-21. The camp will run from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. Each camper will also receive a camp t-shirt and a ball with a pizza party following the conclusion of camp. The camp is available for boys and girls grades 5-12.

The campers for both camps will develop their skills through drill work, contests and games. They will also receive instruction from coaching staff and players. Cost for both camps is $50 per camper.

Minnesota Crookston will also host their second annual Varsity Team Camp Fri., June 22. Games will take place all day with a four-game guarantee. The games will be played at Lysaker Gymnasium and the Minnesota Crookston Wellness Center. The camp costs $200 per team. Minnesota Crookston t-shirts will also be available to participants.

The Golden Eagles are in their fifth season of having summer camp offerings. They have continued to show growth in numbers each season with their camps as they had 97 campers for individual camps last season and eight teams for their inaugural varsity team camp.

If you are interested in the camp or have any questions please don't hesitate to contact assistant coach Bryan Beamish at 218-281-8431 or bbeamish@umn.edu. If you are interested in registering for the camps, see the attached forms and mail payment to:
